COMMERCE—TRADE

WHEAT MARKET AT STAND-STILL—PRICE 53 CENTS.

No Wheat Being Bought for Export—Sugar Up 10 Cents a Hundred Pounds—Wool Market Is Weak.

No change is reported in the local wheat market which has been at a standstill since the first of March. The ruling price is 53 cents and the farmers have taken all their holdings of the market, absolutely refusing to sacrifice at this price. Dealers, seeing the impossibility of being able to make a deal with the farmers, have practically left the market and if one is asked the price of wheat they will answer by saying "I don't know. It has been so long since I bought any that I have quit trying to keep up with the market." And as a matter of fact, the exporters have bought nothing for more than a month, and the situation is characterized as being lifeless. There is none offered and a decided slump in export prices does not tend to infuse any activity into the situation.

In speaking of the crop situation for Washington, Oregon and some foreign countries, the West Coast Trade, published at Tacoma, says: The crop situation is dependent almost entirely upon developments in the weather from now on. The amount of reseeded acreage, placed at 600,000 acres for Oregon and Washington by those closest in touch with the situation, together with the regular spring wheat area, will be more susceptible to dry weather conditions and the possibility of hot winds, but with reasonably favorable weather the outlook should crowd that of last year, because of the increased acreage in wheat. Beerbohm says: "The total Australian wheat crop may be estimated at 5,950,000 quarters, against 6,850,300 quarters last year, and 5,450,000 quarters in 1901. From India the latest cables indicate no improvement in the crop prospects; it is, indeed, reported that 3,000,000 acres under wheat in the Punjab have been quite destroyed by the drought. The total area under wheat in the Punjab is officially estimated at 6,200,000 acres, about 3,000,000 of which have been saved by artificial irrigation. Last year's acreage was 8,700,000 acres. It is, therefore, not very probable that any shipments of importance will be forthcoming from India next season."

Sugar Up Ten Cents.

There has been no change since last week in the price of sugar. The quotations a week ago today were $4.90 for the best grade of granulated sugar and today the same quality is quoted at $5. This is only a rise of 10 cents but is only the forerunner for another rise that may be looked for within the next few days. There has been a war on between the jobbers and refiners of this product and this brought the price down to the lowest notch it has reached within the last several years, but they are about to get their difficulties settled, and when this is done this staple article will again bound up to its normal figure, and possibly reach the limit the other way. Sales, however, will be light locally for some time to come, for most everybody has laid in a large supply while it was cheap.

Salt Remains Same Locally.

The price of salt has made another jump of 90 cents per ton for stock salt and $1.60 on table salt in the world's markets, but this will not affect the local dealers so that they are going to make any advance. Stock salt will continue to be sold at 80 cents per hundred and table salt at $2.60.

Within the past two years the periodical advances in price of salt have been phenomenal. Within 24 months the coarse variety has advanced nearly 500 per cent and the fine grades nearly 200 per cent. Each rise has left behind the hope in the hearts of the consumers that it would be the last, but that hope has gone glimmering every time until at the present time it is almost too expensive to eat.

All this shows what a beneficiary agent the salt trust is—to itself. This trust has got its flippers so successfully into all parts of the business

The Portland Wheat Market.

Portland, April 10.—The Commercial Review, in its issue today, says of the wheat market: The market from a seller's standpoint is very strong, but trade in general is very slow. Holders have extreme ideas as to the value of their cereal, and are not very anxious about parting with their stocks at present obtainable prices, believing that wheat will go higher, and are now operating for larger profits. Both the Willamette valley and Eastern Oregon are pretty well cleaned up, and the surplus stock remaining for export at those points is in strong hands, and buyers will probably have to offer special inducements to get holders to let go. In the state of Washington some good-sized parcels can yet be obtained. In Walla Walla county there is considerable wheat remaining unsold. In Whitman county, the banner county of the state, the stock remaining unsold is less than one-half million bushels. In Lincoln and Adams counties considerable wheat remains in the hands of the farmers. Unless holders dispose of their wheat freely within the next 60 days the carry-over on July 1 will be somewhat larger than last year. Exporters are unable to pay the prices asked by holders. As the cargo markets are weak, spot ships are not anxiously looked for. Millers complain that they will have to close down their mills until next season on account of the high prices asked for wheat, and there is no profit in milling the same at the present prices they receive for their flour. The market from now on will be a listless and dragging one, and an occasional ship will be noticed as having sailed for foreign ports. Unless a reaction should take place and prices abroad materially advance, that will enable the exporters to purchase stocks will remain unsold in the country at prices asked. There is no change in quotations, club wheat being quoted 63c; bluestem, 65c and valley 64c, with buyers and sellers apart on these figures.

San Francisco Wheat Market.

San Francisco, April 10.—The wheat market here during the past week has been dull and weak, in sympathy with the Chicago markets, where prices are even more depressed than here, but the cheapness of ships and the comparatively small stocks of wheat on hand brought about a slight reaction. The crop prospects are very good, and with the frequent spring showers the crop may be an average one. The outlook is not as bright as it might be, but there is no doubt the state will have a good crop for this year. We quote shipping at $1.10 to $1.11 1/4; milling, $1.12 1/4 to $1.15.
