LEASED SWITZLER ISLAND

E. W. M'COMAS TO MAKE SPECIALTY OF ALFALFA.

Takes the Island Under a Four Years' Lease, With Privilege of Buying it for an Amount Not Far From $20,000.

E. W. McComas has leased the Switzler Island, in the Columbia river midway between Wallula and Umatilla, and will turn it into a vast alfalfa field.

The deal has been hanging fire for several months, having been reported as consummated several times. The last name was affixed to the lease today, which gives Mr. McComas full control of the island for a term of four years, with the privilege of buying it at a fixed price at the end of that time, if he wants it.

Switzler's Island is owned by John B. Switzler, who has lived for the past 20 years on it and has a large portion of it improved. There is a fine house, barn and out buildings and 30 acres of orchard. All told, the island contains 750 acres that can be cultivated, and, unlike most of the sand bars of the Columbia river, it has a good coat of soil on top of the sand, and will grow a fair crop of most anything, adapted to this western country, without water. It develops into a regular Garden of Eden when water is applied.

The idea of Mr. McComas in leasing the place is to turn it into one large field of alfalfa, which grows to perfection with little water. He is already having a large pumping plant established at the edge of the island, which will be in working order by the time the dry season sets in, for the purpose of irrigating the land. Two hundred acres will be sown to alfalfa seed this spring, as an experiment, and, if this proves a success, the whole island will be devoted to this product. Twenty-five acres will also be planted to potatoes this spring.

Mr. McComas is confident that he will be able to make alfalfa growing a success and thinks that after it is once started and gets root it will grow without water. About nine or ten tons of alfalfa an acre will grow on this land, after the first two seasons, and a ready market for it can be found right at home at a good price.

An attempt was made during the early part of 1890 to reclaim this tract of land by Mr. Switzler, Dr. C. J. Smith, James A. Howard, of this city, and others who contemplated turning it into a fruit ranch, but the project was abandoned in 1894, on account of the high water which covered the island and washed it so badly that most of the trees were killed. At that time 40 acres were planted to orchard, and a large sum of money was expended in putting a steam pumping plant in shape and improving the ground.

Mr. and Mrs. Switzler will remove to Walla Walla, where they have made their home for part of the time.

"COMEDY OF ERRORS."

An Enjoyable Entertainment Given by the Thursday Afternoon Club.

The Thursday Afternoon Club held their regular annual reception and entertainment at the Parish House of the Church of the Redeemer, Tuesday evening. Besides the members of the club a great number of invited guests were present and enjoyed the features of the evening's entertainment. Mrs. F. W. Wamsley, Mrs. William F. Fitzgerald, Mrs. H. C. Guernsey, Mrs. A. D. Stillman and Miss Cozbi Raley presented a scene from the "Comedy of Errors," and each rendered their parts exceedingly well, to the delight of all present. Miss La Barre read two selections after this comedy act, which, with the musical features, closed the program. Refreshments were then served and the remainder of the evening, until near midnight, passed pleasantly in social conversation and general visiting among the members and guests.

Gardner has expressed the desire when his leg is amputated to find the man who did him the injury and present him with the detached member. He also threatens suit for damages.

AMALGAMATED WORKERS

GATHER AT WHEELING, W. VA., FOR A CONFERENCE.

There Will be Opposition to the Admission of Delegates from Some of the New Lodges.

Wheeling, W. Va., April 12.—During the coming week Wheeling will entertain the annual convention of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, one of the largest and most influential labor organizations in America. There are several things which promise to give unusual importance to the proceedings of the coming convention. The convention will open Tuesday, and, according to reports, there will be some opposition to the admission of delegates from some new lodges, owing to the fact that the scale rates have not been paid in some mills where they were formed. If the lodges organized in the east are given representation it is said they will be admitted in violation of the constitution, and this will result in the continuation of the present administration.

The rival organization to the Amalgamated Association, recently formed at Chicago, Milwaukee and other points, under the name of the Steelworkers' Association of America, will probably receive some attention. Notwithstanding the declarations of friendship made by the new organization, it is the general belief that its success cannot but be inimical to the interests of the Amalgamated Association.

From the present outlook it is regarded as unlikely that any demand will be made for a change in the base and card rates in the bar iron scale. Unless the manufacturers should ask for lower rates, which thus far has not been in any manner intimated, this means that little difficulty will be experienced in reaching an agreement. While there are some new lodges that have suggested a demand for an increase, it is believed that they form a small minority. The present base is $5 to a one cent card, remaining at that base until it reaches 1.3, when it advances 25 cents the ton for boiling. The present wage rate is $5.75 a ton.
