OREGON REPUBLICAN.

Edward Everett Young Makes Announcement of Suspension of His Paper.

Edward Everett Young writes the following self-explanatory letter to the newspaper fraternity: "The Oregon Republican has decided to liquidate and go out of business. Its policy was to owe no man anything, except brotherly love. It held to standard methods and orthodox journalism. Its policy was not appreciated and as a business enterprise it was not sustained. It never accepted a copper cent to either express or suppress an opinion. It heaved to the line without regard to social or financial considerations. "Yours was a valued exchange, and in notifying you of our demise as a newspaper, we wish to thank you sincerely for your uniform courtesy and fraternal recognition and hope that your future may be all that you can wish."

A Doctor's Bad Plight.

"Two years ago, as the result of a severe cold, I lost my voice," writes Dr. M. L. Scarborough, of Hebron, Ohio, "then began an obstinate cough. Every remedy known to me as a practicing physician for 35 years, failed, and I daily grew worse. Being urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, I found quick relief, and for last ten days have felt better than for two years." PROPAGATING FISH

EXCELLENT WORK OF FISH AND GAME ASSOCIATION

There will be Placed in the North Fork of Meacham Creek this Week 30,000 Young Brook Trout. James E. Krause, vice-president of the Oregon Game and Fish Association, received a telegram this morning stating that 30,000 brook trout would be shipped to him via the Oregon Railroad and Navigation company's road this week to be placed in the north fork of the Meacham creek. These fish were secured through the Oregon Fish and Game Association, working in conjunction with the O. R. & N. Company, and are coming from the United States fish hatchery at Clakamas.

This is the first consignment of fish that has been sent out to this part of the country this season but will not be the last. Mr. Krause says that more are to follow during the early spring months and that each stream in the county will be looked after and will receive its share of the different kinds of fish that are adapted to these waters.

The state Game and Fish Association is doing all in his power to fill the streams of the state with fish that will give the sportsmen a chance to ply their trade in the years to come and now that Mr. Krause is vice president and Pendleton has a larger per cent of the members of the association than any other town in the state, Umatilla county will not be neglected in the future. The intention of the association is to place not less than 75,000 or 100,000 brook trout and other fish suitable for sport with the hook and line during each season for the next five years in the waters tributary to Pendleton. If this is done, as no doubt it will be, it will mean that the streams of Umatilla county will be a paradise for the sportsman and followers of Ike Walton, and, if proper care is taken to see that the fish laws are adhered to, the streams will be alive with fish, and they will get such a start that they will not be easily thinned out. During the last three years something like 225,000 trout have been placed in the Umatilla streams. This alone means a great thing for the sportsmen, and every effort is being made to protect them.

extensive stock men of the Echo country. James Krause visited Baker City Sunday in the interests of the game and fish association, of which he is vice-president.

Mrs. F. W. Vincent has returned home from Portland, where she has been several weeks. She is much improved in health.

Mrs. W. C. Diblee, of Walla Walla, returned to her home this morning, after spending several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Kemler.

County Clerk Chamberlain issued a marriage license this morning to William Meiners, of Cold Springs, and Miss Jennie Dand, of north of town. Mrs. Victor Elliott arrived in town Saturday evening from Pomeroy, to join her husband, who has located here and will follow his profession, that of a painter.

Mr. and Mrs. Z. P. Smith returned to their home at Portland last night, after spending the previous night and day with O. A. Smith, who is a brother of Z. P. Smith.

D. D. Diller and family, of Bethany, Mo., have arrived in Pendleton to make their home and are moving into one of B. E. Kennedy's houses, on East Webb street.

After spending Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. M. F. Kelly, at the Golden Rule hotel, Mrs. Eugene Tausick left this morning for her home at Walla Walla.

A. W. Fee, for 20 years a resident of Pendleton and surrounding country, left Saturday night for Everett to make his future home with his daughter, who lives at that place.

Charles Cunningham and W. T. Boynton have returned from Condon, where they attended court as witnesses in the case of the state vs. Madden and Cain, charged with horse stealing.

Adams Advance: Charles Ferguson, the popular barber of Pendleton, who has been in Pomeroy for the past month, left that place this week for Spokane, where he expects to remain permanently. Little Ella Hamisch, who was so badly injured on the W. & C. R. turn table last week that her foot had to be removed, is reported to be resting easily and is getting along as well as could be expected.

Freewater Times: W. H. Hite, agent of the O. R. & N. Company, will leave in a few days to assume the duties of agent at Adams. Mr. Hite is very popular with the traveling public and his departure is generally regretted.

Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Wamsley will leave on Tuesday night's train for Portland. Mr. Wamsley says he goes to Portland for treatment of his eyes, but it is apparent that there is in these eyes a desire to attend the dog show in which he is deeply interested, having one or two exhibits in it.

C. E. McComber, republican candidate on the legislative ticket, was in Freewater, says the Times, on a surveying trip. Mr. McComber is an enthusiastic advocate of the Nicaragua canal project and has ideas on that subject that are worth listening to.

Conrad Platzoeder, who left Pendleton for Idaho 10 days ago, writes his wife that he has lost 50 pounds of flesh since leaving Pendleton, which would indicate that he has had very little to eat, although his friends say that it is because he is where he cannot get any of the famous beer sold by Poladore Moens.

Mrs. J. B. Huntington, formerly of Athens, says the Press, recently met with a painful and serious accident near her home in Portland. While alighting from a street car, she was in some way thrown to the ground, sustaining a fracture of both the upper and lower jawbones and some ugly gashes on her cheek.

Misses Callison, Parrot, Froome, Benson, Gilliam, Wood, Conklin, Folsom and Mrs. William Fitzgerald, El B. Conklin and Roy Conklin, returned Sunday evening from Spokane, where they attended the Inland Empire Teachers' Association. They say they took part in a profitable, as well as a very interesting meeting.

E. H. Clarke, the wool dealer, returned Sunday evening from Heppner, where he had been on business. Mr. Clarke was at the depot Saturday evening when Henry Blackman, nominated on the democratic ticket for state treasurer, arrived in Heppner, and said the band met him and the whole town turned out to show their respect to their fellow citizen, who had been honored.

Rev. J. S. Williams, grand lecturer of the Woodmen of the World for the Pacific jurisdiction, was in town Sunday and gave a lecture in the evening in the South Methodist church. Mr. Williams is looking after the interests of the Woodmen log-rolling, which is to come off here the 21st and 22d and is a very enthusiastic worker for the cause of Woodcraft. His home is in Salem and he has the honor of having obligated Governor T. T. Geer into his order.

A STORY OR TWO.

A Progressive Country Editor Got a Tip From the City.

A country editor on a visit to the metropolis gathered some new ideas from the bulletin boards of the great dailies. Returning home he put up a great bulletin board and the following was the first attempt: 9:00 a. m.—Deacon Jones dangerously sick. 9:55 a. m.—Doctors are now in consultation. 10:15 a. m.—Doctors have given up all hope. 10:50 a. m.—Deacon Jones is dying. 12:00 m.—Deacon Jones is dead and gone to heaven. Along about 1 o'clock a wag happened along that way and added the following: 1:00 p. m.—Great excitement in heaven. Deacon Jones has not arrived.

A Georgia drummer, tired and hungry after a long travel on horseback, put up at the best available cabin in a small settlement.

He did full justice to what was placed before him, but was surprised to find next morning that his host had included in the bill: "One man and two horses."

"Why," he said, "I only have one horse."

"That may be," replied the landlord, "but hanged if you didn't eat like another one."

Discipline Among Ants.

The region of the Amazon is overrun by an interesting species of ants known as saubas. They are represented as the curse of the country because of their social and military organization. Some observations upon the discipline maintained by them were made by C. Barrington Brown:

We were greatly amused by a singular struggle going on between a soldier ant and his working fellows at the mouth of their underground nest. Some eight or ten of the workers clung on to his legs and antennae and tried to drag him back as he endeavored to come out of the hole.

Although he was furnished with huge mandibles, he did not lose his temper nor try to bite them, and it was evident that, although they detained him by force, they never nipped him hard.

During the struggle they allowed two or three other soldiers to saunter out past them and go roaming by themselves. It appeared as if this particular individual had behaved badly, was under arrest and was now being prevented from breaking barracks. The end of the struggle was not witnessed by us, and it will never be known who gained the day, but from all appearances it went against the soldier.

New Style in Diamonds. A new method of cutting diamonds so as to wonderfully increase their brilliancy, and apparent size has been discovered by a New York expert, after seven years of experimenting. It makes it possible to increase their brilliancy, size for size, fully 100 per cent. To understand the form of the new cutting it is necessary to be familiar with the general form of previous cuttings. The names of the faces of a diamond are more or less familiar. The flat top surface of the old ordinary brilliant is called the table. The outer edge of the stone or its largest diameter is called the girdle, and the small surface at the bottom is called the culet. The cutting has fifty-six facets or cuttings, and, including the table and the culet, fifty-eight facets.

Chamberlain and Raley. Hon. James H. Raley, of Pendleton, is mentioned as a probable candidate for attorney-general of Oregon on the democratic ticket. Mr. Raley is a popular and brilliant man and will bring to the office more real ability than it has been afforded since the position was filled by Hon. George E. Chamberlain, several years ago. Any citizen might be proud of an opportunity to cast a ballot for Chamberlain and Raley.—Roseburg Review.
