"TAMING OF THE SHREW."

Well Presented at Frazer's Opera House to a Large Audience.

"Shakespeare wrote not for one particular age, but for all time to come. That is one of the reasons why his works never grow old," declared the noted actor, Charles B. Hanford, who appeared at Frazer's opera house last night in "The Taming of the Shrew," and who, with Miss Helen Grantley, as the "shrew," delighted a large audience.

Preceding the presentation of Shakespeare's comedy, Mr. Hanford, assisted by members of his company, appeared in a one-act drama, "The Old Guard," that was heartily enjoyed. Mr. Hanford, taking the part "Haversack, one of Napoleon's old guard," in a manner to please the most exacting.

"The Taming of the Shrew" was delightfully presented. Mr. Hanford makes far more out of the play than Shakespeare did himself, for he makes it interesting and amusing, and that is more than Shakespeare did. Mr. Hanford as Petruchio, could not be better. He was all that the difficult part demanded. Miss Helen Grantley, as Katherine, the shrew, was exceedingly pleasing. Miss Grantley is a beautiful woman, graceful and magnetic, as well as a good actress. This was the first performance at Frazer's under the new management of Baker & Welch.

COLONEL RALEY RESIGNS.

A. D. Stillman, Esq., Succeeds Him as Chairman of the Democratic Central Committee.

Chairman J. H. Raley has resigned his position as chairman of the county democratic central committee, and A. D. Stillman has been appointed to succeed him.

The reason for Mr. Raley resigning is because he is on the ticket for attorney-general and, to make the race, this will take a great deal of his time, so that he could not have devoted his attention to the work of his position.

J. H. Ferguson returned Wednesday evening from a visit to his ranch near Adams. Mr. Ferguson says that wheat in the country has grown wonderfully during the last few days. He was out on the breaks of the river and says that grain looks better along the breaks than in any other place for the reason that the hard winds have not effected it so much as on the hills. With favorable weather, Mr. Ferguson thinks that grain will make a good crop.

Feminine Silliness.

Silly women will do almost anything in their enthusiasm for a male performer, and the lady who rushed at Kubelk in Brooklyn, and endeavored to kiss him are unfortunately not the only examples of such hysterical adoration among their sex. Poor Captain Hobson was made ridiculous before the whole country by just such nonsense. Of course the man in such a case is taken at a tremendous disadvantage. He can neither accede nor refuse with dignity. It is stated that some of the Brooklyn women taunted Kubelk with being a coward. But there are many otherwise brave men who would shrink from such an onslaught; and there are women whom it would require no small bravery to kiss.—Providence Journal.

THE REASON FOR IT.

Why the United States is a Great Commercial Bee Hive.

The Ad-Writer, of St. Louis, very aptly and wisely says: "One of the reasons for the rapid advancement of the United States as a commercial center is the fact that the people of this country are the best advertisers on earth. The American temperament is a restless one. It moves at fever heat; it works as if each day were the only one in which to accomplish the work of a lifetime. In the beginning we worked, perforce, because we had before us the task of building a civilization out of a wilderness and now work has become a habit with us. We are an ambitious nation. We want the world to know the excellence of our products and so we advertise. From a new breakfast food to the latest popular fancy in preachers or writers or statesmen, we publish them all. And when we have fang their praises broadcast through our own country, we boldly invade the older nations and advertise our latest hobby to the world. No other nation of the world can compete with the United States as an advertiser. Nor ever will. Because the American energy and 'ginger' that is responsible for American progress is the possession of Americans alone."

"Redeem Missouri!"

"Redeem Missouri!" Yes redeem it. Put it in the same condition as republican Iowa. The state treasury of Iowa is empty and the officials are finding it hard work to keep things running. And poor old Missouri with two millions in the treasury and another million set aside to have a world's fair frolic. "Redeem Missouri!"—heaven preserve us!—Platte City Landmark.

Missed 'Em Both.

"What do you think of Washington?" asked Representative Steele of a small nephew who is visiting him that city.

"Not much," replied the nephew. "I've been here two days and I have not seen Uncle Sam or Mark Hanna yet."
