WOODMEN OF THE WORLD

ELABORATE PREPARATIONS FOR LOG-ROLLING

Great Enthusiasm Among the People; Merchants are Decorating and Making Elaborate Window Displays; Evergreens in Profusion. Preparation to receive the city's guests have begun in earnest and our enterprising business men are dressing up their places of business in a manner befitting the occasion. They are indeed showing the true Pendleton spirit of progressiveness, and one that betokens a true appreciation of the great organization, whose hosts are honoring the city with their presence. It is also a fitting tribute to the local camp and circle which are planning the erection of a $25,000 home in Pendleton.

The Woodmen express themselves as deeply grateful for this recognition from the Commercial club and citizens, generally, especially as it comes entirely unsolicited.

The following Woodmen windows were in this morning when a representative of the East Oregonian made a tour of the town:

The St. Joe store, because of being first is entitled to be first mentioned. This window represents a Woodman standing over an immense log with a coat-hook in his hand, ready to do a little "log-rolling." The window is dressed in red, white and black, the official colors of the Woodmen of the World.

The Boston store scene represents a series of logs, a saw horse and buck saw, a goat and a train load of excursionists, on which the Woodmen are crowded to the platform and engine.

Dindinger, Wilson & Co. have dedicated two windows to the "Neighbors," each containing a log in colors and a "Welcome Woodmen of the World" sign. In one window also appears an old tree, in which is mounted a wise old owl, who surveys the scene with solemn dignity.

The Peoples Warehouse has a Woodman dressed in the official parade uniform, and its goods dressed with official Woodmen rosette. It also shows a pillow with a stump emblem of the order. This store will put in an immense window display later.

But for designs, Alexander's Department store window fairly deserves the medal. The window dresser for this firm has certainly done himself, the store and city proud by this splendid display. An elaborate canvas scene covers the background of the immense central window. This scene represents a forest and a valley. On the left is a Woodman cabin on which are nailed the proverbial "coon-skin and antlers. Across the valley the Blue Mountains loom up in all their majesty. Where the canvas ends at the bottom of the window, natural grass takes its place and makes a beautiful evergreen carpet. Here are two widows of Woodmen dressed in black, one standing and holding a certificate which represents $2000, the maximum amount of beneficiary granted by this order.

The other lady is just looking from a copy of the Pacific Woodman, the official paper of the order. Between the two is an immense log, which is typical of a fallen neighbor, and on which is inscribed the motto of the order "Dum Tacet Clamat," meaning though silent, yet he speaks. Beetles, axes, wedges and other emblems of Woodcraft complete the scene. Altogether it is a splendid display, and the firm is receiving many congratulations.

The Official Program.

The official program of the two days has been compiled and will be published daily in the daily East Oregonian. That of Monday will appear in Saturday's paper, and for Tuesday, in Monday's paper. Every minute of the time has been taken up and the "logs" will be kept "rolling" from start to finish.

Committee Meeting Tonight.

A very important meeting of the general committee will be held tonight in Stillman and Pierce's office. It is desired that every member of every sub-committee be present, in order that each may make a detailed report, and be assigned to its post of duty for the ensuing convalescence. As the session will doubtless be an extended one the meeting will be called to order at 7:30.

Accommodations.

In order that there may be no question with reference to accommodations, the Woodmen are being impressed by the committee with the fact that every neighbor is expected to appear at headquarters in La Dow hall next Monday, after the arrival of the special train, and to take at least one member of the order to his or her home. This will be required, only in case the rooms engaged should run out. If that should happen, however, the committee will insist on the resident members accommodating any unprovided for, even though the local members sit up during the night. At worst it will not be as bad for a resident of Pendleton to sit up all night in his or her own home as it would be for a visitor to walk the streets. Pendleton's well known reputation for hospitality must be kept inviolate. Let the knowledge go forth to the world that no matter how large the crowds that any time may come within the city's gates, Pendleton will be equal to the emergency.

Perfected Woodcraft's Temple.

A. D. Stillman, secretary of the Temple association, expresses himself as astonished with the ready response which is being made to the call for subscriptions to the temple stock. Every mail brings two to a dozen letters, with cards filled out. This is a gilt-edged investment, besides an aid to a worthy movement, and one which will enhance the city. This stock is bound to be taken up rapidly.

Car Load of Evergreens.

A car load of evergreens and logs was received this morning and they are being rapidly distributed among the public spirited merchants, who are decorating. It is earnestly desired by the Commercial Club's committee, which is pushing the decoration movement, that all merchants who have not already done so, decorate their windows before Sunday morning, in order that the excursionists arriving here at 1:00 p. m. Sunday, for the ball game, may go back to Walla Walla and other towns and tell of the extensive preparations that are being made. This will materially affect the attendance on Monday's excursion train, from those same points. It is also desired that, weather permitting the fronts and windows of stores and residences be plentifully decorated on Monday morning next.

Saved Many a Time.

Don't neglect coughs and colds even if it is spring. Such cases often result seriously at this season just because people are careless. A dose of One Minute Cough Cure will remove all danger. Absolutely safe. Acts at once. Sure cure for coughs, colds, croup, grip, bronchitis, and other throat and lung troubles. "I have used One Minute Cough Cure several years," says Postmaster C. O. Dawson, Barr, Ill. "It is the very best cough medicine on the market. It has saved me many a severe spell of sickness and I warmly recommend it." The children's favorite. PENDLETON "INDIANS."

The Pendleton Woolen Mills Presents Each One of Them With an Indian Robe.

Not wishing the Pendleton baseball players should bear the title of "Indians" without wearing the Indian garb, F. E. Judd, of the Pendleton Woolen Mills, invited all of the members of the team up to the mill and made each of them a present of an Indian robe. They were taken to the large stock of robes and told to pick out what they wanted. The boys are feeling very proud over this mark of appreciation and now when they go to do battle with their enemies on the diamond they go enrobed, and the cognomen of "Indians" applies with more point. However they wish it understood by the people of the surrounding towns where they visit to do battle that they are not in the least hostile. They may wear their Indian robes and war paint, but they are perfectly civilized and will not be on the warpath only while playing ball, and then they are going to be out for the scalps of every team that dares to cross bats with them.

Military Ball at Iowa University. Iowa City, Ia., April 18.—Major W. O. Coast of the Iowa University battalion has completed arrangements for the military drill and ball to be held at the University tonight. State officials and other guests of note have arrived in anticipation of the event.

TOM NELSON'S "BUMMER"

WON FIRST PRIZE AT PORTLAND KENNEL SHOW.

He is the Greatest Dog Traveler in Any Part of the Country, Famous in Several Portions of the World.

The accompanying cut of Bummer, T. T. Nelson's mastiff, is a very good likeness of one of the most famous dogs in the Northwest. Bummer is now at the Kennel Club bench show been entered for prizes in all the classes except this and the champion class, and the champion class cannot be entered until a dog has taken first prize in all the other classes. Next year Bummer will be eligible for the champion honors and no doubt will be "in it" with any of them.

Bummer has traveled more than any other dog in this part of the country, and his name is famous all over the United States, as well as across the waters. He went with the Oregon volunteers to the Philippines.

OLD PEOPLE

Do not always receive the sympathy and attention which they deserve. Their ailments are regarded as purely imaginary, or natural and unavoidable at their time of life. Disease and infirmity should not always be associated with old age. The eye of the gray haired grandire may be as bright and the complexion as fair as any of his younger and more vigorous companions.

Good Blood is the secret of healthy old age, for it regulates and controls every part of the body, strengthens the nerves, makes the muscles elastic and supple, the bones strong and the flesh firm; but when this life fluid is polluted or poisoned and loses its nutritive, health sustaining elements, then there is a rapid decline of the vital powers, resulting in premature old age and disease. Any derangement of the blood quickly shows itself in an ulcer, sore, wart, tumor or some other troublesome growth upon the body, and rheumatic and neuralgic pains become almost constant, accompanied with poor digestion and cold extremities.

S. S. S., being purely vegetable, is the safest and best blood purifier for old people. It does not shock or hurt the system like the strong mineral remedies, but gently and thoroughly cleanses the blood and stimulates the debilitated organs, when all bodily ailments disappear. S. S. S. is just such a tonic as old people need to improve a weak digestion and tone up the Stomach. If there is any hereditary taint, or the remains of some disease contracted in early life, S. S. S. will search it out and remove every vestige of it from the system.

Write us fully about your case and let our physicians advise and help you. This will cost you nothing, and we will mail free our book on blood and skin diseases. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC COMPANY, Atlanta, Ga.
