noon. Several ladies participated and first prize was won by Mrs. Wilkinson, second by Mrs. Greulich, of Pendleton, and the third by Mrs. Spalding, of Sumpter.

The bicycle race was won by young Humphrey, who captured first prize, and the second was taken by Master Simmons, both of Pendleton.

A Free Entertainment.

At 2 o'clock the free stereopticon entertainment was given at the Furnish warehouse and a large audience witnessed it. These views are very good and are well worth seeing.

After this there was an intermission and bands entertained the crowds at different parts of the city. At four o'clock, the address of welcome was delivered and the presentation of the golden key of the city of Pendleton to J. L. Wright, grand clerk, of Leadville, by Mayor T. G. Halley.

At 4:20, just as this paper is going to press, Hon. S. A. Lowell, the orator of the day, delivered an address. At 5 a public exhibition of fancy military evolutions by drill teams of Athena guards, Women of Woodcraft, Athena camp Woodmen of the World, Pendleton Circle and Pendleton camp's brass band.

Beginning at 8 o'clock the grand ball will be given under the auspices of the Pendleton camp Woodmen, at Music hall. Serenades will be given in front of the hall by the camp brass band.

End of the Big Jubilee.

Tonight the Bunch-Grass Circle, Women of Woodcraft and installation of officers will be made by Miss Bertha N. Sumner, general organizer. This will be followed by addresses from the grand officers and the closing ceremonies will end the big jubilee.

Tomorrow morning all the Pendleton Woodmen and Women of Woodcraft are requested to make a special effort to be at the 5:40 out-going train to bid farewell to the visitors going east and then again at the 8:10 trains to see those off who go north and west.

Reduced Rates East.

The National Educational association will meet at Minneapolis, July 7th to 11th, this year. For this occasion the Washington & Columbia River Railway Co. announce a rate of one first class fare, plus $2, for the round trip. The tickets will be on sale June 29th, July 2d, 3d and 4th. And will be good going until July 10th, with final return limit of Sept. 1st. Stopovers will be allowed in each direction within limits of ticket. WALTER ADAMS, Agent.

Alabama Sunday Schools.

Troy, Ala., April 22.—The Alabama Sunday schools assembled in annual state convention here today with a good attendance of delegates from Birmingham, Montgomery, Mobile and other cities of the state. The convention was formally opened this afternoon with an address by the president, E. J. Russell of Athens. The sessions are to continue three days, during which time an interesting programme of papers and discussions will be carried out.

Maryland Day at Charleston.

Charleston, S. C., April 22: This was Maryland day on the calendar of the exposition and many visitors were on hand from that state to celebrate the occasion. There were formal exercises in the auditorium at which the visitors were greeted in an address by President Wagner to which representative citizens of Maryland responded.

Daughters of the Revolution.

Denver, Colo., April 22.—The national society of the Daughters of the Revolution begins its annual session in Denver tomorrow and many delegates have arrived. The Colorado branch of the society has completed extensive plans for the entertainment of the visitors, and arranged many trips to points of interest hereabouts.

To Buy Portage Road.

Portland, April 22.—Local capitalists are organizing a company to buy the portage railway on the Columbia, above The Dalles. The stock will be taken by Portland, Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington men. The plans are being kept a secret for the present.

Stop Eating Meat.

Ithaca, N. Y., April 22.—A movement to destroy the beef trust by means of a chain of letters has been started here. The main feature is to ask persons to abstain from eating meat for one week, beginning May

AN IMPROMPTU WHIRL.

It Seared the Chef Worse Than It Did His Assistant.

Pat was assistant cook on one of the dining cars on the Great Western road running into St. Paul. He was obstinate and ill tempered. The chef was equally so, and as a result constant warfare waged between them. One hot day Pat was making ice cream and in spite of the chef's warnings insisted upon sitting in the doorway of the pantry while he turned the freezer. The train, going up grade, made a sudden lurch, and Pat and his can of ice cream fell out the door, as his superior officer had predicted. Frantic with fright, the chef in his white cap and apron tore through the train looking for the conductor.

"Mon Dieu, M. Conductaire," he cried, wringing his hands when he found that person, "ze ice cream freezair he fall off, and Pat go wis beem! Stop ze tramway or we will haf pas dessert pour le diner. Trouble, trouble always wiz zat Irishman!"

The conductor pulled the bell and stopped the train, but it had already gone two miles past the spot where Pat had rolled out. They backed the train, fully expecting to find Pat's mangled body beside the track. Instead they saw him coming over the ties on a run, carrying on his back the ice cream freezer. He climbed on the train, looking foolish, but all he ever said of his miraculous escape was, "Be gosh, it jarred me some, it did tho!"—Lippincott's Magazine.

One of Travers' Jokes.

When William R. Travers was in the directorate of the New York Central railroad, Jay Gould was running the Erie in opposition, and his management of that system betrayed a constant and intimate knowledge of what was going on in the Central's star chamber. Commodore Vanderbilt was naturally exasperated, and one day, after expressing how helpless he found himself to outwit his rival, he turned to Travers with the query:

"Well, Billy, how can we stop Gould from getting knowledge of what we are doing?"

"W-w-why," suggested the genial wit—"w-w-why d-dont you m-m-make him a d-d-director of N-N-New York C-C-Central?"
