There Are 15,000 Workers on a Strike—The Planning Workers in Portland Are Out on a Nine-Hour Day and Same

Springfield, Ill., May 1.—Work in Springfield and Chicago and Alton districts of Illinois mining is practically suspended today. 20 men and 48 mines are idle. Chief cause of the strike is the refusal of the operators to furnish a double shift.

Probably a Compromise. New York, May 1.—The result of conference between the coal operators and the representatives of United Mine Workers to decide on or not there will be a strike of 100,000 anthracite coal miners, is unknown. It is believed, however, that a compromise has been effected.

Burg Has 15,000 Strikers. New York, May 1.—The indications are that over 15,000 men will be on strike here today for higher wages and working rules. The greater part of them are building trades. The striking of so many men will necessarily throw out of employment perhaps twice that number of the men who are not on strike. The principal cause of the strike is the refusal of the operators to grant increases.

Building Trades Tied Up. New York, May 1.—All the building trades in this city are tied up today by the strike of the carpenters, painters and iron workers. Sixteen contractors have signed contracts for the week and there are 50 men on sign. Increases have been granted to brick layers and the masons.

The new concern, acting on the original idea, opens its doors at 10 in the morning, instead of 9, and closes at 6 o'clock at night. The bank is to be kept open during the week also. The hours are for the accommodation of the earners whose days' work ends until five o'clock in the afternoon and later.

COLORADO'S NEW BISHOP.

Installed into Office Amid the Most Elaborate Ceremonies.

Denver, Colo., May 1.—Surrounded by the bishops of the Protestant Episcopal church, accompanied by a host of clergy, and amid the most elaborate ceremonial, Rev. Charles M. Olmstead was today consecrated as Bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Colorado in succession to the late Bishop Spaulding. The ceremony was in St. John's Cathedral, one of the finest church edifices in the west. Unusual pomp and splendor accompanied the ceremony for the reason that it was the first of the kind to take place in the Rocky mountain region.

It was a little after ten o'clock when the bishops, led by Bishop Tuttle of Missouri, left the parish house and proceeded to the cathedral. The bishop-elect was escorted by the presbytery, and behind him came the visiting clergy, and then the surpliced choir of the church, singing a professional. By the time the head of the procession entered St. John's the pews had been filled by members of the parish and visitors. The ceremony began with the reading of the prayer of the morning. Then came the sermon by Rt. Rev. Leighton Coleman, Bishop of Delaware. The ceremony of consecration followed according to the ritual of the church. Bishop Tuttle acted as consecrator and among the other participants were Bishops Millsbaugh of Kansas, Hare of South Dakota, White of Michigan City, Graves of Laramie, Leonard of Utah, Gailor of Tennessee and Brown of Arkansas. At the conclusion of the ceremony there was an informal reception in honor of the visiting clergy.

SOLDIER VS. SOLDIER

Shooting of Private Roberts by Private Dunlap at Walla Walla Over a Woman.

TRAGEDY RESULT OF FEUD OF LONG STANDING.

Dunlap Gave Himself Up to Officers of the Garrison Immediately After the Shooting and Tells a Straight Story of How it Occurred.

Walla Walla, May 1.—Private Fred Roberts, of the Tenth Battery, is lying at the hospital in this city, dangerously near death, from a pistol shot wound inflicted by Private Frank Dunlap, of the Thirtieth Battery.

The shot was fired about 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, on West Poplar street, and the cause is said to have come from a feud that started some time ago over a woman. Dunlap tells the following story about the cause of the trouble:

Story of the Shooting.

"I had my first trouble with Roberts several months ago. I was coming up the street and met Roberts. He refused to allow me to pass and shoved me from the walk. Later we met in a saloon and Roberts told me he wanted to be my friend. We shook hands and the matter was dropped.

"Last Saturday night, in company with a young woman, I attended the Salvation Army meeting. I left my overcoat at a cigar store on the corner, and, after the services, told the girl to remain in the barracks until I got my coat. In the street I met a lot of soldiers from the battery Roberts among them. Roberts called me to one side and we had words. I told him I did not want any trouble with him, but he struck me in the face.

"Musician Kern informed me that Roberts had a gun and told me to look out. Sergeant Sutton also informed me to be on my guard for the gang had threatened to fix me. Aside from that Roberts told several others that he was going to put me in the hospital.

Last evening, in company with McCutcheon and two or three of the boys, I started down town. Roberts and Mike Rodell, another soldier, were standing at the little bridge just outside the reservation, and when I saw them I told the other boys to wait until I went back to quarters.

"When I returned, Will Kohl, a civilian, had joined the men at the bridge and McCutcheon and I passed the three and started up town. Rodell had a wheel and he overtook us in front of Mrs. Aubin's house and ordered us to stop. I told him I didn't want to have any trouble, and when McCutcheon stepped up to my side Mike Rodell said:

The Attack Upon Dunlap.

"What have you got to do with this?" and knocked him from the walk. Then he struck McCutcheon with a rock. Roberts and Kohl were nearing us at the time and I drew my gun and ordered them to stop. They advanced, I backed from them and repeated my command. Still they came and I fired.

Dunlap went straight to the garrison after shooting and was arrested and turned over to the officers. He and Roberts were recent additions to the barracks and were classed as "rookies." Roberts may recover, but the chances are against him. The bullet passed through his body half an inch above the heart.

President Havemeyer of the Sugar Trust Testifies Before Cuban Committee.

CONGRESSMAN MOODY SWORN IN AS SECRETARY OF WAR.

Major Glenn, for Administering the Water Cure to President of Icaras, Will Be Tried by Court-Martial Under Direct Orders of President Roosevelt.

Washington, May 1.—President Havemeyer, of the sugar trust, appeared before the senate Cuban relations committee today, when the inquiry began into the question as to the amount of Cuban sugar owned and controlled by the trust. He said the trust now owns about a 10-days' supply of Cuban sugar and denied that the trust had been buying or seeking to control a large proportion of the Cuban sugar crop.

Havemeyer denied that he had served notice on the beet sugar men that he would control the sugar trade or drive them out of the business; he admitted that at times he had sold sugar a less than cost and declared he would rather give sugar away than lose his fair percentage of the trade; that he had no antagonism to beet sugar industry, as he was too greatly interested in it himself. He thought it had been encouraged, because it was a good policy to keep all the farmers of the country profitably employed. He said his company controlled 65 per cent of the refined sugar product of this country and was therefore the master of the situation.
