He is on his way home in Idaho, and will remain here several days.

R. F. West, a recent arrival from Virginia, is in town from the Butter Creek country, where he is employed on a ranch, is an old friend of R. P. Rihora, both coming from the same place. He is well pleased with this country.

M. B. Kees, the expressman, received word Friday of the marriage of his brother, Rev. Sam G. Kees, in Jacksonville, Mo., to Miss Nina Oaker. Mr. Kees has not seen his brother since he was a small boy and he is now a grown man and is pastor of the M. E. church, South, of Jacksonville.

The Dalles Chronicle: Mrs. A. D. Stillman arrived on the train last night from Portland, where she has been attending the women's club meeting, expecting to meet her husband, Hon. A. D. Stillman, here this morning. He, however, was prevented from leaving Pendleton by very important legal business.

Charles S. Fell is in Pendleton from North Yakima, where he is now in the furniture business. Formerly he was in the newspaper business, for 11 years, in Bozeman, Mont., and recently in Seattle, but his health was bad in the latter place and he sold his paper and moved to North Yakima, where he began the furniture business and where he has greatly improved in health. Mr. Fell is a cousin of Postmaster Fell, of Pendleton.

Painfully Injured.

Miss Maggie Bush, who has been employed at the steam laundry, got her hand caught in what is termed the "mangler," one of the ironing machines, and very badly burned Friday. She was operating the ironer, and in a careless moment let her hand get too near the roller and it was drawn in with the clothes and, while the hand was not mashed much, it is very badly burned from the tips of the fingers to the knuckles. After being caught, Miss Bush could not pull her hand out of the machine and had to stand there until the belt was thrown off and it turned backwards to let her out.

Fred Conrad, aged 22, shot Joseph Black to death at Deming, near Whatcom, Wash., Monday morning. Conrad was cook at a shingle mill at which Black was employed. Black was drinking and drove his wife from home. He saw her talking to Conrad and threatened her life. As he was drawing a bead on him with a rifle, Conrad grabbed a gun standing near by and shot him through the lung. Death resulted.

FOR WALLA WALLA

GREAT CROWD GOES TO THE GARDEN CITY FOR BALL GAME

The Pendleton Team Starts on its Tour of Washington and British Columbia—Pendleton Rooters to Play Ball, Also Barbers and Printers.

Ho, for Walla Walla!

At 12 o'clock tomorrow the excursion train will leave the O. R. & N. depot for Walla Walla and will carry several coach loads of baseball rooters and enthusiasts, who will go to see the local team win victory against the Walla Walla players or go down in defeat. Pendleton will go into the field at Walla Walla with a stronger team than she has had since the baseball season opened here, and if she does not win the day the Walla Walla aggregation will know that they have been playing ball when they are through. This is the first game that the boys will play on their tour into Washington and British Columbia and the Pendleton fans are anxious to see them win, for, if they do, they will leave there with much more confidence for the rest of the journey, as the Walla Walla Sharpshooters are classed as a very strong aggregation of players.

Those who go to witness this game tomorrow may have their choice of going on the regular morning train, which leaves at 8 o'clock, or they can go on the excursion train. The fare is only $1 for the round trip.

The line-up of the Pendleton players for the Walla Walla game and also for the rest of the tour of the local boys, will be as follows, except pitchers: Wlner will pitch the first game, Stovall the second and Taylor the third, and they will take game about thereafter; Brown, third; Fay, short stop; Knox, center field; Clemens, left field; Stovall, right field; Schmidt, second base; Foley, catcher; Hartman, first base. The extra men will be Taylor and Captain Ziegler. Ziegler will remain out of most of the games on this trip on account of his arm, but may play some before returning.

In speaking of this tour, Captain Ziegler said this morning that his team would start out in better shape to go into the field than they have been this season. Second base is strengthened by the addition of Schmidt, from Everett, who comes with the very best of recommendations as a baseman and batter, and Ziegler says that he will be a good addition to the team. Stovall, who comes to play right field, is also classed as a safe and good player and he will strengthen this part of the field. He is from Seattle. The other men are all old on the team and their work is known by the baseball enthusiasts of Pendleton.

The boys will return the 17th and then will be at home to entertain the local fans. They will play in Athena on the 18th, which will be their first game after returning. Then they will play the La Grande team in this city the 24th, 25th and 26th and go to La Grande to play the return games June 1, 2 and 3.

Arrangements have been made to have the Pendleton boys and the Walla Walla players cross bats at Weston for two games during the Pioneers' picnic. These games will be on the 28th and 29th. S. A. Barnes, chairman of the committee on arrangements, who was here Friday, said that he was also trying to get the North Yakima team to come to Weston and play the Pendleton boys on the 31st. If the Yakima players cannot come on that date the La Grande team will probably take their place.

Rooters to Play.

The Pendleton baseball rooters met Friday night and talked over what they are going to do to enliven the baseball interest. The badges are here and all will wear them to the Walla Walla game. They also talked over the advisability of organizing a team and playing a game some time in the near future and arrangements are being made to get a game with the Indians from the reservation. When this game comes off the proceeds will go toward buying new uniforms for the first team.

Printers vs. Barbers.

Sunday, the 11th, a game is scheduled between the local printers and barbers. This will be a game that will create amusement for all who attend, for both teams are hard at work practicing for the game. The line-up of the teams are:

Printers—Bloom, captain and catcher; Cardon, first base; Maskrey, second base; Brown, third base; Drake, pitcher; Welch, short stop; Hallock, left field; Lampkin, right field; Dupuis, center field.

Barbers—Mac, first base; McClure, second base; Carland, catcher; Harper, pitcher; Jones, third base; Estes, short stop; M. Rose, right field; Lockwood, left field; Balley, center field; R. Rose, sub.

An All Star Cast.

The names of the principals in Edwin Owens Towne's New York comedy success, "Too Rich to Marry," will be announced soon. The management promises almost the entire original cast. There are a number of vaudeville features, which are introduced through the play, and there is not one dull moment. It is a scream from start to finish.
