

DIRECT FROM OLD ENGLAND

We have just received the first direct import order of ever brought to Pendleton. They are made of the finest English bristles, with wax back (a new idea) which makes it impossible for the bristles to come out, as is the case with most brushes. Every brush has our name and guarantee stamped plainly on it, and is not only backed up by ourselves, but the manufacturers as well. Should any brush prove unsatisfactory, a new one will be given in its place or money refunded. They come in hard, medium and soft bristles. Where can you buy a brush like them for the money? We are making a leader of them at 35 CENTS.

Tooth Brushes

WHAT IS PROSPERITY?

It is absolutely sinful for the daily press to give publicity to the numberless strikes occurring in this campaign year, when it would be so advantageous to republican candidates to have peace everywhere. The Oregon Woolen Mill girls should ask more wages or shorter hours at a time when it would not humiliate campaign orators. The laundry girls and boys have placed the "bosses" in a sad predicament. If they recognize the "rights and privileges" of labor it will be reversing the program of the capitalist. If they refuse to recognize them, it will cost votes. So the capitalist stands between the devil and the deep blue sea.

The striking truckmen of Portland and the lumbermen of the corporation mills no doubt have read of the "merging" of every great industry in this day of giants, and have taken hope in unionism. The planing mills of Portland are all placed on the unfair list by the labor unions, and not a union carpenter will drive a nail in a board put out by them. This is some of the trust's own medicine. Slowly it is dawning upon the toiler that he is in the ascendancy if he will stand fast. It remains for him to be the autocrat. It remains for him to make his own prosperity. And by the way, What is prosperity?

Is it to have a dozen men in the community laying by princely dividends and a hundred families fighting against low wages and long hours to educate children and keep away the haunting wolf? Or is it to see labor enjoying its full reward and capital reaping a just harvest from its ventures? Employer and employe at peace: children in school, clad warmly and housed comfortably? Is it prosperity to see one man made a king and another hundred kept in life-long poverty, in the same occupation? From the free man's point of view, prosperity is that condition which renders the greatest number of people happy and independent.

TH- VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

The national legislature of Denmark has set an example of popular government, which the United States might well imitate. In the question of ceding the Danish West Indies to this government, the legislature of Denmark was divided. It has thrashed the subject over and over, creating much bitterness of feeling and much dissatisfaction. Finally as a compromise between the two parties in the congress, it has been agreed to leave the question to a general vote of the inhabitants of the Islands. The legislative body will abide by this decision. If the people of the Danish West Indies choose to remain part of Denmark, they can do so. If they elect to be ceded to the United States, they are masters of the situation.

How wise that would be for larger nations, whose vast interests concern so many more people, to leave doubtful national issues to a popular vote. It is the acme and zenith of popular government. It is placing the prerogative in the hands of its rightful heirs—the common people.

Let us hurry up the referendum. Let us give a "boost" to the popular election of our United States senators. Slowly the great vitalizing changes in government come into power. The old is passing; the new, clothed in promise and utility, is entering the great councils of mankind.

SPEECH OF W. J. FURNISH.

W. J. Furnish, candidate for governor on the republican ticket, has taken the stump in the campaign. He is reported as making a brief, though effective speech at his "one performance" stands throughout Southern Oregon and the Willamette valley. The East Oregonian being a newspaper, with the desire to print the news of both sides, herewith presents Mr. Furnish's speech so that its readers may have the benefit of perusing it:

"No doubt most of you already know that I am not an orator or campaign speaker, and that I am simply a plain every-day business man not accustomed to the discussion of questions of the day in public, but accustomed to the exacting executive work connected with the management of an active business institution. For these reasons, it is entirely unnecessary for me to say to you that I am not here to discuss the political issues that confront us but I do come here that we may become better acquainted, and that I may become more familiar with your needs and wants in connection with the administration of the affairs of the state.

"During the unparalleled period of prosperity which we are now enjoying, all lines of industry and business have grown and are still growing to proportions beyond anything ever before witnessed in our country. It is but natural that the business affairs of a great and prosperous state like ours should increase in like proportion. The fact is the state of Oregon is today a great business institution involving the expenditure of many hundreds of thousands of dollars annually for the maintenance of the state institutions. In this great business institutions, every taxpayer of the state of Oregon, either great or small, is a partner. Every dollar of the many thousands expended must first be contributed in the way of taxes from the farmer, the merchant and those of every other walk in life, each sharing his just proportion as nearly as the lawmakers are able to adjust it.

"I take it that in the election of a governor the people are merely selecting a business manager whose duty it is as chief executive of the state to look after the business affairs of the state and to see that every state institution is managed with the utmost economy and that for every dollar of your money expended you receive 100 cent's worth of benefit in return. The various state institutions should be equipped, provided for and managed in a manner becoming this great state of which we are all so proud. At the same time, the strictest integrity and economy should be exacted in the management of every institution and every department thereof. To do this successfully requires a great amount of hard work, and cool, deliberate, sober judgment.

"If you elect me governor, and I believe you will, I will make my home at Salem during my administration. I will make a thorough, personal examination of all of the various state institutions, taking great pains to familiarize myself with every detail thereof, learn the needs and wants of each and see that they are managed with the utmost economy, and to the best interests of all of the people of the whole state. I will devote my time and energies to the affairs of the state as I would to the management of any private business concern of which I were manager. I will use all my power to enforce and uphold all the laws of the state with perfect justice to all classes of citizens and all sections of the state. To summarize upon this subject, I will say that I will give the state of Oregon so far as lies within my power, a thorough-going, clean-cut, upright, business-like administration in every detail.

"Coming down to politics, I will say that I am in thorough accord with the republican party of Oregon as defined in its declaration of principles adopted by the state convention. There is not an unsound plank in that platform; there is not an issue before the people of the country today which the republican party found it necessary to dodge or straddle. It has taken an affirmative and progressive stand on the right side of every public question before the people at the present time. I not only indorse the platform, but I am proud to have the opportunity to fight for it, and I wish to give you my solemn pledge to do everything in my power to advance every principle therein contained.

"I am heartily in accord also, with the resolution adopted by the state convention with reference to recognition by the government of the valuable services of the Indian War Veterans who have been neglected so long by the government, and it will be a great pleasure for me to use my every influence in behalf of the Indian War Veterans of Oregon and Washington.

"The republican party has said in its platform: We recognize the right of labor to organize and combine for mutual protection under the law, and we recommend that the legislature enact all necessary legislation to protect labor in all its rights and privileges. In the interest of American labor and the upbuilding of the workingman as the corner stone of the prosperity of our country, we recommend that congress create a Department of Labor in charge of a secretary, with a seat in the cabinet. This I most heartily indorse in letter and spirit. Having been a laborer myself for more than half my life, I know what it is to earn the daily bread by the sweat of the brow and my heart always goes out in sympathy with the honest toiler in the unequal struggle for his rights. As governor, I shall be ever watchful of the interests of the laborer and will use my influence in behalf of all necessary legislation looking to the protection of labor in all its rights and privileges.

"I do not think it necessary or advisable for me to undertake to discuss the political questions, as you will no doubt have many opportunities to hear them discussed before the close of the campaign. It was certainly a part of the destiny of our grand country that our late great and good President McKinley should have controlled its destinies through the late Spanish war, having steered our course clear of every breaker to the successful consummation of one of the grandest achievements in history. It does Oregon proud that we contributed to having placed him in position to do this. We are again indeed, a fortunate people to have the strong and vigorous President Roosevelt to shape our destinies and to assume the responsibilities thrust upon us by the fortunes of war. It is to be hoped that the people of Oregon, by their votes in June will show to the world that they appreciate the great services rendered the country by our national administration, and that they intend to uphold it; also that they appreciate the great good to come to the country, to this coast and to our state in particular, from our national expansion.

"Let us by votes inform all the world that we know that while the strong vigorous and honest Roosevelt is at the helm of our ship of state no man, or no power on earth, will haul down the flag in the Philippines."

Anxious thoughts sometimes perplex the wife who sees maternity before her. If she is treading an untried path, she sometimes frets herself into a nervous condition which is injurious and prostrating. If motherhood has already been a painful experience she is apt to shrink from the coming trial and by her very mental anxiety increase the possibility of her suffering.

There is no cause for anxiety for those prospective mothers who use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite, induces refreshing sleep and produces mental cheerfulness as well as physical vigor. It gives strength and muscular elasticity so that the baby's advent is practically painless. It is the best tonic for nursing mothers.

"I am so thankful for what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has done for me," writes Mrs. John F. Smith, of Slosson, Betz, Col. Box 50. "It helped me through the long months before baby came and I have a big, strong baby girl, the most healthy of the three, and I cured me of a disease which was taking away all my strength."

The dealer who offers a substitute for "Favorite Prescription" does so to gain the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines. His profit is your loss, therefore accept no substitute.

THE SONG OF THE SHIRT.
With fingers weary and worn,
With eyelids heavy and red,
A woman sits in unwomanly rags,
Plying her needle and thread—
Stitch! stitch! stitch!
In poverty, hunger and dirt,
An dstill with a voice of dolorous pitch.
She sang the "Song of the shirt!"
"Work—work—work
Till the brain begins to swim!
Work—work—work
Till the eyes are heavy and dim!
Seam and gusset and band,
Band and gusset and seam,
Till over the buttons I fall asleep,
And sew them on in a dream!
"Oh men with sisters dear!
O, men with mothers and wives!
It is not linen you're wearing out,
But human creatures' lives!
Stitch! stitch! stitch!
In poverty, hunger and dirt,
Sewing at once with a double thread,
A shroud as well as a shirt.
With fingers weary and worn,
With eyelids heavy and red,
A woman sat in unwomanly rags,
Plying her needle and thread—
Stitch! stitch! stitch!
In poverty, hunger and dirt,
And still with a voice of dolorous pitch,—
Would that its tone would reach the rich!—
She sang this "Song of the Shirt!"
