A LEVELING TRIANGLE.

For Irrigators in a Small Way—Details of Construction.

The use of a leveling triangle was suggested to small irrigators in California many years ago by a prominent irrigation engineer. It is constructed in this way:

The three pieces A, B, C and C, A are made fast to each other at A, B and C. The board B D is fastened to the triangle at right angles to A C. An ordinary carpenter's square used in the

TRIANGLE WITH PLUMB BOB.

construction of the apparatus will insure sufficient accuracy in the position of B D. Near B, on the board B D, a plumb line is made fast. The plumb bob, like a mason's plumb bob, hangs in a hole, so that when B D is vertical the string hangs very near the surface of the board B D. When B D is exactly vertical, A C is exactly horizontal if the angles at D are true right angles.

The dimensions of the triangle may be about as follows: A C, 12 feet long; A B, about 7 feet 3 inches; C B, about 10 feet; B D, about 6 feet long. Other dimensions will do as well, the essential features being the straight board A C and the board B D at right angles to it and near enough to one end of A C for the man carrying that end of the triangle to see accurately the position of the plumb line. The board B D should not be less than four feet long or the plumb line will be too short to give satisfactory results. It will frequently be found convenient to have a scale of feet marked off on A C.

In marking on the board B D the line in which the plumb line will hang when A C is exactly horizontal considerable care is required. Two pegs are driven into the ground as far apart as A and C for these points to rest on.
The highest one is driven into the ground until the plumb line follows about the center line of the board B D.
Having marked this position of the plumb line, the triangle is reversed so that the end B rests on the peg where before we had the end C, and vice versa. Should the plumb line make an angle with the first line marked on the board, then the correct position will be exactly in the middle between these two lines. This point should be permanently marked on the board B D.
In using the triangle when the plumb line passes through this point the base of the triangle will be level.

Money in Potatoes.

Small crops often prove a blessing to the few expert growers, although a bad thing for the general run of farmers, remarks an American Cultivator writer. A full crop of potatoes when prices are high, as they have been this year, will net higher profits per acre than any other crop that we can grow, and even a three-quarters crop should yield a profit sufficient to pay big wages. Therefore we find plenty of growers not at all discouraged over the past season's results. On the contrary, they are more convinced than ever that there is money in potatoes, but more especially in intensive, modern culture.

One such season in the past is enough to convince many of this. A high yield of excellent market potatoes can be accomplished only through intensive culture in good seasons, but when the weather, seed and insects are all against the crop one is then particularly thankful that nothing has been left undone to get the best from the soil.

The Tobacco Seed Bed.

Make the seed bed fine and friable three or four inches deep, advises American Agriculturist. Make the bed six feet wide and as long as required.

Sow one tablespoonful of seed to the square rod. More seed makes spindling plants. To insure even seeding mix the seed with corn or cottonseed meal, and as it is sown over the bed a more perfect sowing may be obtained on account of its color. After sowing run a heavy hand roller over the bed or plank it. Firming the soil is essential to success, as a compact surface retains moisture. Apply the following once a week until plants thoroughly cover the soil: Three bushels of poultry droppings placed in a large barrel and filled with soft water. After a week's fermentation the liquid is ready to dilute with warm water in a proportion of one of liquid to ten of water. This will stimulate the plants without delaying a good healthy development.

Seeding With Clover.

When clover is sown early in the spring on the crop of wheat or other winter grain, it may cost nothing but the price of the seed, which is not much, whether ten or fifteen pounds is used to the acre, and the labor of sowing, yet we would prefer to increase its cost by going over the wheat with a light or smoothing harrow before sowing the clover seed, says American Cul-tivist. This will benefit wheat or rye if done at the right time, when the ground is not wet enough to cause the harrow to sink too deep and uproot the plants. This makes a good seed bed for the clover, and in a day or two after the first rain the little plants will be sending their roots down into the soil.

Japanese Waltzing Mice.

Among the many animals which are adopted as pets there are numerous odd and peculiar creatures. But certainly one of the oddest is the Japanese waltzing mouse. Mice have been brought under cultivation and have been so altered in appearance by the fancier that their original wild relatives would fail to know them. Yet the fancy mouse, with his wonderful markings, is a very ordinary creature compared with this waltzing member of the family.

It is no doubt true that many a tale hangs by the tail of many an animal.
The waltzing mouse probably has this in view, as his main object in life appears to be to catch and investigate his own tail, the contortions and gyrations in which he indulges during the process being decidedly unique. The mice sometimes perform in pairs, but they are different to ordinary dances in that they waltz head to tail, turning so quickly that it is difficult to tell where one begins and the other ends.
The faculty of waltzing is hereditary, for the young mice of this variety evince a tendency to spin as soon as they are old enough to move about.
There are no special markings in the waltzing mice, though they can be obtained in several different colors.

Lady Wortley Montagu, one of England's most brilliant women, incurred Pope's undying hatred in the following manner: The poet, who was deformed and very dark and addicted to questioning everybody, once asked her to define an interrogation mark. She defined it as "a little, crooked, black thing that asks questions."
