REPUBLICANS OF ILLINOIS

MEET IN STATE CONVENTION WITH 1500 DELEGATES.

The Only Contest in the Convention Will Be Over the Nomination for State Treasurer, There Being Three Candidates.

Springfield, Ill., May 7.—The republican state convention, which convenes at noon tomorrow, will be one of the largest state conventions ever held in Illinois. There are to be 1500 delegates. The convention will be held in the exposition building at the state fair grounds. Besides the delegates provision has been made for seating over 5000 visitors. Today finds all the hotels crowded with delegates. For an off-year convention much interest is displayed, which fact is owing in a great measure to the spirited struggle for the United States senatorship.

The convention will nominate a candidate for clerk of the supreme court, state treasurer, superintendent of public instruction and three trustees of the state university. The nomination for clerk of the supreme court is virtually settled. Chris Manner of Chicago will be the nominee. The contest of the convention will be over the nomination for state treasurer. The three leaders in the race are: Floyd K. Whittemore of Springfield; Senator Len Small of Kankakee and Henry C. Begole of Belleville. Other candidates are lurking in the brush, chief among whom is Homer F. Aspinwall of Freeport. All indications point to the renomination of Alfred Bayliss for Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Among the delegates and other politicians in the field there is more talk in regard to the United States senatorship than the actual work before the convention. The lieutenants of Senator Mason, Charles G. Dawes and Congressman Hopkins are pursuing a lively button-hole campaign and the convention is likely to have a decisive result in fight for the toga whether or not an actual indorsement is made.

The platform will deal almost entirely with state affairs, letting national issues alone beyond a general indorsement of the Roosevelt administration. When it comes to state issues, however, there is likely to be a hot fight on the resolutions. Speaker Sherman will probably be on the committee on resolutions. He will support the "round robin" plank relative to assessment of state employees and factional use of the party organizations. Especially will he champion a plank declaring for civil service in state charitable institutions. This will be a direct slap at the Yates administration.

Successful Meeting of Dentists.

Hutchinson, Kas., May 7.—The most successful as well as the largest meeting in the thirty year's history of the Kansas State Dental Association is that which began its sessions in Hutchinson today. When the gathering was formally opened this morning, members of the association and other visitors were present from all parts of the state. The morning was given over to the work of organization and other routine business. This afternoon the association listened to the annual address of the president and the reports of other officers of the association. Addresses in memory of the deceased members occupy this evening and tomorrow will be taken up with clinics and papers of general interest to those engaged in the profession.

COLD STORAGE AT MILTON.

Colonel Judson Made a Promise Which Has Not Been Kept.

Milton fruit growers are in need of a cold storage plant to preserve and keep fresh their fruits from the time of picking until loaded on the ear for shipment. This has been a crying need for several years, and its need opens an opportunity for capital that is sure to get returns of a substantial nature on the investment. Milton fruit growers have been able to secure refrigerator cases this year in which to pack their fruit, but this does not fill the bill. It is a storage plant that is wanted. About a year ago, Industrial Agent Colonel Judson, of the O. R. & N., gave a promise that if a local union was effected among the fruit growers of this section that he would see that a cold storage plant would be erected at the station here. The union was organized and at the present time is in a flourishing condition, there being in the neighborhood of 75 of the most prominent fruit raisers in the immediate vicinity of Milton enrolled as members of the organization. There is a splendid chance for parties with means to establish such an institution here, and Milton citizens stand ready to lend assistance to any one interested in such a scheme.

BAD BEEF TRUST

Sensational Testimony Given in the Inquiry Against the Combine.

HOW INDEPENDENT PACKERS WERE RUN OUT OF BUSINESS.

Government Attorneys in Chicago Will Pray for Confiscation by the Government of All the Goods Shipped in Violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law.

Jefferson City, Mo., May 7.—More sensational testimony was adduced at today's session of the beef inquiry. Witnesses told of methods employed by the alleged members of the beef trust which run the independent packers out of the business. The principal means employed was the boycotting of cattle raisers who sold to the independents and selling meat at ruinously low prices. One witness testified that the packers shipped "concession" or over ripe beef into St. Louis which was sold to the restaurants and hotels at low prices. This meat was chemically treated to give it a good appearance and to prevent immediate decomposition.

Beef Inquiry in Chicago.

Chicago, May 7.—The present program of the government attorneys in the proceeding against the alleged beef trust contemplates the filing of the bill for the injunction Friday, was learned this morning. It may contain a prayer for the confiscation by the government of all the goods shipped in violation of the anti-trust law. If the prayer is granted it would be a severe blow to the packers of the combination, if such an one exists, practically nullifying any agreements that may have been made.

BRITISH EMPIRE

More Potent and Powerful Than Before the Boer War, Says Salisbury.

"WE HAVE SUFFERED, BUT WE HAVE WON."

The Claims of England, Made at Beginning of War, Was as Important as Ever and From Them the Country Could Not Recede One Particle.

London, May 7.—Premier Salisbury, in speaking of the South African war at the meeting of the Primrose League today, said: "Deep as our sacrifices have been during the war, our great empire is now more potent and powerful than when the war began. We have suffered, but we have won."

Salisbury said that the claims made by the government at the beginning of the war, it was intended, should be carried out. The country could not afford, after such sacrifices of treasure and men, to allow things to slide back into the position where it would be in the power of the enemy when the opportunity suited to again renew the issue, for which they had fought for the past three years.

Ohio Veterans Parade.

Lancaster, O., May 7.—This was the big day of the state G. A. R. encampment. For several hours this afternoon the hundreds of veterans marched in procession amid the cheers of crowds that lined Main, Columbus, Broad and other streets comprising the route. In view of the age and infirmities of many of the veterans the line of march was made to exceed scarcely a mile, but even this proved too long for some of the marchers and they dropped out before the end was reached. Besides the veterans the procession included several companies of state militia, Sons of Veterans and 800 lads from the Boy's Industrial School.

ASSOCIATION OF POLICE CHIEFS

Ninth Annual Convention of the Thief Catchers at Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., May 7.—The ninth annual convention of the National Association of Police Chiefs of the United States and Canada was called to order today by Major Richard Sylvester of Washington, president of the association. Prominent among those in attendance were Frank O'Neill of Chicago, C. W. Soost, of Mobile, J. J. Atkins of Knoxville, R. R. Baker of Providence, William Price of Vicksburg, John Hayes of Kansas City, Colonel Phillip Deitch of Cincinnati, George E. Corner of Cleveland and William A. Pinkerton of Chicago. Mayor Charles F. Grainger of Louisville delivered a happy address of welcome, to which President Sylvester responded. These formalities concluded the convention then began business. The sessions are expected to continue through the week.

An interesting feature of the present convention lies in the fact that the annual meeting of the National Bureau of Identification, an organization that has made itself of vital importance to the police departments throughout the country, is being held in conjunction with the gathering of police chiefs. Reports show that there are at present forty-six cities enrolled on the membership list of the National Bureau of Identification.

Thickly Populated District.

Four miles north of Freewater on the Walla Walla river exists what is probably the smallest rural school district in Washington, the entire area comprising only 810 acres. The formation of this district has just been allowed by the state superintendent. Small as the district is, it contains 61 children of school age. This remarkable showing is possible because the tract is devoted largely to fruit raising and farms are small. The 810 acres was taken from the Yellow Hawk and Valley Chapel school districts, farmers complaining they had to send their children too far to reach the other schools. The petition was heard before County Superintendent Myers of Walla Walla county some time ago and referred to Olympia.

Two Cent Fee for 'Phones.

How would you like to have a telephone put in your house and pay 2 cents every time you use it? The company would install the 'phone, pay the expenses of maintenance and never send a man around on the first of the month with a blue paper dum. When you took down the receiver, "central" would ask you to drop two coppers into the slot and until you had dropped them you would be denied the use of the line. A patent device, like a cash register, would automatically tell the number of coppers in the 'phone till and it could not be robbed. There is a proposition on foot to install that kind of a line and system in the city of Walla Walla as well as in other sections of the Northwest.

The Story of the President's Mother.

When Martha Bulloch, the fair daughter of a wealthy Georgia planter, married Theodore Roosevelt half a century ago she little dreamed that her name would be handed down as the mother of a president. The pretty romance of her meeting with the New York man, their courtship and marriage, and the long honeymoon journey in a stage coach, forms a new and interesting chapter in connection with the life of the present Theodore Roosevelt. In the June number of the Ladies' Home Journal this romance and many unknown facts concerning the president's mother are told by a cousin of Martha Bulloch.

AWFUL SNOW SLIDE

Started at Top of Gold Hill, in the Blue River Mining District, in the Cascades.

COVERED TREASURE MINE WITH 60 FEET DEBRIS.

Forty Men at Work in Mine Were at Lunch or They Would Have Been Caught and Buried in the Tunnel—Blacksmith Shop and Machinery Swept Away.

Eugene, May 7.—The news has reached here of a tremendous snow-slide in the Blue river mining district. A huge mass of snow and debris started at the top of Gold Hill, carrying everything before it. The tunnel to the Treasure mine, in which the big strike was made recently, lay in its path. The mouth of the tunnel is covered with 60 feet of debris. The avalanche destroyed the blacksmith shop and carried the engine and other machinery into the canyon. Forty men of the mine were at lunch or they would all have been killed or smothered in the tunnel.

COLONEL BUTCHER'S POINTS.

In His Speech at The Dailies He Tells What He Favors.

On Monday night W. F. Butcher, candidate for congress from the second district on the democratic ticket, made some strong points, placing himself on record as follows:
Opposition to leasing the public lands.
Favors development of the mining resources in every manner possible.
Favors development of the arid land regions.
Argues that if Oregon sends a democratic congressman to Washington, the East will hereafter pay more attention to this state than they will if it remains in the column of sure states, with nothing for them to gain in granting demands to be made by people here.
Foremost, however, he presented the improvement of the Columbia river as a leading theme, and one that is calculated to unite all people. That he regards as the paramount issue.
Colonel Butcher left at noon Tuesday for Antelope.

How About Meat Eaters?

The Montana Cattle and Horse Growers' Association at its annual meeting in Montrose, Col., adopted resolutions declaring that the alleged combination of packers to control prices of beef has been working in the interest of stock growers and that present prices of meat are only sufficient to give the growers a fair profit, and appealing to press and public to cease aggressive action to break up the alleged combination.
