GOOSE AND GANDER SAUCE.

It is said there are from 250 to 300 democrats in Umatilla county who will vote for W. J. Furnish for governor not because he is the republican candidate or that they prefer him personally to Mr. Chamberlain, but principally because he is a Umatilla county man, almost born and raised here. There is some virtue to this position on the part of these democratic voters, but each acts and utterances are acceptable and every one of them should see that they obtain a vote for every one of this kind that they give to Mr. Furnish for J. H. Raley, the democratic have been making a record. They candidate for attorney general, who are looking, it is said, for the apis as much a home man, born and publicans, who will be the first to exraised in Umatilla county as Mr Furnish.

He is a popular man; he has of them in every measure under great ability to serve in the office for consideration. which he is a candidate. If Mr. Raley is elected and he may be, the people of Oregon will have an active, vigorous representative in the attorney general's office, one who will enforce the law in the interest of the whole people. The administration of that office could not be entrusted to better or stronger hands.

This county should be on a cash basis, and if the voters see fit to the employment of Chinese sailors support Mr. Nelson and he is elected, on American vessels. That was cut at the end of his term, the county would be near that goal, as he and County Judge Hartman would labor in that direction and with every reason to hope for success. In order that continued progress may be made in getting Umatilla county out of debt, vote for James Nelson for county commissioner.

CAN OREGON AFFORD IT.

Here is how the political situation in Oregon looks to the Portland Journal man and there is a great deal of wisdom in his view:

The Oregonian appeals to republicans to vote the local republican ticket, without considering local is sues, or the personalities of the candidates, on the ground that it will have important influence on the national republican party.

This appeal will bear examination If the argument is worth anything, what is wanted of Oregon republicans is a vote of confidence in the purposes and policies of the leaders of the party, as evinced in their recent acts and utterances. If these to republican voters, the argument has merit in it. Otherwise, the argument is the other way.

The republican leaders in congress press themselves by the ballot. Naturally, if the state goes republican by the normal majority, the leaders will accept and will have a right to accept the vote as an indorsement Keep the piston going, boys, and let

Take the ship subsidy bill. Mr. Hanna, the official and natural leader of the republicans, is its trusted to him. He is an excellent author and sponsor. That bill, we lawyer, a worker, tireless in the take it, is not approved by the republicans, any more than by the democrats of Oregon. It is a bill to take the money raised by taxation of the Mr. Raley deserves the support of people, and make a free gift of it to the people of Umatilla county and of ship companies to enlarge their Eastern Oregon irrespective of pol. profits. The excuse for it is that the scribe a relaxed subsidy is necessary to enable ship physical condicompanies to compete in the carryhis life, he deserves the support of ing trade. It is a tax in favor of combination of capital. Recent experience, shows that combinations of capital are more than able to take care of themselves. The people of Oregon, irrespective of party, do not believe in this subsidy. Yet Mr. Hanna could point to a republican victory in Oregon, as proof that Oregon republicans approve the subsidy.

This question has a still more particular application. Mr. Mitchell voted for this bill. The present republican ticket in Multnomah county is a Mitchell republican ticket. It is so distinctively Mr. Mitchell's GET UMATILLA OUT OF DEBT. | ticket that in common parlance it goes by that name. Indeed, the same men and the same organization who are represented by that call the attention of the voters of ticket only four years ago officially named themselves as Mitchell republicans. A vote for that ticket is an ing James Nelson, county commis- indorsement of Mr. Mitchell, not sioner, to succeed T. P. Gilliland, merely personally, but officially. And whose term expires on July 1, and a vote for the indorsement of Mr. thereby place the responsibility for of indorsement of the ship subsidy Mitchell, just at this time, is a vote looking after the affairs of the coun-bill. The Oregonian is against that ty strictly on democratic shoulders, bill. The people are against that At the present time a democrat is bill. It is now to be approved or Nicaragua canal. There is the Mitchell-Kahn exclusion bill. The republican majority in congress defeated its most import ant provisions. It is fair to say that Mitchell and the Pacific coast members supported that bill with apparent sincerity, but they did not have enough influence to secure its passage. If, as the Oregonian says. the June vote ought to be in approval of the "purposes and policies of the republican party," then it is one of the purposes and policies of that party, as shown by the vote of the republican majority, not to accede to the Pacific coast sentiment on the Chinese question. A vote for the republican ticket, therefore, in dorses that policy, and notifies the republican leaders that they may safely disregard our wishes; that indeed, we don't mean what we say when we ask for a stricter Chinese exclusion law.

This question also has a more particular application. One of the amendments insisted on by us, and rejected by congress, was to prohibit out because it was asserted that American ship companies could not compete in the carrying trade with other countries. So the republican majority seem to be willing to give the ship companies both subsidies in money and cheap Chinese sailors to enable them to do business. The reence with Mr. Mitchell to get him to vote for their subsidy measures, but he did not have enough influence with them to protect his constituents

A vote for his ticket will be just ly accepted at Washington as an indorsement of his action.
