ARE TERRIBLY AFFLICTED

REMARKABLE CASE AT THE MULTNOMAH POOR FARM.

The Medical Profession in That City Will Make Experiments to Determine Whether Disease Is Leprosy or Lupus.

The Rademaker children, whose remarkable case of unparalleled disease is now attracting the undivided attention of every member of the medical profession of Portland, are at the Multnomah county poor farm. Their isolated lives are to be made a little brighter in consequence of their appearance in Portland, says the Telegram.

Intense interest is felt in the bacteriological examination which is being conducted by the doctors for the purpose of demonstrating whether the disease is leprosy or lupus, an aggravated cutaneous affliction that is eating up their heads. Guinea pigs are to be inoculated from the lepers, so-called. The examination of the bacilli and the manner in which the guinea pigs are affected, it is stated, will to a degree establish whether it is leprosy or lupus. Guinea pigs are very susceptible, and the action of the germs from the disease cursed human beings will soon tell in the blood of the pigs. If it is leprosy the pigs will not be affected; if lupus, the pigs will have it. Most of the physicians who have been out to the county poor farm studying the cases of the children, are of the opinion that the disease is not contagious.

Elizabeth Rademaker, hideous to behold, and fortunately forbidden a sight of herself—as she was born blind, being barely able to distinguish between light and darkness—has a soul for music. She sings in a voice that brings the tears to every one who hears her. The blind unfortunate is familiar with several hymns. She can play an organ and several other musical instruments. She has an innate love for music and has received some training at the school for the blind at Vancouver.

County Physician McKay says hers is a wonderful case. The children's lives are hopelessly blighted. They are intelligent and appreciative. Nothing in medical books or the plates that have been made for the scientific profession approaches this case in rareness. Dr. McKay feels a strong interest in the children and has had about 200 physicians out to the poor farm examining the cases. The children appear to be very deserving.

Dr. McKay said that a subscription list had been started to purchase an organ for Elizabeth Rademaker. He invites those who like to perform an act of merciful kindness to add a mite to the fund. Subscriptions will be received, if requested, at the business office of the Telegram for the county physician, who promptly acknowledges the receipt of money collected for this purpose. Anything sent in after the necessary amount is secured will be refunded. The subscriptions may, preferably, be sent to Dr. McKay, whose office is in the Marquam building. She will probably be sent home in a few days, and with her it is hoped to send an organ to while away her terrible life of misery and darkness.

Anybody could do a fine thing for the young boy, who is going the same terrible way his sister is, by giving him a watch. The doctors are going to try to provide him with a watch, as it is the hope and pride of his life to have a timepiece.

PALME SCHOOL BUILDING.

In Such a Condition That it Will Probably Have to Be Torn Down.

Walla Walla May 15.—"I doubt if the building can be repaired so as to give general satisfaction to the general public," George W. Whitehouse, a prominent contractor of Walla Walla, made the statement yesterday to a member of the school board, during an inspection of the Palme school building, to determine whether the structure could be of further use. N. F. Butler, another contractor, one of the builders of the Palme school, differed: "Faulty connection with the sewers is the trouble," he declared, "and by repairing this and by digging down and putting in a solid foundation section by section, I see no reason why the building cannot be made as good as new."

The board of education has not yet reached an agreement as to what will be done; whether the Palme school is to be torn down and rebuilt or an attempt is to be made to repair it.

If it has to be torn down, the district will lose $40,000, as it will require that sum to replace it. The building was erected 12 years ago.

Low Rates East.

On June 29, and July 2, 3 and 4, the O. R. & N. Company will sell tickets to Minneapolis and to Missouri river points (Kansas City to Sioux City inclusive) and return at the extraordinary low rate of $47. Tickets good until September 1, with stop-over in both directions. Call at the O. R. & N. ticket office for full particulars.

Run of Salmon Larger.

Astoria, May 15.—The run of salmon has increased materially. There are many big catches, but the fish are small, being considered hatchery fish.

CONDITION OF THE WHEAT

WHEAT THAT AS RESOWN LOOKING FINE.

If Weather Continues Favorable Crop Will Be Fully as Large as Last Year.

Warren, Ore., May 15.—Although much of the great wheat belt of northern Umatilla was frozen out by February's frost, and the late spring retarded the growth of resown spring wheat, yet since that time conditions have been so remarkably favorable that spring wheat is looking as well as that sown last fall. The cause has been the unusual amount of rain which has fallen since the dry spell in early April. Wheat now looks like a grand velvet carpet all over the Helix country and stretching away toward the Columbia river and the Hudson Bay district.

The Helix country suffered far more than the country around Adams and Athena in the February freeze-out. Things were very discouraging in that region for weeks after the freezing, and it looked as if the wheat crop of 1902 was faded. Farmers who are now so pleasantly surprised by the sudden change are correspondingly gratified.

Warehouseman's Opinion.

A prominent warehouseman who operates here at Helix, Pendleton and other places, said yesterday: "Of course it is still a long time until harvest, and there is no telling what may happen, but if everything continues as favorable as it has been the yield of northern Umatilla this year will not fall below that of last season at all. When wheat freezes out and has to be resown as it was this year, it wants frequent rains and wells of warm weather interspersed. The straw crop falls a little short, but no one cares for that and if the contingencies I mention come to pass the grain will mature as well almost as if there had been no set back."

Around Adams wheat has rarely looked so well as now. Little wheat was frozen out there and not much more at Athena. The result is that what has been good for spring wheat has been better still for fall-sown varieties, and Athena and Adams have prospects never beaten.

On the Way Home.

Word was received this afternoon from the Pendleton baseball team that they would be home on Saturday afternoon's train. This will be a relief to many, as word had reached here that arrangements were on foot to play an exhibition game in Seattle Sunday, and this would have cancelled the game scheduled for them at Athena on that day with the Yellow Kids. The boys say they will be home and, though a little tired, they will go to Athena, confident of winning against Manager Osborn's team.

La Grande vs. Walla Walla.

Walla Walla May 15.—In this city next Saturday, Sunday and Monday, the Walla Walla will cross bats with the La Grande team in a series of games. Mills will pitch Saturday, Steltz on Sunday and Cryderman on the day following. There is plenty of Walla Walla money in sight for the coming series, showing that all faith has not been lost in the Sharpshooters.

Most Effective Advertising.

That advertising is the most effective which attracts the eye and appeals to the brain. Strong adjectives may be as much out of taste in an advertisement as in a bit of more aspiring literature. Exaggeration is always to be avoided. People nowadays demand sincerity in all matters of business. It is observable that all the big and successful advertisers are most careful as to their statements of fact. They realize that confidence is the key-stone in the arch of trade. Their success came of their jealous regard for their work.
