HOW DO YOU expect people to know what you have to sell if you don't ADVERTISE?

ON THE CAMP GROUND

GREAT CROWDS, REGARD- LESS OF BAD WEATHER.

About 600 People Are Camped in Byers' Grove Attending the Camp Meeting—Children Meet With Accidents.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather, large crowds continue to attend the Adventists' camp meeting in Byers' grove each evening. Sunday night was the largest crowd that has been out so far, but each evening these are town people, but a great many are from out of town and are here attending the meetings.

At the present time the number of tents that are standing on the ground reaches 125 and these tents contain 600 people who are camped, and most of them will remain until the meeting closes next Sunday night, while many others will arrive during the rest of the week, although not as many will be here as would have attended had the weather been favorable.

It is very disagreeable on the ground for those camped, while it continues to rain and stay cold, but this cannot be helped, and the residents of the "White City" are making the best of the condition.

Three sermons are delivered each day, one at 5:30 in the morning, one at 2:30 in the afternoon and one at night. These sermons are delivered by different preachers and in addition to the sermons a business meeting convenes each day at 9:30.

Rev. Martin, of College Place, preached last night and his remarks were along the line of the second coming of Christ. He quoted many passages of scripture to back up his statements and the Seventh Day Adventists' theory that the time was close at hand for the second coming of the Savior of man. He said that the events of the day were ample evidence that the end of time was not far distant.

At the business meeting Monday the report of the treasurer and secretary was read. The treasurer's report was very gratifying to those interested and made a splendid showing of the results of the work done during the past year in this conference territory. The secretary's report showed that four new churches had been organized, two new houses of worship erected and a number of new fields opened with gratifying results.

Personal Notes.

Every train is loaded with new arrivals. Some of the latest to come in are: Professor O. D. Hobbs, business manager of the Adventist college at College Place; S. A. Anderson, manager of the sanitarium at Spokane, and Professors Stewart and Hoyt, of College Place College.

While the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Johnson was swinging on a limb at the camp meeting ground Monday, she fell to the ground and cut a deep gash in her head which necessitated the calling of a physician who closed up the wound with the needle and thread.

Frankie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Ford, of College Place, was playing with other children at the camp ground Monday and in attempting to jump a three strand wire fence, received a bad wound in the face. He lost sight of the top strand and thought that he had only to clear two wires. He made a run and jumped against the fence, his lip and cheek striking the barb wire and cutting his lip as well as his cheek severely. A physician had to be called to attend him and the wound was closed with several stitches.

PROHIBITION RALLY.

Held at Milton Saturday, the Principal Speaker Being John G. Woolley.

The prohibition party rally, held in Nichol's grove, at Milton, Saturday, was poorly attended on account of the inclemency of the weather. John G. Woolley, recent candidate for the presidency of the United States gave one of the most stirring temperance orations ever heard in that prohibition settlement.

"If you want prohibition in the country," said Mr. Woolley, "put prohibitionists in office—that is the only way to attain the end. You cannot expect milk to come from far weed or the leopard to change his spots. When you would have wheat you do not sow mustard." The evils of the liquor traffic, of which Mr. Woolley has made wide observation in his travels over the United States and Canada, were vividly pictured, and the alleged freedom from crime and misery of states where prohibition is in force were shown. "I believe in the abolition of the traffic in soul destroying liquor, first, last and always," said the eloquent lecturer. Mr. Woolley's subject was "My Own Country."

Another excellent address was given by A. J. Hunsaker, prohibition candidate for governor of Oregon, whose talk was very encouraging to prohibitionists.

Tom McLaughlin Dead.

I. N. McLaughlin, known throughout Eastern Oregon as "Tom" McLaughlin died in San Francisco hospital on Sunday, May 10. He had been in poor health for a year past and had been at the hospital but a few days when the final hour came suddenly and without warning. Mr. McLaughlin was engaged in a number of pursuits, and was occupied at various times as a clerk for several mercantile firms in La Grande. After leaving Eastern Oregon he went to Quartz, Cal., where he was engaged in the hotel and mercantile business. The funeral was held at Quartz on Wednesday last, under the direction of the Odd Fellows' lodge of that place.

David McCoy Injured.

David McCoy was severely injured by a runaway near his home in Cottonwood a few days ago. He had started to Walla Walla and the horse he was driving became frightened at something on the road. Mr. McCoy and his niece, Miss Elliott, were thrown from the buggy. Mr. McCoy sustained a fracture of four ribs and since the accident pneumonia has set in and his condition is quite serious. Miss Elliott received only slight bruises about the head and shoulders.

Back to Prairie City.

B. F. Miller, a druggist of Pendleton, who was interested in the drug line at Prairie City at the time of a recent fire at that place, passed through Baker City Sunday, says the Herald, en route from Pendleton to the scene of the conflagration, it being his intention to resume business at the old stand. Mr. Miller stated trade was good in that locality and he thought if anything, the conditions would be benefited by the visit of the flames. He had conducted a drug store at Prairie City about six days when the fire broke out.

Fayne Strahan Free Again.

In the state circuit court at Watertown, S. D., Mrs. Fayne Moore, of New York City, was granted an absolute divorce from William A. E. Moore. The plaintiff was given the right to resume her maiden name of Fayne Strahan. She instituted suit on the ground of extreme cruelty, non-support and conviction of felony. The defendant is serving a term of 19 years in Sing Sing prison for alleged robbery. He alleges his imprisonment is due to a plot of the plaintiff to get a divorce in order to marry a wealthy Englishman. The plaintiff's father was the late Chief Justice Strahan, of the supreme court of Oregon.

A Business Woman.

Sumpter was visited by a woman millionaire in the person of Mrs. M. D. Pringle. She bears the distinction of having been at one time president of the Denver & New Orleans Narrow Gauge Railway, thus being the only woman railway president in the United States, or any other country, for that matter. She visited Sumpter to look over an investment in timber lands. In an interview she stated that another railroad is to be built into that country, and that she was a heavy stockholder, the company building the road being the Oregon Southern. Mrs. Pringle's mining interests are near Canyon City, and that point was where she intended visiting before returning home.

The registration of voters in Union county is 3400 and that of La Grande precincts 1025.
