TWO POOR GAMES

LA GRANDE SCALP EASILY LIFTED BY THE INDIANS.

Saturday and Sunday Contests Were Poor Exhibitions of the Great National Game and But Two or Three Better Than Ordinary Plays Were Made.

The Pendleton fans are getting their fill of baseball. Saturday, Sunday and today the Indians have crossed bats with the Red Jackets, from La Grande and the Pendleton players won the two first games without much effort. The La Grande boys have hardly played enough this season to get their batting eye and they did very poor work in the field in both games, although it was worse Sunday than Saturday. They have the material for making a fast team, but they have only been organized a little over two weeks and have had little chance to get themselves in trim.

Few sensational plays were made in Saturday's game other than the catch of a foul pop-up by Brown. One of the La Grande boys was at bat and he sent a foul up and back. Brown was behind the batter and made a run for the ball. He got under it and held the ball but was going at such momentum that he could not stop at the visitors' bench. Several men and boys were sitting on the bench and seeing that he was going to run into them, Brown made a leap, cleared the bench, heads and all, but held to the ball. Zeigler covered his usual large territory at third, Clemens made two good runs and captured flies, but he missed another, a difficult one. With the exception of a few errors which allowed two of La Grande's men to cross the home plate, this game was quite spirited and fairly good.

Score by Innings.

 Pendleton ... 0 1 0 1 2 0 0 0—4

Sunday's Game.

There was little life in Sunday's game. The Pendleton players tried to get up a little enthusiasm, but the La Grande boys appeared to be looking for defeat and did not play with confidence or much vigor. Little excitement was manifest among the on-lookers although a good crowd was present. Zeigler was hit in the head by a pitched ball from Blair and knocked senseless for a minute. This caused some excitement among the ladies in the grand stand, but he was soon on his feet again and went on with the game apparently none the worse for the accident. Clemens also got a ball in the wind and took first base.

Score by Innings.

La Grande ... 0 0 3 0 2 0 2 0—7
 Pendleton ... 2 5 1 0 2 2 0 1—13

Next Games.

The Pendleton tossers will cross bats with the Walla Walla team in Weston Wednesday and Thursday, during the Pioneers' picnic. Friday they will play the Colfax team two games in this city, at 10 a. m. and 3 p. m., and will return to Weston and play Colfax again Saturday. Their return games with La Grande will be played June 1, 2 and 3.

MARTIN'S LODGING HOUSE.

To Be Opened June 1, Under Management of Mrs. A. R. Strahon.

Martin's new modern lodging house will be opened to the public about June 1st, in all its completeness and cleanliness. The Martin lodging house is located in the new brick block on Main street and is the best equipped, most convenient and best arranged in Pendleton. No pains or expense have been spared in fitting up the nice large, cool and well-ventilated rooms, with fine furniture and especially good beds, so that comfort is assured all.

The Martin lodging house will be conducted and under the direct supervision of Mrs. A. R. Strahon, who has had wide experience in this line of work and thoroughly understands what is necessary for the pleasure of guests. She was for a long time in charge of the lodging house in the Despain block and gave splendid satisfaction.

There are 24 large rooms in the Martin block and persons desiring a good clean place to room are invited to take advantage of this opportunity.

Dislocated His Shoulder.

Athens, May 26.—B. F. Mansfield, otherwise known as "Doc," is laid up with a dislocated shoulder. Last Friday he hitched up his team and he and A. W. Nye, democratic candidate for justice of the peace, drove over to Weston to attend the political rally. Everything went well until they returned home and Mr. Nye had alighted from the rig. Mr. Mansfield started to drive across a ditch and when the wheels struck the bank the coupling broke and let the front wheels pull from under the rig. Mr. Mansfield fell on his shoulder with the above results. Dr. Smith was called and set the dislocated member.

Old Worlds and New Ones.

We must look to the solar system for examples of stars in the last stage of development. Each of the planets may in fact be regarded as an object of this kind. The bare and rocky surface of the moon affords a desolate picture of what may result from the long continued process of condensation. The volcanic region gives no evidence of the existence of life—in fact, the spectroscopic indicates that if there is any air on the moon it is much too rare to support life as we know it.

Fortunately the moon is not the only example of a worn-out star. The earth, which probably has many counterparts in the universe, is another example of a less desolate kind. Here, though the process of condensation which is the chief cause of celestial phenomena has ceased, the problem of evolution has not ended. In fact, though the cosmical problems which we have considered in their barest elements will not be completely solved for centuries, it may be truly said that the questions raised by the countless living organisms in a single drop of ditch water are still more complex and will require a still longer time for their solution.—Popular Science Monthly.

A Pedestrian Feat.

If you desire to travel on foot through two kingdoms, two duchies and three principalities in the short space of five hours and ten minutes, you have no need to transplant yourself to fairyland or put on a pair of seven league boots. The feat can be accomplished in the fatherland without any great exertion. You select as your starting point the village of Stelnbach, in the Bavarian district of Oberfranken, a station on the Gera-Saalfeld-Lichtenfels railway. From here you proceed in half an hour to Lichtenhanne (Saxe-Melning), and an hour and a half later you arrive at Reuschengesess (Reuss o. L.). The next halting place, Gleimaa (Schwarzburg Rudolstadt) can be reached in ten minutes, and half an hour's walk takes you to Altengess (Reuss y. L.). From here you march on to Drognitz (Prussia) in an hour and a half, and in an equal space of time you reach the final stage of your journey, Saalthal (Saxe-Altenbourg).

An Editor's Advice to Young Writers

Editors are just as likely to be affected by appearances as other people are. They try to be impartial. But they are only human. Strive as they may to live up to the conception that some of you have of them as superior beings who are above the influences that sway ordinary mortals, they cannot always avoid being pleasantly impressed by an attractive looking manuscript. Its literary merit may in reality be no greater than that of the poorly prepared manuscript lying alongside of it. But its more presentable appearance may bring out its good qualities so much more effectively as to make it seem to the editor to be decidedly the better piece of writing, and thus lead to its acceptance in preference to the other.—Franklin B. Wiley in Ladies' Home Journal.

Said the late Henry Ward Beecher, and our grocery and bakery is as clean in all departments as it is possible to make it.

The strawberry season is here, and we have taken special precautions to keep our berries clean and in proper condition. We keep them under cover, where they are free from flies and have not been in the fingers of Indians and handled over by them.
