CURRENT POLITICAL DISCUSSION.

The Questions at Issue Before the People of Oregon Today.

CHAMBERLAIN IN HEPPNER

ONE OF THE GREATEST CROWDS EVER GATHERED

Great Street Parade With Plenty of Red Fire and Lots of Enthusiasm; Many Were Turned away from the Meeting, not Being Able to Get in Building.

Heppner, May 26.—When George E. Chamberlain, candidate for governor, Walter M. Pierce and other candidates arrived in Heppner last Saturday evening, the streets were thronged with one of the biggest crowds ever gathered together in the city. The demonstration was truly loyal. In the evening, headed by the band, an immense procession, lighted by Roman candles and red fire, paraded the streets. When the hour for speaking arrived the opera house, with seating capacity of over 700, was jammed to the doors, and over 400 hundred voters had gathered who could not get in.

Those who could not get in were organized into an overflow meeting on the street and addressed by Prof. Wann, candidate for superintendent of public instruction, Walter M. Pierce, candidate for joint senator, and Henry Blackburn, candidate for state treasurer, while the candidate for governor was addressing the immense crowd in the opera house. When Mr. Chamberlain concluded his speech in the opera house, he addressed the open air meeting, while those who had spoken in the open air made other speeches to the crowd in the house.

No such ovation as this given Mr. Chamberlain was ever given any other candidate in Heppner. It is almost unanimously conceded that Mr. Chamberlain will have a nice majority in Morrow county.

RALEY'S CANDIDACY.

The Newspapers Have a Good Word to Say of the Pendleton Man.

The Journal has great pleasure in commending the state democratic convention for placing in nomination Col. James H. Raley, of Pendleton, for the office of attorney-general. It was a selection that will be endorsed by the people of the state.

Col. Raley has been prominent among the pioneer citizens of Oregon. He has been a sturdy worker for the development of the resources of that empire that constitutes more than half of the state, and that pours its wealth through the chief commercial mart of the Northwest—Portland. He has worked as a common toiler, served as a legislator, has conducted important business institutions, and has gained eminence in the practice of law. He is today as highly honored as any citizen in the eastern half of the state, with a reputation and character in western Oregon that assure him the support of the people at the coming election.

While political conventions make so wise nominations the Journal has no hesitancy in commending their course. And the Journal believes that the people of the state will recognize the fitness of the man from Umatilla county for the office of attorney general, and elect him to that office. If they do this, with George E. Chamberlain in the office of governor, and the other excellent gentlemen in the other state positions, then will the affairs of the state be in good hands, and government administered in a manner to forward the interests of the people who bear the burdens of taxation.—Portland Journal.

J. H. Raley is one candidate who reposes in the satisfaction of knowing that he has with him the entire party vote, and that he will receive support liberally from the opposite party. His knowledge of law in connection with his experience in legislative assemblies, gives him a prestige in his campaign for the office of attorney general.—Athena Press.

T. D. TAYLOR.

Candidate for Sheriff for Umatilla County.

In the excitement and interest incident to the gubernatorial contest, we should not lose sight of the fact that county affairs also demand our attention.

The candidate for official position who is best qualified to fill the same—other things being equal—is entitled to recognition and should receive the support of all voters who believe that public office is a public trust and are desirous of the best service possible to obtain.

In this connection, permit me to call the voters' attention to T. D. Taylor, candidate for sheriff for Umatilla county. Mr. Taylor is a native Oregonian, a son of the Golden West. Born in the Willamette valley 35 years ago; a resident of Umatilla county for 33 years. He was reared on a ranch. After graduating at the Portland Business College, he chose a business career and, as book-keeper and salesman, was, for a number of years, connected with the C. A. Barrett Hardware Company, of Athena, and also with W. D. Hansford, of Pendleton, during which time by his kind and courteous bearing and accommodating manner, he made many warm friends.

Mr. Taylor at present is serving his second term as deputy under Sheriff Blakley, and, on assuming the more responsible position of sheriff, would be well equipped with all necessary knowledge and information pertaining to the office; thus enabling him from the very first to transact official business satisfactorily to everyone.

Mr. Taylor is fully qualified in every respect to fill the position. His ability, honesty, industry and efficiency are unquestioned, therefore, voters, regardless of party affiliations will make no mistake by voting for T. D. Taylor for sheriff.

Political Notes.

Baker county is conceded to the democrats by from 500 to 600 majority.

Mr. Scriber, who recently knifed J. M. Church two years ago, will lose Union county by 500 or 600, and Walter M. Pierce will be the joint senator; both representatives will be democrats, says the Chronicle.

The federation of trades unions in Multnomah county had endorsed Mr. Chamberlain for governor, and added that a large majority of the mining men of Eastern Oregon would stand by his ticket.

The homeliest man in Pendleton, as well as the handsomest, and others, are invited to call on any druggist and get free a trial bottle of Kemp's Balsam for the throat and lungs, a remedy that is guaranteed to cure and relieve all chronic and acute coughs, asthma, bronchitis and consumption. Price 25c and 50c. For sale by Tallman & Co., sole agents.
