ACADEMY CLOSED

PENDLETON INSTITUTION'S TERM ENDED THURSDAY

The Closing Exercises Were Held in Frazer's Opera House and the Sweet Girl Graduates Delivered Their Final Essays to a Full House.

Good delivery, brevity and striking points well made characterized the essays given by the young ladies who graduated from Pendleton Academy, in their closing exercises in Frazer's opera house Thursday evening.

The proscenium was draped with bunting and the stage nicely decorated with flowers and potted plants while rustic seats provided for the graduates gave a comfortable and homelike air to the platform.

The house was filled and the audience listened to the various numbers of the evening with marked attention and evident appreciation.

The evening was opened with prayer by Rev. J. R. Diven. The first essayist was Miss Della Beagle, who in "The Drift of the Ages," traced through the centuries of the past the steady growth of this old world of ours toward a full appreciation of the great principles of Christianity, liberty and equal rights of the sexes.

Miss Theresa Porter, in her essay, "The Golden Mean," showed how the best things of this life and that beyond the grave are obtained not by over-work, excessive hustle and bustle, and radicalism, nor by backwardness, indolence or negligence, but by the golden mean of duty well done.

In "The Beauty of the Classics," Miss Ruby Whitmore told of the beauties of some of the classic masterpieces of prose and poetry, giving a number of choice selections to illustrate her points.

Miss Myrtle Hawks, the class prophet, put on her magical glasses and looked forward through the veil of mystery to predict most amusingly the lives and futures lying ahead of her classmates and herself, after which Lot Livermore, president of the board of trustees of the Academy, made a brief address impressing upon the young ladies the importance of the development of character as they pass through life. At the close of his address he presented the diplomas.

Professor F. L. Forbes of the Academy, then called the members of the business class, who were graduating at the same time, upon the stage and presented their diplomas.

During the evening pleasing vocal selections were rendered by Mrs. J. A. Borie and Professor Pond.

CONVENTION AT WALLA WALLA

Republicans Called to Meet and Nominate County Ticket.

Walla Walla, May 30.—Chairman J. B. Wilson, of the republican central committee, has called the committee to meet in this city June 7, to fix the date for the county convention and take up such other matters as may be deemed necessary. The convention will likely be called for some time in August, but plans for the campaign will be formulated and preparations made for active work between this time and the county gathering. Interest will center in the positions on the legislative ticket, on account of the senatorial question entering so fully into politics in this county.

At bedtime take a pleasant herb drink, the next morning I feel bright and my complexion is better. My doctor says that it acts gently on the stomach, liver and kidneys and is a pleasant laxative. It is made from herbs, and is prepared as easily as tea. It is called Lane's Medicine. Lane's Family Medicine moves the bowels each day. Price 25c and 50c. For sale by Tallman & Co., sole agents.

The proposed amendment to the Constitution is near the bottom of the ballot. Mark "X" in the line between No. 80 and the word yes if you vote for it.
