GENERAL NEWS.

At Amsterdam since the news was received that peace had been concluded in South Africa, Mr. Kruger has declined to receive visitors or express an opinion on the subject.

The cable between Hong Kong and Manila is interrupted. Telegraph communication with the Philippine Islands, therefore, is stopped. Frequent steamers from Chinese ports will carry telegrams.

Justice Scott, in the criminal branch of the supreme court, has set September 22 as the date for the beginning of the second trial of Roland B. Molineux, accused of the murder of Mrs. Kate B. Adams.

In passing on the case of the Hanover National Bank, New York, vs. Max Moyses, the United States supreme court in an opinion delivered by Chief Justice Fuller Monday, decided the national bankruptcy law to be constitutional.

Mrs. Carrie Nation walked from the Shawnee county jail Monday a free woman. Governor Stanley, of Kansas, has issued her a full pardon, also remitting the $100 fine. Mrs. Nation was imprisoned May 16 on the proven charge of smashing stored saloon fixtures. She was to have served 30 days and the $100 fine at $1 per day.

The dead body of a man was found floating in the Columbia river, near White Bluffs, May 25, by Charles McLaughlin, a farmer living near the place. There was no indication of foul play. The head of the man was badly bruised, indicating that he had fallen a distance and struck some hard object. He was well dressed, having on all his clothing, but the hat was gone. On the body was found an unfinished letter on a Scandinavian, Spokane house letter head, and a check for $300, made payable to John Peterson. It is the supposition that the man fell from a Great Northern train as it was crossing the Columbia river near Wenatchee.

PACIFIC NORTHWEST NEWS.

The state of Washington has contributed $644.74 to the McKinley memorial fund, according to a letter received by Governor McBride from Myron T. Herrick, treasurer of the McKinley National Memorial Association. Of this amount, $31.74 passed through the governor's hands.

From the result of what was apparently a trivial puncture of his sole of his right foot with a nail, forcing its way through his shoe, George W. Pettit, 35 years old, a teacher in the Adventist school at Montavilla, lies at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Downs, of St. Johns, critically ill with lockjaw or tetanus.

Fire in a box car on the Southern Pacific track at Oregon City Sunday night, caused the destruction of the woodwork of the car and most of its contents, which consisted of the household effects of G. Voorhies, of Portland, which were being shipped to Medford. Besides the household furniture there were two horses in the car. Both animals were saved, though one was badly burned on the back. The blaze was probably caused by spontaneous combustion.

Died of Alcoholism.

Walla Walla, June 3.—Frank Cassidy, a stranger, died here last night of alcoholism, after being locked up in the city jail as a drunk. Nothing is known of the deceased.

AT WALLA WALLA

WHAT IS GOING ON AT THE STATE LINE CITY.

Inquest Over Man Who Died While on a Spree—Berkely Crosses Bats With Walla Walla—Barbed Wire Telephones Are Working.

Walla Walla, June 4.—A coroner's inquest was held yesterday afternoon over the body of Frank Cassidy, the stranger found dead in the city jail after being locked up drunk. The facts of a spree, a drunken stupor, and the finding of the man by the police were all that could be learned by the officers. The man was good looking, young and apparently well-raised. On his person was found a letter from which identification was secured and friends communicated with. The body has been sent to St. Louis for burial.

This afternoon the local grounds are being occupied by Berkely, Cal., and the Walla Walla teams, in a game which has aroused more interest than any played here this season. Nearly all the business houses are closed and every effort has been made to give the visitors a royal reception. The game promises to be interesting and hotly contested from the start.

Fifteen miles of barb wire telephone line with a number of talking machines connected, is a new enterprise in this section, whereby farmers are given the benefits of city life with none of its expense and inconvenience. The line connects with this city the farms of A. G. Cornwell, O. T. Cornwell, Emmett Evans, Frank Smith and J. G. Thomas. The cost of the line is estimated at $300. Connection has been made with the central exchange in this city.

STUDIED HIMSELF CRAZY.

Student at Whitman College Overworked His Brain With Fatal Results.

Because he studied too hard, Wilfred Enoch, at one time a student of Whitman college, at Walla Walla, died a raving maniac in Portland last Saturday. Enoch was only slightly known here, but he had some warm friends. His home was at Corbett, Wash., and the body was shipped back to that place for interment.

Young Enoch was of a religious nature and it was his overwhelming desire to become a missionary and carry the light of Christianity to the heathen of foreign lands that led to his death. He attempted to crowd himself in school and it is said that he was an apt student and undertook to master the studies that should have taken him three years, in one, and the result was that his brain gave way and he became a raving maniac several months ago. He was then placed under the care of the most skilled physicians in Portland, in the hopes of saving his reason and curing him, but it proved of no avail and he passed away Saturday after suffering the most horrible agony imaginable. He was 17 years of age.

MILTON DOINGS.

Quite a Boom is On in Real Estate at That Place.

Milton, June 3.—Milton polled quite a heavy vote yesterday, and while there was a good deal of interest manifested there was no disorder.

James A. Tate, of Nashville, Tenn., closed the campaign for the prohibitionists by an address in the Christian church Sunday. Mr. Tate spoke for over an hour to a large audience, on the question of right and wrong as applied to politics.

Milton is having quite a boom in real estate lately. W. R. Anderson bought of Dan McEachern, of Walla Walla, two lots on upper Main street, paying $450 for them. He has let the contract for a $1100 cottage to be built on them.

Mr. Anderson has also bought the draying business of J. L. Vinson for $650. Mr. Vinson not being able to attend to the business while he is holding the office of marshal.

C. J. Moss has sold his 80-acre farm lying just north of the Odd Fellows' cemetery to J. A. Anderson, for Beside the neighbors a number of the friends of the stricken family from north of Pendleton were present.

Don't Use Too Many Words.

Multiplication of words increases the expense and decreases the effectiveness of advertising. Say what you have to say in as few words as it can be said—then stop. By so doing you can set what you want to say in larger type, so that it will command the attention of more readers than would a wordy discourse set in small type.

FOR HORSE STEALING.

Tim Townsend Will Be Tried on Wednesday at Canyon City.

On Wednesday next Tim Townsend, arrested some time since on a charge of rustling horses in Grant county, will be placed on trial at Canyon City. Townsend was well known here and considerable interest attaches to his trial, as he is accused of extensive depredations in the stock country tributary to this city.

He was arrested shortly after Christmas on Camas prairie, where he had run, so it was alleged, a bunch of horses off the Gilliam range. So intense was the feeling against him among stockmen that when he was being taken through Southern Camas on the way to Hardiman to get evidence, it was reported here that the stockmen of the Ukiah country had wrested him from the officers and lynched him. Townsend was finally lodged in jail at Canyon City after numerous threats and some demonstrations by the rustler-cursed stockmen of the John Day. Subsequently Grant county officers went to La Grande and recovered a number of horses which had been rustled from this county and run to Union county for sale. All the stolen bands except two or three were recovered.

Taxpayers Kicking.

Walla Walla taxpayers are becoming worked up over the heavy expenditures of the county funds by the commissioners of that county and will shortly make a thorough investigation of the manner in which the revenues of the county have been expended. The books of the county auditor are being inspected and at the next meeting of the Taxpayers' League a full report will be made upon them.

The ancient historians say that over 1000 miles of the lower Nile were protected by artificial embankments and other works of engineering skill.
