BASEBALL THIS AFTERNOON.

Dayton Dusters and the Indians on Warpath at Alta Street Ground.

The Pendleton Indians are crossing bats with the Dayton Dusters this afternoon at the Alta street grounds, and the redskins are confident that they will lift the scalps of the Washington ball tossers.

The Dayton team has been greatly strengthened within the past few weeks and is accounted as one of the strongest teams in the lower part of Washington state. They have with them their pet twirler, McGucken, and if his curves are as hard to handle as his name they will certainly make things lively for the local boys.

Following is the line up and batting order of the teams:

Dayton—Edwards, c.; Thompson, 2b.; Arenson, ss; Phillips, rf; Eagan, 3b.; Porter, lf.; Nickersham, cf.; McGucken, p.; Bigelow, 1b. This line-up will be practically the same on Saturday and Sunday.

Pendleton—Brown, c.; Ziegler, 2d or 3b.; Fay, s. s.; Knox, c. f.; Clemens, lf.; Stovall, 1b.; Schmidt, 3b or 2b.; Wilner, r. f.; Taylor, p. On Sunday the new pitcher, Hayes, will be tried against the Dayton boys.

The University of California boys are the next ball players to appear here, playing two games on the Alta street grounds, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 10 and 11.

The Stanford University ball team will play here July 18, 19 and 20, and the Portland Monograms, one of the strongest teams on the coast, will be seen here July 19 and 11.

C. A. Maskrey is umpiring this afternoon's game.

William Sturgis is visiting friends in Walla Walla.

County Commissioner Thomas Gilman is in town from Ukiah.

E. W. Nichols and wife, of Walla Walla, are registered at Hotel Pendleton.

James A. Howard left on Thursday evening's train for Baker City on business.

A. B. Niles and E. E. Smith, prominent business men of Walla Walla, are at the Golden Rule hotel.

Geo. E. Fell is suffering from the effects of a bad burn on the right fingers caused by spilling oil of vitriol on them.

Robert Watt, of Alba, is in town. Mr. Watt says that the roads between here and the little mountain village are quite good.

Mrs. E. Martin, of Cottage Grove, was the guest of Mrs. R. A. Copple on west Alta street, Thursday night, on her way to Lewiston to visit a sister.

J. H. Nolf, Fred Nolf, W. O. Hamisch and Elvin Lampkin returned Thursday from their homesteads on Starkey prairie. They say it is like winter out there.

Mrs. A. A. Copple left this morning for Hood River where she will visit Mr. Copple's relatives and from there will go to Portland and spend several days with her relatives.

Mrs. Hilda Hamblin left this morning for Colfax, Wash., where she goes in the interest of the Royal Neighbors' lodge. From Colfax she will visit several Idaho towns.

Charles French, who has been mail clerk on the O. R. & N. for the past several months, is back in Pendleton shaking hands with his friends. He is taking a few weeks' lay off.

E. L. Davidson, a druggist of Portland, has taken a position at Koepfen's Drug Store. Mr. Davidson arrived Wednesday evening and expects to move his family in about a month.

A. J. Dillon is in town from Echo. Mr. Dillon is feeling jubilant over the result of the election and is good-naturedly telling his friends, who lost on the other side, "I told you so."

C. J. Freese, circulation manager of the Spokesman-Review, and Colin V. Dymont, traveling correspondent, came over from Walla Walla Thursday night and remained over night in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Morgan are in town visiting old friends. They were residents of Pendleton several years where Mr. Morgan was marshal, but for some time they have resided in Portland.

J. V. Tallman and wife and sister, Miss Mollie Tallman, left Thursday for the coast to spend several days visiting and sight-seeing. They went to The Dalles and there took the boat to Portland.

The Dalles Chronicle: J. V. Tallman, Pendleton's leading druggist, with Mrs. Tallman and Miss Mollie Tallman, arrived on the afternoon train and will leave on the boat in the morning for Portland.

Mrs. Geo. Simpson and daughter, Grace, arrived in town this morning from Olympia and will spend a few weeks as the guest of her brother, John Benson, a farmer living near here. Mrs. Simpson is an old friend of Mrs. Pearl McDuff.

Mrs. J. H. Ross, mother of Mrs. C. F. Kennedy, arrived in Pendleton Thursday night from Cove on her way to their recently purchased stock ranch on Camas Prairie. Mrs. Ross will remain here several days before going on to her destination.

C. N. Pierce, brother of W. M. Pierce, of this city, and formerly cashier of the Western Bank, was in the city today. He has but recently returned from Southern California where he had been for the past year for his health, and says he is much improved as a result of his sojourn in the sunny south.

Wallie Ashpach, who was prominent in Pendleton 10 years or more ago, as a brick mason, is prosperous in Newport, Wash., where he owns a valuable cement quarry and where an English company has entered into a contract with him for the raw material for the manufacture of cement on a large scale.

E. W. McComas returned this morning from Portland, where he had been on business. Mr. McComas said that the greatest excitement prevailed in Portland all the forenoon Thursday over the closeness of the two candidates for governor, and that money was bet during the day on the general results and ultimate outcome.

E. L. Davidson, of Portland, has taken a position with A. C. Koepfen & Bros., the druggists. Ula Slate has resigned his position with the above firm and is going East on a business trip in the near future. Mr. Davidson comes highly recommended as a druggist and chemist. Until he accepted the position with A. C. Koepfen & Bros. he was employed by Skidmore & Co., of Portland.

R. N. O'Hara, district supervisor of the Seattle agency of the Scranton Institute Correspondence schools, is in town to establish a permanent headquarters for the school in the territory, consisting of Grant, Umatilla and Morrow counties. W. T. Knox and C. E. Ives will have charge of this territory. Already the Scranton schools have several students in Pendleton and many are familiar with its work.

David Aspauch, who has been visiting his children since January, at their homes in this county, is in Pendleton today and will leave this evening for Arlington, where he will visit for the next two months. From there he will go to Portland, which he now calls his home. Mr. Aspauch was for years a resident of Umatilla county, being a very successful farmer.

TO OBSERVE MEMORIAL.

Woodmen of the World and Women of Woodcraft Will Hold Annual Services Sunday.

Joint memorial services will be held by the Woodmen of the World and Women of Woodcraft at the Olney cemetery Sunday afternoon. This is the time for the annual memorial services and unveiling of the monuments of deceased members.

The Woodmen have no monuments to unveil, but the Women of Woodcraft have two. These are Mrs. Belle Bishop's and Mrs. D. B. Watson's, deceased members of the ladies' lodge.

It has not yet been settled who will deliver the memorial address at the graves, but it is expected that Hon. S. A. Lowell will do this. A meeting will be held tonight to determine as to this and other details for the services.

The members of both orders are to meet Sunday at 1:30 p. m. at Secret Society hall, where they will form in line and march to the cemetery, where flowers will be placed on the graves of all the deceased members of the two orders buried there. The beautiful ritualistic services will be conducted by the officers of the lodge at the unveiling.
