GRAIN CASE STILL ON.

Walker vs. Northwestern Warehouse Company Occupies the Court.

The case of J. M. Walker against the Northwestern Warehouse Company is still occupying the attention of the court. This case came up Thursday morning and the complaint occupied all day yesterday and a part of today with its testimony and the case will not go to the jury before late this evening, and perhaps tomorrow. This is a case which grew out of the famous Athena Flouring Mill cases, which have been brought against the corporation for grains stored in the warehouse of the company and was sold and shipped out without the consent of the owners and without the owners getting any pay for their grain. There are several other cases to come before the court at this term involving the defunct flouring mill company, and it is understood that they will be heard as soon as the present case is disposed of.

HOG CHOLERA.

Said to Have Made Its Appearance on Birch Creek.

Dr. J. Christie, veterinarian, gives the information to an East Oregonian reporter that hog cholera, or swine plague, has again broken out in the county. The latest cases, according to the doctor, are from the farm of Dean Tatom, on Birch Creek. He reports that Mr. Tatom has about 30 head which are affected but the disease is in a mild form so far and few fatalities have resulted to date, but it is only a question of time until they will begin to die and unless some kind providence intervenes Mr. Tatom will be short many head before long. The doctor also stated that John Crow, a farmer living south of here, had the disease on his place and several others in the county are effected.

It will be remembered that many hogs in and around Pendleton died last winter from some disease which was pronounced hog cholera by some and swine plague by others, and for several weeks considerable alarm reigned among the hog raisers. The state veterinarian came up from Portland and examined several cases and pronounced the disease swine plague and said that it would die out with proper sanitary conditions, but quite a few hogs died thereafter. Then it somewhat died out and nothing was heard regarding it until recently, when it has again broken loose and Dr. Christie predicts another epidemic.

GLANDERS NEAR ATHENA.

Dr. Christie Reports That Several Cases Have Appeared.

Several cases of glandered horses are reported from north of Athena, and Dr. Christie, who was out in that neighborhood a few days ago, says John Hagen killed two recently by his orders and Isaac Hagen has an animal or two sick with this disease, while a man named Rhodie, in the same neighborhood, had several head that were effected.

Glanders is one of the most fatal diseases that can attack horses and when it once gets a foothold it is almost impossible to stamp it out, for it is incurable. This is a disease which attacks the salivary glands and causes their enlargement and a constant discharge of matter from the nose. It is highly contagious and is not entirely confined to horses, as it sometimes attacks dogs, goats, sheep and in a few instances has attacked human beings.

Best Butter Made.

Charles McReynolds, of Ukiah, was in the city yesterday with a load of his famous creamery butter, which is pronounced by those who have tried it, to be the finest butter made. Mr. McReynolds has arranged to have the superior product of his creamery on sale in all the leading groceries of Pendleton. DeMott & Co. have been secured as distributors and will keep a fresh supply on hand at all times, so that purchasers of McReynolds' butter will never get a rancid article. Mr. McReynolds started the first creamery at Camas Prairie and has been manufacturing butter there for the past 30 years.

FRANCHISE TALK

PROMOTERS OF ELECTRIC LINE IN THE CITY.

Outlines the Propositions Which They Are Making in Asking Their Franchises.

Frank B. Romo, one of the promoters of the proposed electric railway from Pendleton to Dayton, is in town and this afternoon had a conference with County Commissioners Walker and Gilliland in regard to getting a 50-year franchise for that proposed road.

Mr. Romo was represented by Attorney A. D. Stillman and the interests of the county were represented by District Attorney T. G. Halley. County Judge Hartman was not present and the commissioners decided to take no action on the matter until he was present.

The franchise through the county for an electric railway has been the subject of discussion for several weeks as the idea was started several weeks ago by Messrs. Romo and Mellmann, of California, and since that time they have secured franchises for Columbia, and Walla Walla counties and the franchise for the city of Walla Walla has been discussed in the council and passed upon favorably, but is not entirely settled.

The granting of these franchises carries along with them certain conditions and agreements from the promoters of the enterprise to protect the county from any loss or injury from their road. Now they come before the authorities of Umatilla county and ask that they be given a 50-year franchise to run through the county from the east line to Pendleton along the county road.

The question that exercised the officials at first was whether or not the running of a car line along the county road would be a detriment to the traveling public. Also, they were not satisfied as to whether they were at liberty to grant such a franchise, but since looking into the matter thoroughly it has been found that the company can take a right of way through the county and build its road anyway, but they prefer to have the consent of the officials and then there will be no ill feeling or jar between the people and the company.

For the privilege of running their road through the county the promoters offer very liberal terms. They want to follow the county road and take a part of the already fenced road where it goes through levels where the full 45 feet is given to the road and where the roadway crosses ravines and climbs hills and is not wide enough to allow the electric road and a wagon road in the grade, the company will make their roadbed and leave a wagon road as good as at present. They will also enter an agreement and put up a reasonable bond to secure the county against any damages that might arise to the county or individuals from the operation of the road. A bond will be put up with the county that work will be started upon the road within six months from the time of the granting of the franchise and that it will be in operation within two years. This forfeit will fall to the county and the franchise be void unless this is done.

The company further agrees to furnish lights for the county court house and hospital free of charge during the life of their franchise. This item will save the county in the neighborhood of $25,000, as it now costs the county almost $500 per year for lights alone.

While the commissioners have not yet taken definite action on the franchise, they are favorable to the proposition, believing that it is better to grant the franchise and have a binding contract with the promoters that will protect the interests of the county, and its people, rather than have them build the road independently of the action of the officials and have no agreement whatever to protect the people.

PERSONAL MENTION.

J. A. Henry is in town from Athena. Dr. W. G. Cole left this morning for Portland.

County Judge G. A. Hartman left this morning for Portland.

Al Vaughn and A. H. Huntington are in town from Baker City.

Henry Blackman, the late democratic candidate for state treasurer, is at Hotel Pendleton.

Miss Cozbie Raley returned Thursday evening from her extended sojourn in sunny California.

Mrs. W. C. Wheeler has returned from Weston, where she attended the graduating exercises of the state normal.

J. W. Maloney left this morning for Goldendale, where he has disposed of some land and goes to settle up the deal.

C. A. Barrett, the hardware man, and Jack Swart, both of Athena, have returned home after attending court in Pendleton.

Attorney Will M. Peterson, who attended the first few days of the present term of the district court, left for his home in Athena Thursday evening.

Judge Stephen A. Lowell was asked to deliver an Independence Day oration at Baker City, but declined on account of being engaged otherwise.

Cecil Wade is at home from Whitman college where he attended school during the past year. He has one more year in college before graduating.

W. F. Butcher, of Baker City, was defeated as a democratic candidate for congress, but elected grand master of the Oregon Masons, which is a position of at least equal honor.

Fred Kershaw, operator for the W. & C. R. Railroad Company, at Athena, left for home Thursday evening, after spending a few days here as a witness in the Walker vs. Northwestern Warehouse Company case, now before the court.

Mrs. C. S. Wheeler returned last evening from Weston, where she attended the commencement exercises of the normal school. In the class of graduates were Misses Maud and Edna Swaggert, of Heppner, who are nieces of Mrs. Wheeler.

J. E. Ferguson has returned from Hot Lake and shows little sign of injury from falling into the boiling water of the lake, as reported a few days ago. At least few blisters yet remain in sight on "Fergy" and his friends are pleased to see him back, where they can care for him.

The Washington & Oregon Electric Railway, Light and Power Company, has appointed A. D. Stillman as their attorney to transact their business in the state of Oregon. This is the company headed by Frank B. Romo and H. Mellmann and the intention is to build and operate an electric railway from Pendleton to Dayton.

M. B. Keys has returned from several days' sojourn at Lehman Springs. Mr. Keys went up with John Endicott, who is running the springs this season, and was at the opening dance Tuesday night. He says 15 people are at the springs now and the indications are that many more will be there in a few days. "The weather is good and everything is lovely there, while fishing is out of sight," says Mr. Keys, "and the follower of Ike Walton can get his fill of catching the speckled beauties."

Mrs. W. F. Matlock has received a letter from Senator Matlock, who is in Alaska, stating that he had sold some of his interests in the north and leased other interests. The letter stated that he did not know when he would return to Pendleton, but it would be several weeks for it would take him some time to wind up his business affairs.

Colonel Lee Thompson, of Goldendale, Wash., is guest of the Golden Rule hotel in Pendleton, arriving Thursday afternoon. Colonel Thompson has a number of friends in Pendleton, among them Colonel E. D. Boyd, whom he knew in the "days of reconstruction" in Arkansas, both of them taking prominent parts in politics in that state in the "dark days" following the war. Colonel Thompson will start on his return to his home at Goldendale today or tomorrow. He says Goldendale, which is a prosperous town 10 miles back from the Columbia river on the Washington side, opposite Grants, on the Oregon side, will soon have a rail road, which will start at a point on the north side of the Columbia, several miles below Grants, near Grand Dalles.
