THE PENDLETON ACADEMY

BOARD OF TRUSTEES MET FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

Selected Professor Forbes to Retain the Principalship and Made a Number of Changes in the Management of the School.

The board of trustees of the Pendleton Academy held their annual meeting in the Commercial Club rooms Friday afternoon and transacted the business coming before them in connection with the school. Those present were President Lot Livermore, C. S. Jackson, F. L. Forbes, Rev. R. J. Diven and James Crawford—all of Pendleton. Those of the board not present were James A. Fee, Pendleton; Dr. W. S. Holt, of Portland; Dr. E. P. Hill, of Portland, and Judge Robert Eakin, of Union. Rev. W. H. Bleakney, of Elgin, was also present at the meeting, but not a member of the board.

Four members of the board whose terms expired were re-elected. C. S. Jackson and Judge Robert Eakin for terms expiring in 1904 and Lot Livermore and James A. Fee for terms expiring in 1905.

Some routine business was gone over and the reports of Professor F. L. Forbes, who has been at the head of the institution for the past six years, was made for the past year. This report showed the enrollment of the institution to have been 217 and 89 of these were in the academic department, while 128 were in the lower grades. The net income of the institution from tuition was $33,660.25, and in addition to this the Chicago Board of Aid of the Presbyterian church donated $1000. The whole amount was used in the running of the school during the year. The local board will make application for $1200 for the coming term.

One important action taken by the board was the placing of the school on a new running basis for the future. In the past it has been run entirely by the principal. The institution has been small up to the past few years and it was "farmed" out to the principal so that he took all chances of making its expenses and his own living and the board had nothing to do with it. The principal would be selected and placed at the head of the institution and he would take all the responsibility of hiring teachers and paying them, but in the future this will not be the case. The institution has reached such a footing financially that there is no more any risks and some of the responsibility has been taken on the shoulders of the trustees. Hereafter all the funds will go through the hands of the trustees and the treasurer will pay all bills. A definite salary will also be paid to the principal as well as the teachers. Measures have also been taken to place the institution on a better financial condition than ever before and the next and succeeding years are expected to be seasons of prosperity and growth.

Professor Forbes was again selected to take the place at the head of the school and although he protested at first and was inclined to resign, it was the unanimous desire of the board to retain him and he reluctantly consented. This speaks volumes of praise for Professor Forbes, as he has filled the same responsible position for six years. He took the school when it only had 40 scholars and has built it up until today it is recognized as one of the leading educational institutions in Eastern Oregon. The rest of the faculty will depend largely on the recommendation of the principal, but the board will confirm his appointments. These have not been made.

Excellent good spirit prevailed among the board and they are determined to help the school to grow and their earnestness and determination will go a long way toward making it much more prosperous and filling it with more students next year than it had last.

The academy board and Professor Forbes, as well as all interested in the school, are anxiously awaiting to hear from the Chicago Board of Aid, which will meet the 17th instant to see what action will be taken toward a donation for the new academy building. If satisfactory results come from there the work will soon commence on the new building.

Cuticura SOAP

For Sanative Uses.

Its remarkable, emollient, cleansing, and purifying properties, derived from CUTICURA, the great skin cure, warrant the use of CUTICURA SOAP, in the form of baths for soothing irritating, inflammations, and chafings, for too free or offensive perspiration, and also in the form of internal washes and solutions for ulcerative weaknesses, and for many sanative, antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves to women, and especially to mothers. The use of CUTICURA Ointment with CUTICURA SOAP will suggest itself in the severer cases.

ATHENA IS NOT AFRAID.

Captain of the Pendleton Team Rushes Into Print.

The Yellow Kids, according to Captain Ziegler, of the Pendleton team, a gentleman who displays an aptitude for rushing into print when not playing ball and who rushes into the diamond when he does play, are afraid to play off the tie with that aggregation. The East Oregonian of Wednesday printed Mr. Ziegler's side of the question, and for the reason that the article pointed sharply to Mr. Osburn, the Yellow Kids' manager, the Press answers; only from the sentiment existing among the citizens, however, Mr. Osburn being absent from town at this writing.

Athena people prefer to see the Yellow Kids play ball with teams that do not rush into the diamond at the umpire when he makes a decision. The supporters and admirers of the Yellow Kids prefer to go to a town where they can witness clean ball and not be subjected to the annoyance of rooting that oversteps the borders of rowdiness, and where they will be accorded the common courtesy due one town from another. In short, so far as the people of Athena are concerned, not even the mascot would accompany the Kids to Pendleton, and should the Pendleton team come here the gate receipts would not be sufficient to pay the visiting team's expenses. In justice, the Press will say that Pendleton has a good team; but as a drawing card with Athena people, it is handicapped by the antics and dirty ball-playing of two or three players, who spoil the game for all concerned.—Athena Press.
