THE KING IS SICK

King's Ruler is Said to Be Seriously Indisposed, Although This is Denied.

POSSIBILITY OF CORONATION BEING POSTPONED.

His Majesty is Much Improved. There is a Possibility of It Being Necessary to Lay Over the Ceremonies Indefinitely.

London, June 16.—While no information has yet been vouchsafed, the king is gaining ground that the illness of the king is of a serious nature. There were several incidents to strengthen this belief. In the first the king did not attend the review of troops at Aldershot. This morning the queen, princess of Wales and Princess Victoria went instead. An air of depression noticeable at the royal pavilion at Aldershot, where the king is housed and where rumors about the place and other signs that the king's illness is apparently more than a temporary position. It is stated that the king suffered great pain yesterday and laudanum was administered to ease it. The doctors are watching him closely with the purpose of diagnosing his disorder. When doctors are satisfied on this point an official announcement may be expected.

A Great Review. More than 30,000 troops participated in the Aldershot review. The evolutions were of the simplest character. The whole force marching before the queen by companies, 50 men each. She had her carriage placed close to the line of march that at times brushed against her as she passed by.

May Postpone It. The possibility of the coronation being postponed is now being discussed and the proprietors of stands worried.

Says Ed is All Right. Applying late this afternoon to a page regarding serious developments in the king's illness, Sir Frank Knollys, his majesty's secretary, said as follows: "The best answer I can give you is that the king goes Windsor this afternoon."

King Goes to Windsor. Aldershot, June 16.—Late this afternoon a public apprehension regarding the king was greatly relieved by an announcement that the king left the royal pavilion for Windsor in an automobile, the queen accompanying him. This was taken to mean that the king took this course to show the people that his indisposition is not serious as reported. The king is scheduled to entertain 100 guests at a banquet at Windsor castle tonight.

CARNEGIE WAS AMUSED.

Visited Wall Street and Was Not Recognized.

Andrew Carnegie is not often a visitor to Wall street, and when he did get down there a few weeks ago he passed unobserved down the famous thoroughfare, right into the hands of a runner for a bucket shop. "Come to put a little money on the edge of the market?" asked the runner. "Sure thing; can't lose. Stocks are going up. I'll show you where I can double your money in half an hour." "Double all I have?" asked Mr. Carnegie, assuming an air of eager solicitude. "How much have you got?" inquired the runner. "Oh, a little less than $175,000,000," replied the canny Scotman simply. "Wh-what?" gasped the man. "But I am trying to get rid of it. I'll double it," went on the iron master. "Why, are you Andrew Carnegie?" asked the runner. "I am," said he, and went on quiet chuckling to himself.

Notice to Water Consumers. All water will be shut off in the city street mains, west of Garden street, tomorrow (Tuesday) morning at 8 o'clock, and it may be off two days. Pipe being laid is the cause of shutting off water. J. T. BROWN, Supt. Water Works.

ARE FIGHTING IN VENEZUELA

REVOLUTIONISTS ENGAGE GOVERNMENT TROOPS.

After a Brief Battle They Were Repulsed, the Only Lives Lost Being Those of Non-Combatants.

Willemstad, Island of Curacao, June 16.—Laguayra, Port of Caracas, Venezuela, was attacked by the Venezuelan revolutionists, Saturday. The government forces answered by bombarding Maiqueta, a suburb of Laguayra.

The only persons killed were a number of peaceful woodmen. After a brief engagement the revolutionists were repulsed. The people of Caracas are panic-stricken, believing the place will be besieged. The situation in Venezuela is serious and a crisis is imminent.

ANOTHER LABOR MOVE.

Teamsters' Union May Refuse to Handle Coal.

Wilkesbarre, June 16.—Jasper Clark, president of the International Teamsters' Union, is here today, conferring with Mitchell. The members of this organization are in hearty accord with the strike. Clark has the power to order the 30,000 members of his organization to refuse to handle hard or soft coal or to strike.

Henry Belts Dead.

Henry Belts, an invalid since February, passed into the great beyond early Sunday morning, of heart trouble. Mr. Belts has been a resident of the Pilot Rock country for several years and was prominent among the citizens of that country. He was a brother of Douglas and Phylander Belts and leaves a wife and five children, the youngest a daughter being born just 24 hours after the death of Mr. Belts. They had moved to town only a few weeks ago, hoping to get near a physician who could do something for Mr. Belts, who was failing very fast, but nothing could be done. He was 50 years of age and a member of the Artisan and Pioneer lodges. The funeral was held this afternoon.

KILLED CHILDREN

INSANE WOMAN MURDERS HER SIX LITTLE ONES.

Mentally Deranged, Mrs. Louise Wistrop, Shot Five of Her Children and Burned the Sixth Alive.

Memphis, June 16.—Mrs. Louise Wistrop, wife of a prominent planter, of Brandywine, Miss., while mentally deranged, killed her six small children Sunday while her husband was at church. Five of the children she shot to death, and the sixth was burned to death in their home, which the woman fired. She has disappeared.

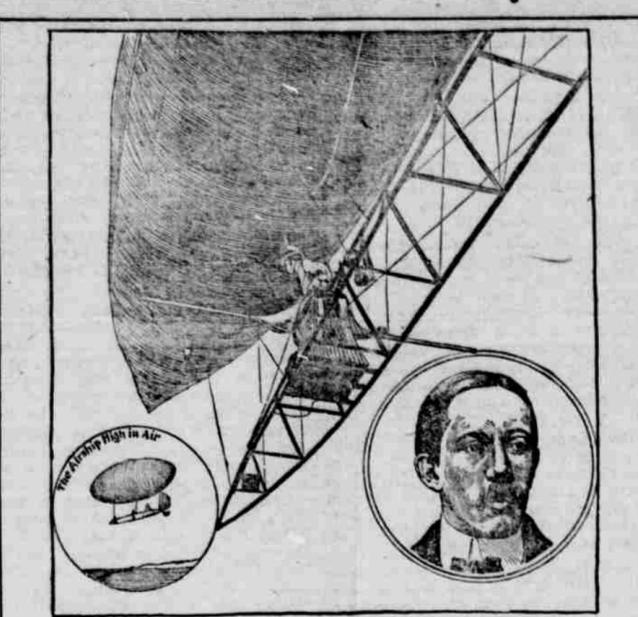

DETAILS OF TRAIN RUN.

Something About the Power Demanded by a Burlington Flyer.

A railroad man with a penchant for figures has just produced some statistics on the Burlington's Chicago Special which are not at all dull. He finds that on the daily 1,046-mile journey of this train from Denver to Chicago via Omaha, the six engines which pull it consume 81,567 pounds of coal, more than forty tons, and 67,250 gallons of water—quite enough to supply the wants of a good sized community.

To prevent hot boxes on the cars as a result of the fast running, 176 pounds of cotton waste and 704 pints of lubricating oil are necessary every day in the year. This means that in the twelve months more than thirty-two tons of waste and over 26,600 gallons of oil are used. The figures given are taken from careful observations on the run of the Special from Denver to Chicago, and are approximately correct for the Chicago-Denver run.

The engines make an ordinary speed of from fifty to sixty miles an hour, while bursts of from sixty-five to seventy miles an hour are every day occurrences. The railroad engineer with the pencil figures that this train expends an energy while running at its usual speed equal to 500-horse power, and at its highest bursts of speed as much as 1000 horse power. If this enormous energy in the flight of the train across the country could be harnessed it would furnish more than enough power to run all the trolley cars in Omaha.

DESPERATE FIGHT AFTER FRANZ JOSEF

GUARDS FLED INTO THE TIMBER AND ARE LOST.

For Some Reason They Deserted the Property Which They Were Guarding and Fled Closely Pursued by the Strikers.

Old Forge, Pa., June 16.—A desperate encounter between a score of deputies employed at Williams, a colliery here, and 200 armed Italian strikers, occurred late last night.

At least 20 shots were fired but, so far as known, no one was hurt. For some unknown reason, the deputies left the colliery, just before midnight, and started for the city. The strikers heard that they had deserted the mine and pursued the guards who took to the woods.

The Italians fired upon them and the guards returned the fire. It is thought all the shots went wide. Citizens go armed today. The colliery is without protection and the whereabouts of the deputies is unknown.

ANARCHISTS HAVE DECLARED THAT HE MUST DIE.

The Emperor, However, Keeps the Police in a Fever of Excitement by Driving Through the Streets in an Open Carriage, Regardless of Assassins' Bullets.

Vienna, June 16.—An anarchist plot to assassinate Emperor Franz Josef has been discovered. A Trieste tailor who was allotted the task, has disappeared. The police are in a fever of apprehension as the emperor disdains to accept close guard and arrives daily to the palace in Vienna in an open carriage.

His majesty passes through crowded streets and is an easy mark for an assassin's bullet. The detective force has been strengthened by 1000 picked men.

Roosevelt at Fair.

Washington, June 16.—The president today promised Senator Quarles that he would attend the La Crosse state fair. The exact date was not fixed.

GOLCONDA'S FAMOUS SHOOT LOCATED IN TUNNEL LEVEL

From the Sumpter American.

From the old prospect tunnel level of the Golconda Mr. Melike has taken a 95 rock at a point further testing his north pitch theory of the big ore shoot. After opening the famous shoot in the winze from the 200-foot level, and noting by the stratification the sharp northerly pitch, work was pushed on both the 300-foot and 500-foot levels. As the space above the second level had been stopped, there was little aid to the engineer in forming estimates of the angle of the pitch. As further assistance, and to derive knowledge of the distance he would have to run before cutting the shoot on the lower levels, he began a thorough examination of the east vein in the old prospector's tunnel, which was about 75 feet on the vein, beginning on the level of the shaft collar.

A cross cut from the tunnel was driven 20 feet, where it crossed a streak eighteen inches wide. The lowest assay from this streak was $95, while the average across it is $500. It is plainly the upper part of the rich shoot, as it corresponds in pitch, character of ore, values, etc. Where cut from the prospector's tunnel, it is near the surface, and therefore is not expected to have such values as were found at the 200-foot level, and are expected lower when the north drift cuts the shoot on the 300-foot level.

The strike reveals that there will be a quantity of the streak to be stopped between the 200-foot level, and the tunnel level, 225 feet higher. A portion was broken down by the former owners, but ore still exists there. It is unlikely that much can be secured between the tunnel level and the surface.

President Robbins and Secretary Howard brought a few hundred pounds of rock from the lowest part of the 200-foot level winze Wednesday and a few pieces of the sulphide from the tunnel strike. The winze ore is the most striking exhibit made in the city, and takes Sumpterites back to the old days when the Messrs. English were starting the west. It is shot with free gold, and affords opportunity for mineralogical study not found in other specimens from the property that first made Eastern Oregon famous.

By the discovery in the prospector's tunnel, the pitch there and the striking of the 200-foot level, with the pitch of the rich shoot there, Mr. Melike is now able to calculate accurately where he will strike the rich shoot in the lower levels. This was the end sought by the exploration work in the tunnel, and has been successful in a remarkable degree.

President Robbins stated that good ore is still in the face of the 500-foot level north drift, although not yet near where the rich shoot would be encountered. Good ore is still had in the 300-foot level, north drift. Every foot of development, under the present scientific plan gives added assurance of the Golconda's future and more than ever before do men of the district feel that it is destined to take its position among the great producers.

Washington, June 16.—The president today nominated Captain Charles Clark, who commanded the Oregon in the Santiago engagement, to be rear-admiral.

Wool Sales.

Today and tomorrow are the days for the wool sales under the auspices of the Eastern Oregon Woolgrowers' Association, and during the forenoon of today something over 100,000 pounds were disposed of by the growers. These were the clips of J. W. Salisbury, C. W. Mathews, M. A. Cole and J. A. Rust. J. W. Brigham, of Boston, bought the Salisbury lot; E. Y. Judd the Mathews and Cole lots, and Charles Green, of San Francisco, the Rust clip. The sales of this afternoon were too late to be recorded.

TO END THE STRIKE

PORTLAND MEETING DISCUSSING THE SITUATION THERE.

Representatives of the Building Trades Strikers and the Mill Men Are in Conference This Afternoon. Portland June 16.—A meeting is in session this afternoon which may eventuate in a settlement of the strike here in which the building trades are concerned.

Johan Poulsen represents the interests of the sawmill owners. Representatives of the Amalgamated Wood workers, the managers of the several planing mills and J. E. Lawton, representing the Building Trades, are present.

CATTLE TO MONTANA.

Many Going From Oregon to That State.

The influx of cattle from Oregon to Montana this season promises to be no small thing, says the Montana Daily Record, of Helena. Yesterday a train load of young stock belonging to M. E. Milner passed through Helena on the way to Malta, while Sunday another train load of young steers belonging to Robert Coburn, passed through bound for the same place. Still another train load is destined for the Malta ranges, and this will go through today. The cattle are owned by Major Cummings and his associates.

M. E. Milner was in Helena yesterday and said that he thought the range in the vicinity of Malta was being overstocked, and he looked to see if fed off soon if such an influx continued. He said that a large number of Texas steers were being brought to the state and put on the Malta range, which were solicited last winter by the agent of the Great Northern Railroad Company.

Between the Milk river and the Canadian line there is a large scope of country which is not overcrowded and the southern cattle should have been put in there, Mr. Milner said.

Free picnic every Sunday at Kine's grove. Dancing begins at 2 o'clock. Music by Kirkmar's orchestra.

CHASE IS AGAIN ON

Tracy and Merrill Crossed the Columbia in a Boat and Are Now in Washington.

THE HELD UP A FARMER THIS MORNING.

Posse Has Now Divided into Two Parties and Are Pressing Hard Upon the Trail of the Fleeing Fugitives.

Portland, June 16.—Tracy and Merrill forced a man to row them across the Columbia river four miles above Vancouver, Saturday afternoon. They are now being pursued by dozens of deputies and detectives from here.

Various reports come to the effect that the convicts have been seen at several points, though there is little credence for any, excepting the statement of the men who took them over the river in a boat. Warden Catron, of Walla Walla penitentiary, refuses to permit the bloodhounds to come again.

Held Up a Farmer.

Advices received here this morning from the Journal's correspondent in the field, states that two men, supposed to be Tracy and Merrill, held up a farmer named Peedey, four and a half miles northeast of Vancouver, near Orchard. They bound him to his bed and then carried away from his house such food as they wanted.

Posse Divided.

Later on word came that the posse was divided into two detachments to miles north from Orchard and follow Tracy and Merrill, now six miles north from Orchard in the woods between the mill plain and Fourth plain roads. Governor McBride, of Washington, has been applied to send bloodhounds.

HEROIC SURGERY.

Revolver in Place of a Scalpel is Used as Cure for Snake Bite.

Miles from any habitation where medical aid could be secured, J. S. McKenzie, of Dayton, a few days ago was bitten by a rattlesnake in the fleshy part of the hand. No other means being available to cut out the poisoned flesh, Mr. McKenzie whipped out a revolver and shot the wounded part of flesh away.

Mr. McKenzie was on the Tucannon just below the Patrick place, and feeling dry went to a spring branch to get a drink of water. He had laid down so he could reach the water, when a rattlesnake at his elbow, quick as a flash struck him with its fangs in the fleshy part of the palm of his left hand. He had not seen the viper and did not know of its proximity until he felt the bite. He was a long way from a doctor and he knew he must act quickly if he wished to save his life. He had no knife sharp enough to cut out the poisoned and in a few moments the virus would be conveyed to his veins. A moment's thought decided his action. Pulling his trusty revolver from his pocket he took careful aim at the spot and pulled the trigger. The bullet went true and struck the exact spot taking the piece clear out. A small vein was severed and the greenish-black poison stained blood gushed out which it was allowed to do until he was satisfied the poison had been brought out. It was a nerve thing to do and many a man would not have thought of it. His hand swelled up some, but he did not come to town to have the wound dressed by Dr. Day until Monday, and he is now nearly all right.

Rhodes Appetite.

A curious phase of the house of commons' investigation of Cecil Rhodes was the revelation of his gargantuan appetite. While he was confidentially lecturing the bewildered and benumbed committee on the history and politics of South Africa, and the projects and dreams of Cecil Rhodes, the great man himself was calmly eating large sandwiches from a huge heap before him, and was washing the sandwiches down with plentiful portions from a large and long glass of foaming stout.

The intense heat caused five deaths in New York City last Friday.
