Big Wool Sales.

Word comes from Shaniko that E. W. Brigham, representing Whitman, Farnsworth & Thayer, of Boston, purchased the clip of the Baldwin Sheep & Land Company, at the wool sales Thursday, paying 15 1/2 cents therefor. This is the largest sale made in Oregon or Washington this season and the price paid was the best. This was an extra fine clip and was light. The sales continued today and most of the wool will be sold out of the Shaniko warehouses.

DEATH OF EVA HULT.

The Passing Away of One of the Most Popular Children of Pendleton.

Eva, the 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hult, passed away at the family home, on South Garden street this morning at 2 o'clock, of Bright's disease, after an illness of one month, although she had been ailing for something like a year.

Little Eva, as she was called by her young friends, was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hult and was the idol of their hearts, besides being a favorite among her many friends and schoolmates. Although she had been ailing for several months, no serious results were anticipated and little was thought about it until a month ago, when she was suddenly taken seriously ill and gradually grew worse until the end. Her life was not despaired of until a few days ago, and when it was found that no earthly aid would save Little Eva's life, the parents' hearts were broken.

The funeral will take place from the Church of the Redeemer, Saturday afternoon, at 2:30, conducted by Rev. Potwine, and the body will be buried in the Olney cemetery.

PETER NELSON RECOVERS.

Gets Pay for His Horses Stolen and Slaughtered at the Linnton Cannery.

Judge James A. Fee and Colonel James H. Raley have returned from Portland, where they were on legal business. They represented Peter Nelson, a farmer living southwest of Pendleton, in a case against the Western Fertilizing & Packing Company, to recover $2450 alleged to be the value of a band of cayuses slaughtered at the Linnton Cannery in 1899. The case was tried before Judge, Cheland and a jury, Wednesday, and a verdict was brought in in favor of Mr. Nelson, giving him judgment for $650.

According to the contention of the plaintiff's attorney, about 70 head of his horses were stolen and driven off the range, taken to the Linnton cannery and sold to the manager, Samuel Kinsman. These horses were valued at $35 each by plaintiff, who sued the company for recovery and was successful.
