Profound study and a spiritual awakening is causing women to protect her keeping by divinity. Our corset is admirable for stout women whose muscle has been spoiled in the stiff corset. Our's fits like a glove and is just as comfortable, always reduces the abdomen, is cultivating and progressive. Miss Mur-phy, the expert demonstrator, is at the Hotel Pendleton, rooms 4 and 5, where she would be pleased to fit the new scientific corset on ladies.

The posts for the reception of the mail boxes for the free delivery are now being set but it is almost a certainty that the delivery will not be started by the first of July, the time heretofore announced. The examination for carriers was made the 7th instant, and it was hoped to have the returns back from Washington in time for the successful to familiarize themselves with their work so they could begin the delivery the first, but nothing has been heard from the papers and another delay in starting the delivery is certain.

AN UNWELCOME GUEST.

Venomous Spider Found in Ship-ment of Bananas.

W. H. Harrison, one of the clerks in the Younger & Son grocery store, was frightened out of several years' growth this forenoon by a large tarantula. He was moving a crate of cabbage recently shipped up from California, when the tarantula glided out from under the crate and went running across the floor.

Those in the store declare that Harrison fell back in a faint when he saw the long-legged terror, but Harry denies the charge. It is presumed the tarantula was shipped in a crate of bananas and during the night crawled from the banana crate under the cabbage crate. It was captured and is now being exhibited in Thomas Maloy's cigar store.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. T. Atkins, the father being one of the extensive sheep men of Morrow county. They left Heppner immedi-ately after the marriage for Oakes-dale, and will return here to reside.

IS STILL AT LARGE

RUCKER ROGERS, WALLA WALLA ESCAPE, NOT CAUGHT.

Reward of $75 Offered for His Recapture—He Had Secured a Change of Clothes—Heavy Dust Storms Prevailed.

Walla Walla, June 24.—Rucker Rogers, the convict who escaped from the penitentiary Sunday, is still at large and a reward of $75 has been offered by Superintendent Catron for his capture. A number of men have been on the trail of the convict but have been unable to locate him in the heavy timber in which he has sought shelter and safety. It may require several days to capture the man, but he will ultimately be brought back. He is thought to be hiding near Mil-ton, Or., in a heavy timber with underbrush very dense and covering a large area. He, it is thought, has friends who will aid him, if they have not already assisted him in his efforts to secure liberty.

Rogers took his blankets and made a suit of clothes the night before his escape. In these as under garments, he passed out of the prison, and went to work in the mill. When he made his escape he threw off his striped garments and appeared in citizen's clothes, his stripes being found at the place where he emerged from confinement.

Rogers has a family of brothers and a father living in this vicinity. A brother is now in the county jail awaiting trial for larceny. Rogers was serving his second sentence in the prison here.

A terrific dust storm visited this section of the valley yesterday afternoon, and for nearly an hour dust flew in clouds until it was nearly im-possible to pass along the streets. The afternoon was very sultry and just before the storm broke the at-mosphere was extremely oppressive. No damage was reported from the blow.

QUEER BRIDAL TOUR.

Young Couple Take Wedding Trip on Locomotive Tender.

Walla Walla, June 24.—Seated on the coal in the tender of a locomotive, speeding through the sage brush and sand at the hour of midnight is, perhaps, not an ideal bridal tour, but such is the manner in which a young couple, married in Walla Walla Sunday, traveled from Eureka to Hunt's Junction yesterday morn-ing. However, this mode of travel was not premeditated—it was the re-sult of a wreck on the main line of the Washington & Columbia River road a few miles from Eureka junc-tion, on the flat. The wreck occurred at 10:30 o'clock Sunday evening.

But there were others besides the bridal party in the smashup. One hobo riding the rrrds, had made an un-lucky selection of his car. He chose the one which caused the wreck and as a result was buried in the sand and otherwise shaken up, but not hurt. His escape was most miraculous.

The wreck was caused by the breaking of a flange on the wheel of a freight car, three cars being piled up as a result.

After the train and crew had work-ed with the cars for several hours the passengers were taken through to Pasco and another crew cleared up the wreck. All trains over that road were late yesterday in conse-quence. No serious damage was done.

John Haines, a negro of Wabash, Ind., became a murderer because he could not take a joke. Clarence Gil-lespie, white, sang "Good Morning, Carrie," to the darkie. Haines be-came angry and shot the singer.
