Henry Watterson, the brilliant and distinguished editor of the Louisville, (Ky.) Courier-Journal, could not arrange his engagements so as to deliver an oration in Baker City on July 4, but he has been engaged to do something better; that is to deliver one of his famous addresses in the Baker theater some time between July 10 and July 25, the date to be arranged later.

Charles A. Marsh and Charles Bean, who attended the baseball game in Walla Walla Sunday and Monday, returned to Pendleton Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Marsh has been in Pendleton for the past month, looking for a business location. He says he does not like Walla Walla, as it does not compare with Pendleton for business life.

The boys' choir of the Church of the Redeemer, consisting of Fred Kees, Clarence Bollerman, Willard Bond, Ralph Bollerman, Andrew Bollins, William Bollins, Clayton Sharp, Harold Warner and Raymond Warner will leave Saturday for Portland, where they will be joined by Rev. W. E. Potwine, who will accompany them to Clatsop Beach. They will be gone three weeks on a pleasure outing.

Charles Brook, a resident of Baker City, is nursing a broken leg, sustained while playing baseball. A picked nine from Baker City went to Wingville to cross bats with an aggregation at that place. Brook was playing third base for the visitors, and while in the act of catching the ball to shut off the runner, the player stepped upon the knee of Brook's leg, badly fracturing the bone.

George Speary and wife are in town on their way to Portland, where Mr. Speary goes to again assume a position with the O. R. & N. Co. as fireman. Mr. Speary will be remembered as one of the unfortunate who received serious injuries in a freight train wreck near The Dalles, last winter. He was fearfully burned about the face but has recovered and is going to try the same hazardous work.

Profound study and a spiritual awakening is causing women to protect her keeping by divinity. Our corset is admirable for stout women whose muscle has been spoiled in the stiff corset. Our's fits like a glove and is just as comfortable, always reduces the abdomen, is cultivating and progressive. Miss Murphy, the expert demonstrator, is at the Hotel Pendleton, rooms 4 and 5, where she would be pleased to fit the new scientific corset on ladies.

A Veteran Stager.

J. B. Keeney, the veteran stage man, came up from Elgin on the 5:00 train of last evening on his way to Heppner, where he goes to look after his stage business in that section of Oregon. Mr. Keeney is still interested in the stage business in Idaho, and is contemplating putting on a line between Boise and Thunder Mountain, as several parties are urging him to do so, and he will leave for that section of the country upon his return from Heppner.—La Grande Chronicle.

Robert Pond, who was connected with the academy last term, has been retained for the coming term as second assistant principal. The other teachers will be selected by the president.

A SHOOTING TOURNAMENT

COMMENCES WEDNESDAY AND ENDS FRIDAY.

Many Crack Shots Will Be Present
From All Parts of the Northwest—
Synopsis of the Events.

Horace J. Stillman, James M. Spence, Fred Waite, D. C. Clarke and Will Ingram, all members of the local gun club, left on Tuesday night's train for Portland, to attend the annual meet of the Northwest Shooting Tournament.

The shoot begins this afternoon and will last until Friday evening. All the crack shots from all over the Northwest, who can possibly get to Portland, will be present.

Spokane is to be represented by T. B. Ware, H. G. Lougee, Fred C. McBroom, John W. Merritt, J. A. Forbes and I. Dornberg. Frank Stevens, of Pomeroy, noted all over the west as a great shot, and who carried off the first prize at the tournament at Portland last year, will be present.

The program, as published and sent out by those arranging for the tournament, is very elaborate and according to it all of the visiting sportsmen will have ample chance to try their skill.

It is the intention of the association, if possible, to bring the "Grand American" to Portland in 1905, during the Lewis and Clark fair and if the association is successful, it will mean the largest shooting event ever held in the world, providing, of course, that the live bird shooting is eliminated, as the majority of the members of the association are opposed to this. It is believed by some of the officers of the association that under the present management of the Grand American officers, if inanimate targets only are used, there would be upwards of 1000 entries in 1905.

Following is a synopsis of the events in condensed form:

First day—Total number of targets to be shot, 200; total entrance money $22.75; added money, $350.

Second day—Total number of targets to be shot, 200; total entrance money, $23.50; added money, $400.

Third day—Total number of targets to be shot, 200; total entrance money, $22.25; added money, $450.

There will also be $300 cash added for general average prizes, making a total of $1500 cash added.

In addition to the above there are a number of trophies, medals, cups and various other prizes to be shot for, averaging $2000.

For the lady shooters there will be a gold championship medal for the best general average, a silver medal for the lady making the second best general average, and an elegant box of candy for the lady making the third best general average.

The Multnomah Amateur Athletic Rod and Gun Club, under whose auspices the coming tournament is to be held, has worked hard to make the shoot a success and the indications are that it will be the largest shooting event which has ever taken place in the Northwest.

Big Iron Elephant.

A mammoth iron elephant for the World's Fair at St. Louis, is the creation of Joseph Husak, of Chicago. The body of the metallic animal is to be four stories high, the floors to be reached by elevators in the legs. On top of the elephant it is proposed to have a roof garden and observatory. This elephant, which is to be 360 feet long and 250 feet high, Husak hopes to erect at the World's Fair in St. Louis if the exposition authorities will grant him permission.

The Baptist Association for the Eastern Oregon district will convene at La Grande Thursday. On the day preceding the association a convention will be held to consider the proposed ordination of Rev. S. G. Perry, of Baker City, the "miser preacher."
