PACIFIC NORTHWEST NEWS.

County Clerk Fields, of Multnomah has obtained his election certificate despite the efforts of Clerk of Court Swetland, who had refused to issue it.

General Bebee and staff are in Albany making preparations for the annual encampment of the Oregon State Militia, which takes place there July 17 to 24th.

A prospector came in to Pocatello, Idaho, Tuesday, from the hills, and reported finding the body of E. M. Fritz, with a bullet hole through his head, near a prospect hole on the North Fork of Pocatello creek, about eight miles from the city.

The Columbia Southern railway will soon begin the use of oil instead of coal as fuel in its engines, the move being made not so much from economy as to prevent the danger of fires in the grain fields being started by cinders from the coal at present used.

G. W. Anderson, of Portland, has received a verdict of $3,000 against the City & Suburban railway company for the death of his son, Chester Anderson, who was killed while crossing the Morrison street bridge on one of the cars, striking against a bridge timber.

The Willamette Pulp & Paper Co. is erecting a small saw mill on Gray's river for the purpose of cutting lumber, with which to construct several dams in that stream. The company is preparing to get out a quantity of pulp logs, consisting of hemlock, white fir and larch, which will be towed to Oregon City.

It is the intention of Fish Warden Van Dusen to secure a number of young chinook salmon, and, after marking them, turn them loose in the city reservoir at Astoria to grow. At different periods a few will be taken out for the purpose of noting their growth and general appearance. In about a month several hundred young chinook salmon will be received from the hatchery for this purpose.

FOURTH AT EINGHAM.

Nation's Birthday Will Be Celebrated in Appropriate Style.

C. W. Avery, the genial proprietor of the Bingham Springs, does not propose to be behind in the matter of entertaining his friends on the glorious Fourth. He is preparing for a grand picnic and celebration for the nation's birthday and will have all kinds of sport for those who go to the springs to escape the hot July sun.

The Helix band has been engaged to furnish music for three days and dancing will be on the program for those who wish to trip the light fantastic.

Another feature of the program will be the diving and swimming contests. Prizes will be offered for the best in all of these sports. Foot races will also be indulged in to the delight of the unprofessional racer.

Washington May Die.

Thomas J. Scott received a letter Monday from one of the physicians at the state insane asylum saying that Jim Washington, the colored man sent from here last summer, was in a bad condition. Some hopes had been held that Washington would recover from his condition of insanity, but the physician stated positively that there was no hopes of this. He is getting worse all the time and may not live much longer.

A Great Time Anticipated.

It is now confidently expected that the greatest excursion train that ever pulled out of Pendleton will leave the O. R. & N. depot Friday morning, July 4, for a trip up the Blue Mountains to Meacham. It certainly was a happy thought on the part of the picnic committee when an excursion to Meacham was suggested as a pleasant way to spend the Fourth. It will be delightful and the fare for the round trip is but $1.

F. B. Romo Says Umatilla County Officials Are Too Slow and Are Delaying the Game by Holding Off on the Franchise.

Mr. F. B. Romo, of the Romo-Mellmann electric railroad fame, has spoken. Mr. Romo declares that the officials of Umatilla county are holding up his road, and he is getting very indignant. He also makes the broad assertion that the Oregon people are slow. He seems to think that the Umatilla county officials should grant the franchise for the road just because the Walla Walla county officials have not stopped to look into the matter for themselves.

To a reporter of the Walla Walla Union Mr. Romo said: "The Oregon people are delaying the road. I cannot see why they are so slow over there. We have all the concessions we have asked in the state of Washington, but the Oregon end of it is tying us up at the present time.

"We have asked the people of the state of Washington for privileges, and have guaranteed to them a complete and thorough service in as short a time as possible. They have taken the matter under advisement, have convinced themselves of our honesty and integrity and have granted the concessions asked. They have the welfare of their country at heart and do not mean to retard it by being unduly conservative.

"It is different with the people of Oregon. In Umatilla county our franchise requests have been before the officers quite as long as they have in this state but as yet action is delayed. They do not appear to appreciate the value of such a road as we intend to build to their country. We cannot do anything more than has already been done until all rights of way are assured, as improvements would be a waste of money if the road could not be carried out as planned."

While it may be a little annoying to Mr. Romo to wait on the authorities of Umatilla county, he must remember that what he proposes to do is quite an undertaking and the county officials do not care to take the responsibility of placing a franchise for an electric railway, or any other kind of franchise for a term of 50 years without first knowing just what it will mean to the people whose land the line goes through. The county officials will take definite action in the first Monday in July.

MAY SWALLOW W. & C. R.

Northern Pacific May Make it a Branch Line of the System.

Walla Walla, June 26.—Word has reached this city from Tacoma to the effect that a plan is on foot for the Northern Pacific to do away with the Washington & Columbia River line as a separate railway and make it a branch of the Northern Pacific system.

This would mean the abandonment of the general offices at Walla Walla and the cutting out of all special officers for the road. General Manager Joseph McCabe might be transferred to another road, but would no longer remain in charge of the eastern Washington feeder.

All business for the road that is now run separate from the main line would be transacted out of the Tacoma offices of the Northern Pacific company. The feature of this change, if it is made, which now seems likely, will be a through passenger train service from Tacoma to Dayton, daily trains being run.

When asked concerning this report General Freight and Passenger Agent S. B. Calderhead, of the Washington & Columbia River Railroad, said he had never heard of the contemplated change and did not believe it to be more than a railroad rumor. "Mr. McCabe, general manager of the road, is absent on the Sound at the present time and I am certain that if he had heard of any change about to be made he would have wired me at once. As he has not done so I cannot believe the story. However, it would take but little
