THE DOGS GO HOME

(Concluded.)

completely beat out they were I gave up and came home.

"With the new dogs from Ellensburg and Tacoma, the increased posse after the men, who are now entirely tired out from the chase, and the much more favorable territory for the pursuers through which the chase is now going, I think the convicts will be run to earth very shortly. Some of the new men who are going into the chase are stayers and experienced men at such work.

"The hounds were not having their first experience in hunting men when they went out after Tracy and Merrill as at Walla Walla we take them out on such hunts about six days a week. One of the men, usually a trusty is started out and given several hours start of the hounds, who are then turned loose and work in a pack until they run the man down. These runs usually extend from six to 18 miles.

"The dogs are not worked in leash while on the trail, but are turned loose and guided by means of a horn which I carry. No matter how hot the trail the older of the two dogs I have with me will stop and either wait until I come up or return to me; the younger one sometimes gets excited and goes on a ways, but soon returns.

"Both dogs are pure bred blood hounds, though of greatly dissimilar breeds. The older one is an English blood hound, while the younger came from Texas."

The dogs are about as much like the regulation Uncle Tom's Cabin blood hound as an ordinary house cat is like a lynx. They are mild and peaceable looking animals, black and fawn colored, with long drooping ears and short, rather bowed legs. They are very friendly in disposition and would hardly be suspected by the average observer of the terrible ferocity with which they are usually credited. They look thin and worn from their arduous work of the past few weeks and their noses and ears are badly scratched and their sides show evidences of the hard nature of the country through which they have been travelling.

DOCTOR OF DIVINITY.

This Decree Conferred Upon Prof. Forbes by Eastern College.

A great surprise was given Prof. Forbes, of Pendleton Academy, this morning, when Rev. Robt. Diven, of the Presbyterian church, informed him that because of his fidelity to the cause of higher education displayed in his work in Pendleton, and his stalwart support of orthodox Christianity throughout his ministry, the honorary degree of doctor of divinity was conferred upon him on June 24th by the trustees of Grove City College, Pennsylvania.

In his recommendation of Prof. Forbes for this honor, Mr. Diven was heartily supported by Reverends McClelland, of the North Presbyterian church, of Portland, Bleakney, of Elgin, and Elder, of Moro; all alumni of the same institution; and in granting their petition their alma mater highly honored the petitioners, for this is the first time this strong and very conservative institution has conferred such honor upon one with whom no member of the board was personally acquainted.
