Every union driver in a funeral at San Francisco on Wednesday, stopped his carriage and refused to proceed because a non-union driver was discovered in their midst. The non-union man was displaced and the procession proceeded to the cemetery.

Governor Sanguin, of the upper district of Lower California, shot and killed a mutinous convict in the prison at Eusemada. The prisoner became unruly and struck his keeper over the head with a club. It was reported to the governor who went to the prison with a gun and ordered the prisoner to drop his club. This he refused to do and the governor fired, killing him instantly.

The Methodist Episcopal church in Aberdeen, Wash., was forcibly entered by some vandal Wednesday night, who wantonly smashed the windows, tore down the curtain, defaced the altar Bible, broke the top of the organ off and damaged the keyboard of the instrument, destroyed the charter of the Epworth League and wrought other almost irreparable destruction to the interior of the church.

Andrew Carnegie's splendid new residence in upper Fifth Avenue, New York, is to have a rival in the home soon to be erected on the block bounded by Riverside Drive, West End avenue and Seventy-third and Seventy-fourth streets for Charles M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel Corporation. Plans indicate that it will be one of the finest houses in the city. House and site will represent an investment of more than $3,350,000.

PACIFIC NORTHWEST NEWS.

John Hanson, the highwayman who was arrested at Huntington after being shot by the officers, has been sentenced to serve two years in the penitentiary.

Every state in the Union but two will be represented at the convention of the National Food and Dairy Commissioners, to be held at Portland on next Tuesday.

There is declared to be no authority in the laws of this state for taking Corvict Wiley, who is wanted as a witness in a diamond robbery case in Colorado, from the Oregon state penitentiary to the great mineral state. Habeas corpus proceedings in Colorado are feared.

The recent rains near Albany have been of great benefit to the Spring wheat, and, if they do not continue, will not injure fall wheat, though a small quantity has already fallen. Cherries have generally been split. Otherwise, fruit is not damaged.

Frank Hubbard, of White Salmon, Wash., is missing. He left that place two weeks ago for Portland to transact business at the Vancouver land office, expecting to return the same day, but has not been heard of since. No reason can be given for his disappearance.

Red Reiley, a notorious smuggler, and six contraband Chinese, were captured near San Juan Island, Wash., by customs and revenue cutter officers and lodged in jail Wednesday night. The officers had been out a week waiting for Kelley, having received information of the contemplated expedition from government spotters at Victoria.

WALLA WALLA RAIN

SPOILED FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION THERE.

More Than 5000 Visitors Were Disappointed—Rain Also Did Damage to Wheat Fields About the City.

Walla Walla, July 5.—What promises to be the greatest celebration in the history of this city, was yesterday turned into a disappointment by a steady drizzling rain which during the day fell over this section, and soiled fine dresses and hats galore.

The celebration lacked enthusiasm and bright weather—everything else was on hand. Over 10,000 people were on the streets and some estimate the number much larger than this. From all over the country people came to this city. Excursion trains arrived from Athena, Or., Dayton and Eureka Flat, bearing hundreds of visitors. When they reached the city they encountered cloudy weather, only to find a short time later, a drizzling rain setting in, to continue until nightfall.

The parade was postponed until after dinner to allow the streets to dry, and at 2 o'clock it was given in a driving rain, with all the features in which girls participated omitted entirely. Two batteries with about 300 horses from the post, a combined harvester drawn by 16 fine mules, two bands and a number of excellent floats, made up the major portion of the parade. The Grand Army and Sons of Veterans were also in line.

The meeting at the court yard was given up and the exercises were held in the court room, which furnished accommodations for a small portion of the crowd. Will H. Thompson, of Seattle, delivered an able address upon the resources of the country, and urged united action to build up Washington and the Northwest. The sports were spoiled by mud and rain, and the ball game between Athena and Walla Walla was played in two inches of mud. The weather cleared somewhat, and the display of fireworks was given last night.

Athena Won Ball Game.

In the game of ball about 1000 persons attended and waited in a shower to see Athena make seven runs and the local team make four. The game was as good as could be expected under the conditions.

At 10 o'clock last night the excursion trains took up their loads of disappointed visitors and returned them to their homes. General satisfaction was expressed at the arrangements completed, and but for the stormy weather the celebration would have been satisfactory.

On account of the stormy day, the celebration at the state penitentiary was postponed, and is being given this afternoon. The exercises are being given for the benefit of the prison library and usually attract a large crowd.

Rain and Grain.

An unusually heavy rain has fallen over the Walla Walla wheat fields during the past two days, and conflicting stories are in circulation as to the good or damage done the several sections. All agree that good has come to the fruit and late sown grain, but from the foothills come reports of damage to heavy grain.

It is quite likely that in a few days most of the grain will straighten up and damage will not be as heavy as now seems likely, although some loss is sure to occur. The grain is heavy and almost ready for the header, and water will have the effect of weakening the straw and letting the head fall toward the ground. This will make the "down" spots hard to cut, and loss will result in many fields, but the extent of such loss is very much in question. Yesterday a wind moved much of the time, and most of the damage resulted from that source.

tage where they had spent part of their honeymoon and leaving a letter telling of financial reverses and the loss of their eight children in Oregon.

Portland papers being unable to find anyone in that city who knew of the couple, are inclined to believe that the dispatch must have intended to say that they were from Oregon instead of Portland.

Careful inquiry has been made in Pendleton and no one who knows anything of such a couple as the suicides has been found, although there are people of the same name here.
