Heppner Times:—Garfield Crawford and Heppner Blackman, two of our local capitalists, went over to Pendleton on today's train, incidentally to attend the Fourth of July celebration, but in reality to close a deal for two or three brick blocks over there, which are just now being offered at exceptionally low rates. Their desire, if possible, is to buy the principal portion of the city and raise the rent on the business men. Truly this is the day of trusts and great combinations.

BALTIMORE AND OHIO.

One Hundred and Seventy-Nine Battles Fought on or Adjacent to the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

(The Baltimore & Ohio railroad and the Civil War, 1861-1865.) It was the most desirable point of vantage coveted by both federal and confederate armies. In May, 1861, the four federal advance columns concentrated at Parkersburg, W. Va., Wheeling, W. Va., Harper's Ferry, W. Va., and at Washington. To retain the advantage, the federal government established block houses along the railroad from the Monocacy to the Ohio river, besides the forts at Winchester, Harper's Ferry, Cumberland, Piedmont and New Creek (Keyser). The B. & O. was the base of operations for the federal army for nearly four years and from which the government could not take advance line earlier than November, 1864. The B. & O. was the means of communication between the west and the army of the Potomac, and was constantly in a continual state of siege. Harper's Ferry, the key to the Shenandoah valley, first famed through the fanatical attempt of John Brown, in defying the laws and customs of his country, was captured and recaptured eight times in three years. The government arsenal and armories which were located there were destroyed by the government to prevent capture. One hundred and seventy-nine battles of greater or less importance were fought on or adjacent to the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, not taking into consideration the innumerable skirmishes.

All through trans from St. Louis, Louisville, Cincinnati, Chicago, Columbus, Cleveland, Wheeling and Pittsburg to the east run via Washington. Send stamp for battlefield map. D. B. Martin, Manager Passenger Traffic, Baltimore, Md.; B. N. Austin, General Passenger Agent, Chicago, Ill.

ARE KILLING SHEEP.

has been a class of settlers who object for various reasons to sheep running on the government land in the high mountains. They have gone so far as to shoot a great many sheep, and the have shot at herders and tenders of sheep and camps. This year they have killed hundreds of sheep and one man alone lost 300 head. They say they will not allow the sheep to travel over the customary trail to the mountains, although we do not go within three miles of a human habitation and do not go near anyone's deeded land. The trail is not stocked with cattle or any kind of stock.

"The truth of the matter is that there is a gang of lawless spirits in these parts and they want to keep stock out of the mountains so that they may have a good place to hunt and fish. Last fall they shot at me and my two herders, and they declare that if I go that way again they will kill me. I must either get them out or give up the business which it has taken me 20 years to build. Now, I want to know whether those men have the right to keep my sheep off the government land?"

Hall's Reply.

In reply, Mr. Hall said: "It is against the law to obstruct or prevent the free passage or transit of stock over or through public lands and any person doing so may, upon conviction, be fined a sum not exceeding $1000 or imprisoned for a term not exceeding one year, and any person who by force or threats attempts to prevent another from passing over public land is subject to arrest."

SATURDAY, JULY 5, 1902.

A MOST PROLIFIC CAT

REMARKABLE FELINE HAS PASSED IN HER CHIPS.

In Eighteen Years She Produced 180 Offspring; Rate of Ten Per Year—Notes of Athena.

Athena, July 5.—We are just informed that in a remote part of the county a certain "pussy cat" who had been idolized for 21 years by the family has passed in her checks, causing great lamentations, and, besides, much sorrow and regret in the home. For 18 years she had been extremely prolific, bringing to the world two litters of kittens each year, averaging 5 each time, making in all 180, which seemed to be a fulfillment of the scriptural mandate—"Multiply and Replenish the earth." She has fought a good fight, has kept the faith, and has now thrown off this mortal coil, peacefully entered into that "Feline Paradise" where there are no mice to catch, no sparrows to chase, nor any dogs to worry her. Let us drop a tear to her memory.

In the category of human diseases but few people can enjoy the distinction of having had very "swell ones"—those that attract attention, create gossip, and cause editors to elaborate upon. King Edward lays down an example that caps the climax, and declares that among all the

"It's or it 1 or it's" he is heir apparent to perityphlytis and claims it as his own. Therefore those who have suffered with peritonitis, interitis, endocarditis, appendicitis, meningitis, cystitis, or desquamative nephritis, are not in it at all. They follow the king. Doctors are onto their business, and Apollo, Aesculapius, Hippocrates, and the other great physicians of antiquity did not live and teach for nothing. So keep up with the times. Know thyself, shout "Viva la Roi," because we don't know what the next prefix will be to the notorious suffix "itis," and it will take kings to teach us.

Col. Fred Boyd, our congenial editor of the Athena Press, says that God is bountifully blessing us this week with rain; rain makes wheat; wheat makes money; money makes delinquent subscribers remember the editors; full purses and stomachs on editors give the people plenty to read.

The two brick buildings begun some months ago are nearing completion. This will add greatly to our town in many particulars.

The case Will Wells vs. W. H. Hawes, pending in Justice Chamberlain's court, which the jury failed to agree upon when heard last week, is set for trial again, Monday at 10 o'clock. The jury stood four to two in favor of the plaintiff before.

Athena, made trips to Walla Walla on the glorious Fourth.

Mr. George Bradley, the big heat buyer and warehouse manager, returned from the Willamette valley week, and reports a good time.

The Yellow Kids will soon leave us. They have made enviable records as ball players. We hate to see them go away. They have each made many friends in our midst and we wish them much happiness and success wherever they go.

Miss Eva Froome returned to her home in Pendleton last week.

Miss Anna Kirk, who has been in the hospital at Walla Walla for some time, returned home last week. While she is still weak, she seems to be on the road to a rapid recovery.

Miss Anna McGee offered her furnished residence for rent through the East Oregonian classified advertisements and secured a good renter. The classified advertisements bring quick returns.

Will Satterlee, who has been employed as night operator on the linotype for the East Oregonian, has resigned his position and will leave Sunday morning for Port Townsend, Otto E. Didion, recently from Fort Wayne, Ind., succeeds Mr. Satterlee.
