on the Chicago & North Western Chicago & Eastern Illinois of men. The strikers are not discouraged by the fact that within a day a union teamster in the city work or refuse to haul goods by non-union men. It would make the tie-up more than ever and cause such an enormous amount of money to go into business and the loss of business has never before experienced.

A KILLING AT LA GRANDE

EX-CONVICT SHOT BY OFFICER IN THE CITY JAIL.

He Was a Desperate Man and Had Committed Many Crimes—Assaulted the Officer.

La Grande, July 8.—William Hill, an ex-convict, was shot and killed here Sunday morning by Officer Frank Childers on account of an assault committed by him on the officer as the latter was about to put the handcuffs on him at the jail. Hill was being held on a charge of stealing a buggy. He was known to be a desperate man, but recent developments show that he was even a greater criminal than was at first supposed. He had previously served two terms in the state penitentiary, one for grand larceny and another for an assault with intent to kill the officer who made the arrest at the time. The two terms were served out consecutively.

Officers returned yesterday from a search of the cabin occupied by the deceased in the mountains about five miles from this place, where they found other evidences of the deceased criminal's crimes. Stored away in his cabin were numerous articles that have been missed from time to time by people living in this city and in the valley generally. It appears that he had been doing a wholesale stealing, though the articles taken were not of high value in most cases.

Officer Childers, who was compelled to kill Hill, had served as marshal here for four years and has many friends. He was always faithful and careful and is not blamed by anyone for the unfortunate affair.

Dr. G. W. Biggers has returned from Imbler, where he had been called to see one Weaver, supposed to be suffering from the grippe. He found, however, that Weaver has a well developed case of smallpox, and that everybody living in the neighborhood has been visiting him, and expects other cases at that place. Weaver is at a loss to know where he caught the disease.

The Summerville baseball team returned from Wallowa yesterday, flushed with victory. The team had been challenged by the Wallowa boys and went to Wallowa last Friday and the series of games opened Saturday. Saturday's game resulted in a victory for Summerville in a score of 16 to 6. They played the second game yesterday and Summerville was again victorious by a score of 7 to 6. This is the beginning of an extended series in the valley.

Chamberlain Improves.

Colonial Secretary Chamberlain, injured Monday by being thrown from a cab, is reported better this morning. It has been decided, however, to keep him in the hospital as absolute rest is needed.

TRACY IS LOCATED NEAR SEATTLE

Instead of Fleeing Northward He Took His Boat to South Seattle and Fled to Renton, Eight Miles From There.

Seattle, July 8.—Tracy's trail has vanished. The boat thought to be Farmer Johnson's yesterday, belongs to another man. The man seen by the Indians has been located and is a tramp.

The tugs Sea Lion and Scout have retraced here and await under full steam. A pack of bloodhounds arrived last night. The posse's boat patrols the entire length of the lower Sound. Indians on two reservations, numbering 60, are on the watch.

All wires have been placed at the disposal of the sheriff. The fugitive is out of food by this time. On reappearance anywhere on the Sound the pursuit will again commence.

Another Find of Tracy.

Later—Tracy is now known to be near Renton, eight miles from Seattle, where he held up a family this morning. His boat was found under a wharf at South Seattle. The sheriff and the bloodhounds left at 2 p. m. for Renton and they hope to kill the convict soon. It is believed he has killed Anderson, his impressed boatman.

Seattle, July 8.—After a fruitless chase after Tracy, covering 125 miles, and extending from Point No Point, just south of Whidby Island, to a point within a few miles of Gig Harbor, Sheriff Cuddehe and party have returned and are awaiting the re-appearance of the convict before again starting out.

Every point on the Sound where the desperado is at all likely to make his appearance, has been furnished with a careful description and immediately hunger forces Tracy to again approach human habitations, the word will be sent to Seattle and the posse will at once take the trail with the bloodhounds.

The authorities of the northern counties bordering the sound have taken up the chase and considerable additions have been made thereby to the pursuing force. The Hood Canal is being patrolled by two squadrons of officers.

A search for Anderson is being prosecuted along the west shore of the sound with Port Madison Indian reservation as the starting point.

Sheriff Brisban, of Whatcom county, and Zimmerman, of Snohomish and Welb of Skagit, are 18 miles below Seattle directing the search. They are certain the desperado was in the vicinity of Deception pass at 6 o'clock Sunday evening in a sailboat. The officers believe he either effected a landing on the main land or on this side or put out through the Straits of San Juan de Fuca. Three steamers are actively engaged in patrolling the shores of Puget Sound in the neighborhood of the pass, while posses are guarding all vantage points on the main land.

Tracy's objective point is now supposed to be Whatcom, where, it is stated, he expects to meet friends. Cub Merrill, said to be a brother of Merrill, the convict, who escaped with Tracy, lives there. On Saturday night, while intoxicated, he said Tracy was on his way to that place and that he had arranged to meet him.

Scouts have been sent to patrol the shore line of Chuckanut Bay, below Fairhaven, where it is believed Tracy will attempt to land. Anacortes has two launches guarding the passes and deputy sheriffs are flocking in from all sides to join the man hunt.

Sheriff Hammond, of Jefferson county, and a number of guards, have left Port Townsend in the revenue cutter Grant to search for the murderer.

A boy named Gerald has brought to the sheriff's office two watches stolen by Tracy from Johnson at Port Madison. He said they were given to him by Tracy this noon in front of the Gerald house, 12 miles from here. A posse with bloodhounds, is in pursuit.

HAS CONVICT TRACY MURDERED DAVE MERRILL?

"Is Convict David Merrill dead or alive?" That is the question which is agitating the minds of the officials of the state of Washington at the present moment.

Although Tracy has repeatedly asserted that he murdered his fellow convict by shooting him in the back, satisfactory evidence of the deed having been committed, or the production of the body, is not yet forthcoming. At the same time Merrill has not been located since the day on which Tracy declares that he killed him.

There are many who have implicitly believed the story of the killing of Merrill, from the very first, while others who have been skeptical are beginning to think the story is true, as Merrill fails to make his appearance.

To a dozen people Tracy has told his tale of the killing of his fellow escapee and it has varied only in the amount of detail in which he has given it. He is said to have even told the location of the body to Frank Scott, one of the crew of the launch in which he made his way up the Sound.

Scott, however, will not divulge the location of the corpse, as he has been told by the officers that he cannot claim the reward. This action has aroused considerable comment, as it is said that if he knows where the body is he should produce it or tell where it is and the suggestion has been made that radical methods be used to force him to do so.

One theory is that Merrill has found a place of safety, perhaps in Seattle, and that he may have gone on ahead of Tracy to secure money and other incidentals, and that Tracy has told his duelling story to throw the officers off the trail. It is possible that Tracy and Merrill arranged to meet in the Hood's Canal

Mr. Pule came to Chicago about a year ago from his Nicaraguan home to be treated for cataracts.

CORN FLIES HIGH

Fortunes Made and Lost on Chicago Market in a Short Space of Time.

PRICE OF CORN WENT UP TO 90 AND BACK TO 87.

Continued Covering by Elevator People Who Were Caught Short, Made Price of Grain Take Some Rapid Fluctuations at the Big Center.

Chicago, July 8.—Continued covering by the shorts caused July corn to resume its upward flight on the Board of Trade this morning. It went from 84, last night's close, to 85 1/2 soon after the opening. At 11 o'clock the price had gone to 88.

The fight between the elevator people, who are the big shorts, and the Gates-Harris syndicate, who are engineering the corner is nearing a crisis and it is expected that the elevator people will make a private settlement before the week is out or be compelled to pay upon the basis of a dollar or more as Gates holds all the contract corn, and the kiln-dried corn which the elevators are trying to have passed, will be rejected as being low grade.

At noon the 90 mark was reached. Corn sales toward the close sent the price down to 87, where it closed.

AGUINALDO VISITED CHAFFEE.

Former Filipino Leader Now Free Under Amnesty Proclamation.

As the result of the amnesty proclamation of July 4, the guard of American soldiers has been withdrawn from duty at the house where Aguinaldo lives, and Lieutenant Johnson, Aguinaldo's custodian, brought the Filipino leader to-day to see General Chaffee. It was the first meeting between the American general and the leader of the Philippine revolution.

Lieutenant William E. McKinley, of the Ninth Cavalry acted as interpreter.

Aguinaldo was told that he was free to go anywhere he pleased, and General Chaffee asked him if he had any complaint to make of American discourtesy or harshness. Aguinaldo replied that he had no such complaint to make. He told General Chaffee that he was going to visit friends at his home in Cavite lejo, in Cavite province, and inquired what protection the American authorities would afford him. He seemed to be afraid to venture out. General Chaffee replied that Aguinaldo would get the same protection as any other citizen.

The former Filipino leader then asked General Chaffee to prevent the courts from requiring him to testify in civil suits.

General Chaffee replied that he had no authority to grant this request and advised Aguinaldo to make a social call on Acting Civil Governor Wright. This Aguinaldo said he would do, but that he would go at night as he was timid about appearing on the streets in daylight.

The release of the former Filipino leader has renewed speculation as to possible vengeance upon him by friends of Luna and his other enemies. Luna was a Filipino leader whom Aguinaldo caused to be killed in 1899.
