BIG WHEAT CROP READY

FARMERS WILL SOON REAP THEIR HARVEST.

Only Thing They Want Now is a Good Price For Their Crop and Everything Will be Lovely.

Now that one of the best crops of wheat grown in Umatilla county for several years is almost ready to harvest, the farmer is not worrying about the price. A big yield of wheat makes the grower feel good, but when he gets a heavy yield and it commands a good price he is doubly blessed as the two hardly ever go together.

It will only be a few days until harvesting will begin in earnest in the earlier parts of the county. Some barley is already being headed in the Pilot Rock country.

In anticipation of good prices, some of the local wheat dealers and capitalists have begun to negotiate with the farmers for their crops and one or two small yields have already been contracted at from 50 to 51 cents per bushel.

Very little contradicting is being done, however, as the farmers are convinced that if the speculator will offer 50 cents for wheat in the field, he has good reasons for doing so and they prefer to take the chances of getting more rather than selling at 50 cents.

The farmer figures that the speculator will take no chances and the fact that they are trying to contract six weeks before the markets open is ample evidence to lead the rancher to believe that wheat will bring a good price.

In fact, one dealer, who is studying the markets, made the assertion on Tuesday that he believed wheat would open at not less than 55 cents and the indications were it would be higher before snow flies. Anyway, it is up to the buyer and the farmer is very hopeful of increasing his bank account this fall.

BALTIMORE AND OHIO.

One Hundred and Seventy-Nine Battles Fought on or Adjacent to the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

(The Baltimore & Ohio railroad and the Civil War, 1861-1865.) It was the most desirable point of vantage coveted by both federal and confederate armies. In May, 1861, the four federal advance columns concentrated at Parkersburg, W. Va., Harper's Ferry, W. Va., and at Washington. To retain the advantage, the federal government established block houses along the railroad from the Monocacy to the Ohio river, besides the forts at Winchester, Harper's Ferry, Cumberland, Piedmont and Jew Creek (Keyser).
The B. & O. was the base of operations for the federal army for nearly four years and from which the government could not take advance line earlier than November, 1864. The B.
& O. was the means of communication between the west and the army of the Potomac, and was constantly in a continual state of siege. Harper's Ferry, the key to the Shenandoah valley, first famed through the fanatical attempt of John Brown, in defying the laws and customs of his country, was captured and re-captured eight times in three years. The government arsenal and armories which were located there were destroyed by the government to prevent capture. One hundred and seventy-nine battles of greater or less importance were fought on or adjacent to the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, not taking into consideration the innumerable skirmishes.

Most Effective Advertising.

That advertising is the most effective which attracts the eye and appeals to the brain. Strong adjectives may be as much out of taste in an advertisement as in a bit of more sophisticated literature. Exaggeration is always to be avoided. People nowadays demand sincerity in all matters of business. It is observable that all the big and successful advertisers are most careful as to their statements of fact. They realize that confidence is the key-stone in the arch of trade.
Their success came of their jealous regard for their work.

stomach, liver and kidneys and is a pleasant laxative. It is made from tea. It is called Lane's Medicine.

Lane's Family Medicine moves the bowels each day. Price 25c and 50c.
