COMMERCE—TRADE

MUSKMELONS ARE NOW ON THE MARKET.

First Appeared on Tuesday and Sell at 20 Cents Each—Cabbage Goes Down and Eggs Go Up—Other Markets Normal.

Muskmelons are now on the market. The first of these delicious fruits arrived in town Tuesday and are on sale at the various grocery stores at 20 cents apiece. Watermelons will be on the market in a few days.

Very few changes are noticed in the local markets. Cabbage has dropped from 4 cents to 3 cents per pound and new potatoes have dropped a half cent. They have been quoted at 3 cents per pound until the last few days, when they fell to 2½ cents.

Eggs have advanced a notch. They have been retailing at 15 cents, but today are quoted at 20 cents. This takes them almost out of reach for table use and the beef steak will again adorn their places on the breakfast table until they become cheaper. This is not likely until fall and perhaps they will not see another drop until next spring, at which season they always become a drug on the market. A great many eggs have been shipped out from Pendleton during the past few months. They go to Portland and from there are shipped to different places for consumption.

Meats, sugar, coffee, salt and flour remain the same.

Wheat in Portland.

Portland, July 10.—The Commercial Review, in its issue today, says of wheat: The wheat market is lifeless, nothing of consequence coming in and very little is going out. Values are wholly nominal. There are but two grain vessels in port; both will probably pass out in a fortnight.
It is doubtful if the crop this year will come up to the large yield of last year, but it will be in excess of the average owing to the increased acreage. Fields in Whitman county that last April looked dubious give promise of a crop. In Sherman county the late rains have been very beneficial to the spring grain and there is no doubt that this county will raise the largest crop in her history. Umatilla county reports indicate a crop of 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 bushels. Western Oregon that suffered a shortage in 1901, will produce good crops, as reports from every county indicate this. Farmers are selling very little of their grain at present, and exporters are all pretty well stocked up for immediate requirements.

Prices for club wheat are 65c; bluestem, 67@68c; valley, 66c per bushel.
Wheat in San Francisco.

San Francisco, July 10.—The local wheat market is rather quiet. There is very little doing and shippers purchase sparingly. More interest is now directed to the harvest field, where work is being pushed rapidly ahead. Yields reported so far are fully up to expectations—above the average in quantity and quality excellent. Quotations for No. 1 shipping remain steady at $1.13½@1.15 for shipping qualities, milling $1.16½ @1.20 per cental.

Boston Wool.

Boston, July 10.—Wool dealers here wear cheerful faces as the prices are firm and the market continues to have a fairly active demand. The market is firm for territory wools.

The Oregon wools are arriving and are going on a moderate market at about 15 to 17c. Fine Nevada has sold on the scoured basis of 52c, and the range for fine Idaho and Montana is given at 50 to 53c. Fine medium wools are in strong demand at 45@ 47c, clean, and sales of medium on the basis of 40c have been liberal, while scoured medium has been demanded at around 40c, with a good-sized line of No. 1 New Mexican taken at 42½c. California wools are in steady demand and there is a firm tone to the market.
