HOME COUNTY NEWS

ATHENA NEWS NOTES.

Harvest is Nearly On Near That Busy Town.

Athena, July 14.—The residents of Athena are rejoicing over the removal of the O. R. & N. depot from its former location, three-quarters of a mile from the business portion of town, to the lower end of Main street. A week ago the company put a crew of men at work moving the depot from its old site to near the mill. This would have made it go more convenient for the citizens of the town than where it had been and a remonstrance was sent in. The ground had been prepared for the reception of the building but the citizens started out with a petition and it was only a short time until every business man's signature was on the paper, asking the company to put the depot at the foot of Main street. The petition was forwarded to Portland.

David Taylor owned the ground where the depot has been placed and he was asked to name a price on a piece 100x200. His price was $1000. The company refused to pay this, but offered $500, and the citizens along Main street raised the other $500 by public subscription and now the depot is where it ought to have been years ago. The new site is a most desirable one and will be found much more convenient for patrons of the road.

Athena is to have another house of worship. This was decided upon some time ago by the members of the Christian church, and already $4140 has been subscribed for the building. Saturday evening a meeting was called to discuss the plans and start the ball rolling, as those at the head of the movement feel that they have ample assurance of being able to raise the balance of the $5000 wanted for the erection of the church, and are justified in starting the work as soon as possible. The structure is to stand on lots recently purchased from W. H. Reeder, on the corner of Fifth and Adams streets.

The harvest season will soon be on in this community. Grain is ripening very rapidly and it will not be more than two weeks until headers will start in many places, while some early pieces of grain will be harvested before. Haying is almost completed. The farmers are feeling jubilant over the wheat yield. From 35 to 45 and 50 bushels will be harvested from the acre and in some instances farmers are guessing their grain to go 60 bushels to the acre. With a reasonable price this fall, farmers will indeed be in luck.

Now that harvest is near at hand the business men are beginning to feel the effects of the yearly visit of harvest hands. Men are coming in to town from different parts of the country looking for work in the field and while they wait for harvesting to begin, they are spending their money with our people and making times lively.

W. D. Chamberlain, county clerk, spent Sunday with his friends, coming up Saturday evening in company with R. Vance Hutchins, of the East Oregonian, who was the guest of Attorney Will D. Peterson over Sunday.

WESTON WAVES.

Bits of News From That Town and Vicinity.

Weston, July 14.—Hugh Starr, an Elgia business man, has bought a 200 acre farming the Middle Willows valley, paying $6,000 therefor. Mr. Starr was formerly a Weston resident.

John Wright and daughter, Miss Josie, of Walla Walla, are visiting friends in town. They were formerly of Weston. Miss Wright is the guest of Miss Eva Wood who will accompany them on their return to Walla Walla for a visit.

After an absence of over a year, William Key has returned from California. He will remain here with friends for a couple of months when he will return to the Orange Blossom state, having developed a fondness for that climate.

STRUCK BY A RATTLER.

Narrow Escape of Willie Penland From Awful Fate.

Willie Penland was frightened out of several years growth Sunday morning by a rattle snake. He was on the hill, near the school house when something hit his shoe. He looked down and saw a good sized rattle snake coiling to strike him the second time, but he was too quick for Mr. Snake and one spring took him out of its reach. The rattler had hit the young man's shoe on the side and cut clear through the upper but did not reach the flesh. He was too badly frightened to stop to kill the snake and let it get away. Claude Penland went back later and heard two slings in the grass but neither were found and killed. Rattlers are getting quite plentiful in town as this is the second or third narrow escape from their fangs by persons in the past few weeks.

Saves a Woman's Life.
To give up would have meant death for Mrs. Lois Cragg, of Dorchester, Mass. For years she had endured untold misery from severe lung trouble and obstinate cough. "Often," she writes, "I could scarcely breathe and sometimes could not speak. All doctors and remedies failed till I used Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was completely cured." Sufferers from Coughs, Colds, Throat and Lung Trouble need this grand remedy, for it never disappoints. Cure is guaranteed by Tallman Co. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

The largest deal for cut-over lands in the Northwest was recently made by James L. Gates, of Milwaukee. He has purchased 150,000 acres.

TUTUILLA TALK.

Harvesters Are Busy Near That Place These Days.

Tutuilla, July 13.—Christopher Schoene, who has been over from Ritter on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Miller, started home on Tuesday.

A. B. Cooley was over from Cold Springs today, looking after his Tutuilla hay crop.

William Catherman is up from his home at Foster, looking after his interests at Tutuilla. He is suffering from a severe case of poison oak poisoning.

M. H. Gillett started up his horsepower combine on Dan Bell's barley crop yesterday.

William Rhodes, of Upper McKay, passed Tutuilla with a band of mutton sheep for shipment to Seattle.

Bob Hamilton is over from John Day with a band of work horses for the Tutuilla market. This makes his second drive this season. He has been supplying this market with work horses for a number of years, and each succeeding year his horse crop, is possible, is an improvement on the preceding one.

The bridge across Tutuilla at the James Jacobs place, is badly in need of a little attention from the county court in the way of repairs; it being at present in a decidedly impassible condition.

Mr. and Mrs. James Shockley have returned from a vacation at Teal Springs.

O. K. Davis, of Kansas City, Mo., has recently been at Tutuilla on a visit to his brother, Dell Davis. He is on a sight-seeing trip through the country, which brought him through California on his way here, and will take him through the Canadian Northwest on his homeward way to Missouri.

William Walker was up from Stage Gulch last week. He has one 14-foot header running which cut 250 acres last week; a pretty good record.

E. L. Smith and George Meeker were Tutuilla visitors today.

E. Knight, Balfour, Guthrie & Co.'s agent at Pendleton, was a Tutuilla visitor today. He has some grain at Mission which he wanted harvested in the immediate future.

Joseph Holmes is working with a header and Columbia thresher on Chris Nelson's crop.

A combined harvester and cook house which left Pendleton for Tutuilla on Saturday, had a somewhat tempestuous voyage, the cook house taking a roll down Tutuilla grade, and the harvester going through the bridge.

Andrew Donaldson is up from Butler Creek, where he has been stopping of late, for the harvest.

Walter Wells was out from Pendleton last week working on his Tutuilla hay crop.

Harvesting will be quite generally under way in this section this week, a number of outfits taking the field tomorrow.

W. H. Connerly will finish his harvest at Tutuilla and move over northwest of Pendleton on Wednesday.

Sam Bitner will commence operations with his header and thresher on Monday.
