INVESTIGATING HORSE DISEASE.

Cheyenne Doctor Is Looking After Diseased Shipments.

Dr. G. T. Seabury, of Cheyenne, Wyo., state veterinary surgeon of Wyoming, is in the city a guest of the Idanha, says the Boise Daily Statesman. He is here for the purpose of looking into a shipment of horses which passed through Cheyenne a few days ago. The horses were diseased and it is his purpose to ascertain, if possible, the cause of the disease, that steps may be taken to prevent any further shipments of the diseased animals which might spread the contagion among the horses of his own state.

The shipment numbered 665 animals. They were en route to St. Louis and were taken from the cars at Cheyenne to feed. While feeding, 42 animals died in the Cheyenne yards. Dr. Seabury was consulted and, as no more died, he pronounced the horses water footed. However, before they had proceeded far on their journey, a number of the other horses died and Dr. Seabury fears some malignant epidemic, with terrible results, among the herds of the West. If this is found to be the case, steps will be taken at once to stamp it out.

The shipment included 24 cars, 19 of them being loaded at Caldwell and the remainder at Ontario, Or.

INDIAN AFFAIRS.

They Are Better Handled Now Than Ever Before.

Special Indian Commissioner C. G. Hoyt, of North Yakima, was in Spokane recently and talked entertainingly of the department with which he is connected. Mr. Hoyt has held his present position for six years, during which time he has acted as assessor of the Indian claims for the right of way of the Great Northern and the Kettle Valley lines through the Colville reservation, he negotiat-

PERSONAL MENTION.

E. E. Ferguson is at Hotel Pendleton from The Dalles.

W. H. Smith, a Walla Walla business man, is in town.

Will Wyrick, who has been ill with fever, is able to be out.

J. R. Dickson and family are spending the heated season at Seaside.

Mrs. Laura Hinckle, who has been visiting here, left this morning for her home in Wallace, Idaho.

A marriage license was issued this forenoon to Edward Brisbols and Caroline St. Dennis, both of Umatilla county.

Miss Etta Hexter and Miss Irene Hexter left this morning for Portland, where they go to make their home.

Miss Edna Keylor, who has been the guest of Mrs. C. E. Roosevelt, left this morning for her home in Walla Walla.

"Bert" Gardner, the genial day clerk at Hotel Pendleton, left Wednesday evening for Hot Lake to spend a few days.

Conductor Nash, who is well known on the run between this city and La Grande, has taken a vacation, which he is spending at Hot Lake.

Marriage licenses were issued Wednesday afternoon by the county clerk to Charles R. Lisle and Bessie Taylor, both of Umatilla county.

J. M. Hill, ex-ladn registrar, and one of Walla Walla's most prominent business men, is registered at the Golden Rule. He is accompanied by his wife.

S. B. Calderhead, general freight and passenger agent for the W. & C. R., was in town Wednesday. Mr. Calderhead says wheat is damaged very little along the "high line."

Stephen A. Lowell left Wednesday evening for Canyon City to help in the prosecution of Crisman, for the murder of Johnson, instead of going this morning, as was stated yesterday.

William Townsend is in town from Freewater. He says the wind of Monday evening did little damage to grain in the east end, but fruit has suffered fearfully by being blown off the trees.

Mrs. Mary Epple and family, Misses May and Rosene Epple, and Miss Rita Howland, have gone to the mountains to spend the heated season among the pines. They will camp near Hidaway.

Charley Kanasek has returned from several days spent in the vicinity of Bingham Springs fishing. He tells some good-sized fish stories, saying it was no trouble to catch the limit of 125 any day.

Charles V. Brown, a prominent business man of Astoria, is in town on a vacation tour. Mr. Brown says Pendleton has the appearance of a live town and he is well pleased with the rustle shown by the business men here.

Rev. W. F. Martin, of College Place, has been in town several days looking after the interests of the Seventh Day Adventists' school at College Place. Mr. Martin says he has the promise of several students from here for the coming year.

Canyon Eagle: J. A. Sparrow, ex-county judge of Harney county, and C. F. McKinney, a saw mill man, both of Burns, were in town on business Monday. Mr. McKinney was on his way to visit his daughter, Mrs. Purington, at Pendleton, and Judge Sparrow was on his way to visit friends and relatives in Michigan.

John Crow, an extensive farmer from Tutuilla, is in town this forenoon. He says the damage from the wind in his section was quite severe. All the wheat that was ripe shattered badly and barley was injured very largely. He says a part of his wheat will fall short at least 10 bushels to the acre on account of the storm.

R. E. Tarbet, of the firm of Bennett & Tarbet, proprietors of the Fair store, has returned from a business and pleasure trip of two weeks. At Spokane he purchased a large bill of merchandise for their store and from there he went to Newport, Wash., and visited his brother. He also stopped at Colfax and transacted business, and then spent a few days with his parents at Pomeroy. He reports a very pleasant trip.

A letter was received this morning from Arthur G. Renn, who is now bookkeeper on the United States training ship Pensacola, stating he is well and the weather is fine at San Francisco. Arthur left Pendleton last winter, joining the navy. He says he is well pleased with his surroundings and position, although he was not satisfied at first. He sends his regards to old friends and especially the young ladies.

Upper Des Moines Editors. Boone, Ia., July 17.—Members of the Upper Des Moines Editorial Association are here in force for their 24th semi-annual meeting. The program begins this evening with an address by B. B. Herbert, of Chicago, the veteran founder of the National Editorial Association. Tomorrow there will be two sessions for the consideration of numerous questions of interest to the publisher. The officers in charge of the convention are: President, M. C. Maloney, Fort Dodge; vice-president, C. O. Carter Boone; secretary and treasurer, A. M. Adams, Humboldt.

Laid to Rest.

The funeral of Geraldine Fitz Gerald occurred this forenoon from the Catholic church. The services were under the auspices of the Red Men of which order Mr. Fitz Gerald is a member. After the services at the church the bier was followed to Olney cemetery by a large concourse of friends who witnessed the last solemn rites over the remains of the deceased, cut off in early life by the angel of death.

Locating Smokeless Guns.

The English war office has many schemes for training their soldiers, and which are generally followed up by practical demonstrations. The latest device for locating guns firing smokeless powder, and its success will mark a new era in military progress. It is also interesting to consider the wonderful advancement in medicine during the past fifty years. It was about that time that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters was first introduced, and during those years has made a wonderful record of cures of such ailments as indigestion, heart burn, dyspepsia, belching, constipation and liver and kidney troubles, that today it occupies the foremost position as a family medicine. Don't fail to try it. Our Private Stamp is over the neck of every bottle.

North Dakota Bar.

Chataqua, N. D., July 17.—The annual meeting of the North Dakota Bar Association which opened here today is the best attended gathering of its kind ever held in the state. President Seth Newman, of Fargo, called the gathering to order and delivered his annual address. Other speakers at the opening session were Professor John E. Blair and Hon. Guy C. H. Corliss, both of the University of Law, who took as their subject education and admission to the bar. Officers for the year will be chosen tomorrow.

Mississippi Chautauqua Opens.

Crystal Springs, Miss., July 17.—The eighth annual session of the Mississippi Chautauqua assembly opened today and will continue until the end of the month. The session promises to be the best in the history of the assembly. No expense has been spared to obtain the best platform talent, and every entertainment will be full of interest. The attendance of visitors already here represents many part of the state.

BALTIMORE AND OHIO.

One Hundred and Seventy-Nine Battles Fought on or Adjacent to the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

(The Baltimore & Ohio railroad and the Civil War, 1861-1865.) It was the most desirable point of vantage coveted by both federal and confederate armies. In May, 1861, the four federal advance columns concentrated at Parkersburg, W. Va., Wheeling, W. Va., Harper's Ferry, W. Va., and at Washington. To retain the advantage, the federal government established block houses along the railroad from the Monocacy to the Ohio river, besides the forts at Winchester, Harper's Ferry, Cumberland, Piedmont and New Creek (Keyser). The B. & O. was the base of operations for the federal army for nearly four years and from which the government could not take advance line earlier than November, 1864. The B. & O. was the means of communication between the west and the army of the Potomac, and was constantly in a continual state of siege. Harper's Ferry, the key to the Shenandoah valley, first famed through the fanatical attempt of John Brown, in defying the laws and customs of his country, was captured and recaptured eight times in three years. The government arsenal and armories which were located there were destroyed by the government to prevent capture. One hundred and seventy-nine battles of greater or less importance were fought on or adjacent to the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, not taking into consideration the innumerable skirmishes.

All through trans from St. Louis, Louisville, Cincinnati, Chicago, Columbus, Cleveland, Wheeling and Pittsburg to the east run via Washington. Send stamp for battlefield map. D. B. Martin, Manager Passenger Traffic, Baltimore, Md.; B. N. Austin, General Passenger Agent, Chicago, Ill.

Governor Stone, of Pennsylvania, has appointed General Frank Reeder of Easton, and William F. Hill of Crawford county, members of the Pennsylvania committee to the Louisiana Purchase Exposition.
