TWO AWFUL GAMES

INDIANS SCALPED BEET PULLERS IN LONG GAMES.

Saturday's Agony Column Read: Indians, 10; Beet Pullers, 5. While the Sunday Massacre Totalled Up 22 for the Home Boys and 7 for the Visitors.

Club	Won.	Lost.	P. C.
Pendleton	7	1	.875
Baker City	4	4	.500
La Grande	3	5	.375
Valla Waila	2	6	.250

The last two games of the series with La Grande resulted in their leaving the city the worst scalped foe the Indians have ever gone up against.

The two exhibitions were more like massacres than baseball games, and when the Indians finally stopped piling up tallies it was because they were tired of running bases and rather lost interest in the game.

Saturday's game was a beautiful exhibition of erratic playing with a few good plays to keep up the interest, while Sunday's game was worse with several features which almost redeemed it.

Saturday the people sweltering in the shade of the grand stand soon became tired of the one-sided exhibition and even when "Baby" Hays fanned Dennis Shea for the third time only a mild burst of applause was awarded the clever little pitcher for his punishment of the big catcher who had boasted that he would get two hits the first time he went against the "Wonder," and that La Grande would have the air so full of Hays that the lad would never come down.

Had Hays been given the support usually accorded by the Indians to the man in the box, it would have been another shut-out for La Grande. Mills, who has until recently been on the pitching staff of the Sharpshooters, was in the box for La Grande for the first four innings. He was batted so freely that McBirney was substituted and he succeeded in shutting off the locals with only two more runs.

When the Fun Began.

Brown started the fireworks with a two-bagger, going on to third on the wild throw of Castner from left field, and scoring on Shea's passed ball. Fay was safe at first on an error of Adams stole second, and sacrificed to third by Stovall and scored on Schmidt's two-base hit.

Pendleton clinched the victory in the third by a combination of hits, and with the aid of four errors. With the bases full, Schmidt lined a double to center field and scored. Brown, Fay and Stovall. In the fourth Fay singled, stole second and scored on Stovall's safe hit. Stovall got to third on felder's choice and Cox walked to first and started to steal second. In the attempt to catch Cox between bases Stovall started for home and scored on a wild throw of Brookier.

Pendleton's two runs in the fifth were obtained through the medium of an error by Crawford, a base on balls to Penland, a sacrifice by Rhea and two singles by Fay and Stovall, which scored Hays and Penland.

La Grande Made Runs.

La Grande's first run came in the fifth when Crawford drew a pass, stole second and was scored by Menefee's single. The visitors got another tally in the eighth when Shay reached first on a fumble by Schmidt. Black, who was put in to run bases, Shay having been hurt, stole second and scored on a wild pitch by Hays. The Beet Pullers made three runs in the ninth on errors by Schmidt and Cox, stolen bases by Adams and Menefee and hits by Crawford and Ray, scoring Crawford, Adams and Menefee.

Cox, Ray and Wilner each made difficult catches in the out field. Schmidt won the batting honors of the game, having two two-baggers. A dog fight which took place under the grand stand during the game was the most interesting thing which happened on the grounds.

Sunday's Game.

Pendleton took the fourth straight game from La Grande Sunday in an exhibition which careless might call baseball, but what in reality was only batting practice for the home team. So far as fielding was concerned the honors were even, each team making 10 errors, but when it came to batting the Indians did all sorts of stunts with the willow, while the Beet Pullers found it exceedingly hard to connect with the wily curves of our Mr. Taylor. Nine scattered hits was the best they could do and "Sats" was very stingy, issuing no passes to first.

New Men Made Good.

Mr. Schills, the gentleman who made his debut on third yesterday, walked straight into the hearts of the fans by knocking the ball over the right field fence. This is the first

The THOMPSON HARDWARE CO.

LEWIS GOT THE MONEY.

"Terrible Turk" Was Unable to Tip Him Over Saturday Night.

The "Terrible Turk" met his match when he came to Pendleton. He came here with his manager's several days ago and a challenge was issued that he could throw any man in town. The Turk was a pretty large fellow and looked scary to many, but after the wrestling exhibition last Thursday night his manager repeated his challenge in the opera house and one man was in the audience who was not afraid of the big fellow. This was Frank S. Lewis, who tends bar at the "Gratz." Mr. Lewis offered to wrestle the Turk three bouts with 10 minutes between bouts. This was accepted and the Turk met his match when he went against Lewis Saturday night. The Turk was to throw Lewis in the 21 minutes or forfeit $50. If Lewis threw him he was to forfeit $100.

After the first bout the Turk gave up the fight. He saw there was no chance to down Lewis, and from that time on he worked on the defensive, apparently preferring to forfeit the $50 rather than take any chances of letting Lewis throw him and win the $100.

Lewis is the best built man of the two. While the Turk is a large man his muscles would not compare with those of his opponent Saturday night. He is simply a big duffer who throws his men by main force and has the weight to back him. When he goes up against skill, combined with muscle and good weight, the Turk is not in it. Lewis is skilled in the art of wrestling, but will lack 50 pounds of weighing as much as the Turk.

A small house witnessed the match, but those who did were well pleased.

THAT SPITTING ORDINANCE.

But Little Attention Being Paid to it Now Days.

A crusade was started in Pendleton several months ago against the nuisance of spitting on the sidewalks, in public buildings and on stairways. For several months the sidewalks were kept comparatively clean, but people are again getting careless and it is no uncommon thing to see great puddles of tobacco juice on Main street walks where it has been expected by the filthy tobacco users. There is room for the police to be a little more vigilant. A few arrests and fines for expectorating on the walks will tend toward stopping this filthy habit more than anything and the sooner an example is made of someone the better.

It is nothing infrequent to have strangers come into Pendleton and remark about the filthy looking streets. They have room to remark, too. Pendleton started out last winter to clean up and brighten up so as to become one of the cleanest towns in the country, but it is falling by the wayside. Now is a good time to resume the vigilance and see that Main street, at least, is kept free from filth as much as possible. There is little excuse for the streets being in their present condition.

Gold Watch Free.

A gold watch will be given away at the merry-go-round to the most popular young lady. Every purchaser of a riding ticket is entitled to a voting ticket and the lady receiving the most votes will receive the prize. The contest will close Saturday night, July 26th. The watch is on exhibition at W. E. Garrison's.

Many Danced.

The picnic Saturday and Sunday nights at Kine's grove attracts more people each week. Saturday night and Sunday afternoon and night the large platform was crowded to overflowing most of the time with jolly merry-makers. A good time was had and everything went off with quietness.

For a cool, refreshing glass of Schlitz beer go to Gratz's.

UNBEARABLE ITCHING

But It Would Be a Relief to Tear Skin From Back. Cured by CUTICURA.

I had a breaking out all over my back. The itching was almost unbearable, and at times I felt that it would be a relief to tear the skin off my back. I tried doctors' prescriptions, and several remedies, without relief. I read of your CUTICURA remedy in the Indianapolis News. After three applications, my back felt better, and by the time the box of CUTICURA Ointment was half used the breaking out had all disappeared.
