Pendleton took the eighth straight game from La Grande Sunday in a slugging match which was exciting for the first six innings, but which turned out to be the same old story. Bolin, the new pitcher for the Beet Pullers, was batted with a freedom which bordered on familiarity. He was wild, giving 10 passes to first and 17 hits were made off him.
Wilner opened the game for Pendleton, but was not in good form and in the sixth Hays was put in the box. Adams behind the bat, caught a fine game.

This game was the best game which the Indians have played during this series. Schills acted as captain in the absence of Brown.

Good Until Seventh.
The game was a pretty one up to the seventh, when the Indians landed on Bolin for seven hits, which, with two passes and two errors, netted eight runs.

Schills made a nice stop of a grounder with one hand. Cox played a fine game in center. Hays made a home run over the left field fence. The umpiring of Mitchell was, as usual, unsatisfactory.

SATURDAY'S GAME.

An Exciting Contest and a Narrow Escape for the Indians.

The Indians had a narrow escape Saturday, winning out by one score after they had the game almost cinched in the fourth inning, by making five runs. Rol Brown, the pitcher, who, while with the Yellow Kids, refused to play off the tie with Pendleton, was in the box and as of old, the Indians batted him all over the lot. A home run, two doubles and seven singles in the first four innings, resulted in 10 runs. Brown was taken out and McGucken was substituted. The new man pitched a good, steady game, allowing only three scattered hits.

Beet Stock Was Up.
In the ninth it looked favorable to the Beet Pullers winning the game. Black worked his little game of being hit by the pitcher and was allowed to take first. Brown was safe on error of Hays. Shay attempted to bunt, but flew out to Taylor who sent the ball to first, catching Brown off the bag. Thompson singled, scoring Black and Castner flew out to Schmidt.

In the fourth inning Catcher Brown got the thumb of his right hand in the way of one of "Slat's" curves and it was broken. Rhea was put in his place behind the bat. Brown will be out of the game for two weeks at least.

Star Plays Made.
"Tamarac" Adams made the star catch of the game in center field, by nabbing a long fly against the fence. Adams, of the La Grande team, also made a very pretty running catch. Fay, at short, played a good game, while Black, at third, did some fine work. "Big Fellow" Stovall, as usual, won the batting honors with a homer, a double and a single.

Umpiring Was Fierce.
The umpiring of Mitchell was vile. Such an array of rotten decisions in one game was never seen before on any diamond. Some of the verdicts were so rank that it was ridiculous to think any man with eyes could be guilty of such hallucinations. It is generally conceded that Mitchell desires to be fair, but his work is a parody on the real thing.

They Split Even.
At Baker City the Saturday and Sunday games split even, the Gold Diggers taking the first with a score of 5 to 3, while Walla Walla walked away with the second by the respectable score of 9 to 4. The games were interesting, and there were a number of spectacular individual plays in each, but team work was apparently lacking on both sides.

A DOUBLE MASSACRE.

New Kind of Game at the Baseball Park Sunday Afternoon.
A large and enthusiastic audience consisting of half a dozen women, 10 or 12 men and about 20 small boys, gathered at the Alta baseball grounds Sunday afternoon to witness a brand-new kind of game placed on the boards by the printers and Wonders. Before the performance began it was scheduled to be a game of baseball, but anyone who ever witnessed a game of ball could tell with their eyes shut that it wasn't baseball. It resembled ping pong considerably in the fact that the balls were lost the greater part of the time, yet it couldn't have been ping pong, because there was only one bat.

Someone suggested that it was cricket, but it could not have been that, because there were not enough players and the "pitchers" twisted themselves out of shape too much when delivering the ball; and again, a baseball bat was used, and regulation league balls, so it must have been baseball after all, but if it was, it was so successfully disguised that no fan on earth would have recognized it.

The show was billed to run until the crowd got tired, which was before the performance commenced, owing to the long wait while a bat was being run to earth, but was called at the end of the second inning, owing to the lateness of the hour and the fact that the printers' outfield had got lost in the shuffle and gone home; and anyway, the score book was full, so there was no room for more errors to be marked up.

The game throughout was an exhibition of good intentions and bad errors on both sides, and when the deal was called off a deep-seated sigh of relief went up from the audience. Both sides claim they won, the printers, because they got through first, and the Wonders, because they were last on the field, and as the scorer was unable to decide the question, both sides were satisfied to rest on their laurels.

The crowd which saw the show got considerable amusement out of it and seemed well satisfied; at least no one kicked for their money back excepting a couple of boys who had climbed over the fence.

GILBERT BRANSTETTER DEAD

WALLA WALLA NEWS

REPORTS OF DAMAGE TO CROPS ARE COMING IN.

Not Thought Damage is Great, Except in Individual Cases—Sunday Closing in Full Effect for First Time.

Walla Walla, July 28.—Reports of damage to crops by the winds and rain of a few days ago, keep coming in from the country, where harvest is in progress and grain is being cut. In some places it is reported that the loss will be heavy, especially in barley and early fall grain, while most of the fields of fall grain have lost some by shattering. In heavy places the grain suffers most, and in that way the loss will be heavier than was at first expected.

From the light soil sections come reports of injury to spring grain by the continued hot weather. Heads are being pinched at the very top, and unless the hot spell breaks shortly there will be considerable loss from this source. For over a week the days have been very hot and the moisture in the ground is not sufficient to make up for the unfavorable condition. It is safe to say that the spring grain generally will be injured by the heat of the past week, though it is impossible to say to what extent at this time.

Walla Walla was a closed town yesterday, only hotels, restaurants, undertakers and livery stables being ready for business. The saloons, stores and ice cream stands were all closed and the town wore a quiet appearance all day, despite the ball game in the afternoon. This is the first time that real closing has been in effect, as heretofore some places have remained open to test the law or hoping that the law would be construed in their favor. So far as known there was no effort to evade the law openly, and it is not likely that further trouble will be made.

Fishing parties were in order yesterday, and many families spent the day along Mill creek and in the shade of the mountain resorts. The streets were quiet, and the usual crowds were scarcely augmented by the fact of closed doors in the saloons and confectionary resorts.

A COWARDLY ATTEMPT.

To Destroy a Combined Harvester Near Walla Walla.

Walla Walla, July 28.—An attempt has just been discovered which was intended to destroy a large combined harvester belonging to Drumheller Bros., a few days ago. The Drumheller Bros., are large farmers of the Walla Walla valley and have one of the most extensive combined harvesting outfits in this section. A partly burned candle was discovered in the cylinder among a lot of rubbish which had been placed in the machine. It is thought that the person guilty of the attempt to destroy the machine placed the lighted short candle in the cylinder thinking when it burned to the stub it would ignite the rubbish and destroy the outfit. In the meantime he would be several miles away, or so far away that he would not be located. Luckily a draught of air extinguished the small blaze of the candle and the machine, worth several hundred dollars, was not destroyed as intended.

There is only one theory advanced other than that it might have been some person antagonistic to the Drumhellers and attempting revenge for some real or imaginary wrong, and that is the possibility of it being some one hostile to the use of combined machines. If this was the case the hope was to destroy the outfit so the Drumhellers would have to harvest their crop with headers and threshers and consequently more men would be employed in the work.

MALARIA An Invisible Enemy to Health

Means bad air, and whether it comes from the low lands and marshes of the country, or the filthy sewers and drain pipes of the cities and towns, its effect upon the human system is the same. These atmospheric poisons are breathed into the lungs and taken up by the blood, and the foundation of some long, debilitating illness is laid. Chills and fever, chronic dyspepsia, torpid and enlarged liver, kidney troubles, jaundice and biliousness are frequently due to that invisible foe, Malaria. Noxious gases and unhealthy matter collect in the system because the liver and kidneys fail to act, and are poured into the blood current until it becomes so polluted and sluggish that the poisons literally break through the skin, and carbuncles, boils, abscesses, ulcers and various eruptions of an indolent character appear, depleting the system, and threatening life itself. The germs and poisons that so oppress and weaken the body and destroy the life-giving properties of the blood, rendering it thin and watery, must be overcome and carried out of the system before the patient can hope to get rid of Malaria and its effects.

S. S. S. does this and quickly produces an entire change in the blood, reaching every organ and stimulating them to vigorous, healthy action. S. S. S. possesses not only purifying but tonic properties, and the general health improves, and the appetite increases almost from the first dose. There is no Mercury, Potash, Arsenic or other mineral in S. S. S. It is strictly and entirely a vegetable remedy. Write us about your case, and our physicians will gladly help you by their advice to regain your health. Book on blood and skin diseases sent free.
