CHARGE OF FOUR HUNDRED

BUFFALO BILL'S ROUGH RIDERS IN STIRRING CHARGE.

Although it is a Peaceful One it Proves What Would be Done in Face of an Enemy.

Tennyson's stirring lines descriptive of the charge of the Gallant Six Hundred on the Russian guns at Balaclava have become a classic, and embalms a gallant deed heroically performed. In the arena of the Wild West, Col. Cody's Four Hundred Horsemen make a peaceful charge, but it is easy to see that on occasion, these Rough Riders of the World would be as ready to charge an enemy's artillery as were Lord Cardigan's fearless men.

The United States cavalrymen who come from barracks and field have had their full share of active duty on the Western plains, in Porto Rico, Cuba and the Philippine Islands.

The German Cuirassiers have flashed and fished their sabres in the grand maneuvers. Some of the Cossacks accompanied the impetuous Skobeloff when he crossed the Balkan mountains. Among the Vaqueros are veterans who assisted in driving Maximilian and the French out of Mexico.

Each of the red warriors has earned his title and war bonnet among the rolling hills and prairies or in the deep shadows of the Rock mountains. Baden-Powell's troopers and the Colonial Horse won medals for valor in the South African veldt.

The Cubans fought Spain for ten long weary years. The Roosevelt Rough Riders made a worldwide fame at Siboney and San Juan Hill. The Bedouins are from the desert where they still dispute the possession of Algeria with the French.

The cowboys are hardened by danger and skirmish. In fact the entire Congress of Rough Riders have graduated from the school of war as practiced by all the nations of the earth.

It is well to remember this fact, for though they ride gracefully in the Wild West arena, they are men who have ridden under fire.

Col. Cody himself a Congressional Medalist, might well call his exhibition a school for the mounted soldier. Buffalo Bill is announced to visit here on August 20.

Saves a Woman's Life.

To give up would have meant death for Mrs. Lois Cragg, of Dorchester, Mass. For years she had endured untold misery from severe lung trouble and obstinate cough. "Often," she writes, "I could scarcely breathe and sometimes could not speak. All doctors and remedies failed till I used Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was completely cured." Sufferers from Coughs, Colds, Throat and Lung Trouble need this grand remedy, for it never disappoints. Cure is guaranteed by Tallman Co. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.
