HUNTING SEASON

GROUSE ARE NOW OPEN TO BE SLAUGHTERED.

Season Opened at Midnight July 31, and Lovers of the Hunt Can Now Enjoy Themselves.

You can now go hunting for grouse! At midnight last night the closed season for these game birds went out of effect in the state of Oregon and from now until the first day of December they may be slaughtered.

There is a string on this open season, however. No man is allowed to kill them for the market until the last of the season. For fifteen days before the closing of the season they can be killed and sold in the market or shipped out of the country.

Those buying grouse are also held to certain restrictions. Everyone buying for himself or for the market, locally or to ship out of the state is required to keep an accurate account of the birds bought. This record of buying or coming into the possession of the birds must be kept so that any game warden or citizen can see it and know just the amount of birds bought, who from and what they are for. He must also keep a record of where they are shipped to, if out of the state.

Some Provisions of the Law. The law provides against trapping or ensnaring of these game birds at any time and the only way a man is allowed to hunt them is with gun.

Another thing seldom thought of by hunters is the fact that it is unlawful for any man to enter standing grain for the purpose of hunting birds or let a dog do so without the consent of the owner. Following is the law on this:

The Law Says: "It shall be unlawful for any person at any time to enter into any standing or growing grain, or upon any enclosed premises not the property of the person entering into or upon the same, with intent to catch, recover, take or kill any bird, or wild fowl or wild animal, or to permit any dog or dogs with which such persons may then be hunting to do so for such purpose, without permission from the owner or person in charge of such premises."

Heavy Fines Imposed.

The penalty for the non-observance of the above laws is quite severe. Violators of the acts protecting game birds or wild animals are punished by a fine not less than $15 and more than $200, together with the costs of prosecution, and by imprisonment in the county jail not less than seven or more than 100 days, or by both, the fine and imprisonment.

Quick Lunch Price Goes Up.

New York, Aug. 1.—When the clerks, bookkeepers and other patrons of the quick lunch rooms in the downtown district of New York had satisfied the inner man with the usual midday repast today they were presented with pay checks which were five and ten cents in excess of the usual amounts. This was the result of the combination recently formed by the restaurant proprietors to control prices, which became effective today. Staple dishes such as ham and beans have been raised from 10 to 15 cents, and the prices of sandwiches, cakes and other articles of food usually found on the lunch counters have been increased in proportion. The proprietors justify their action on the plea that it was made necessary by the increased cost of meats and other supplies. Investigation, however, fails to sustain the truth of this statement. On Park Row, opposite the postoffice, stands a modest little all-night "beanery," which, despite its apparent insignificance is one of the best known places of the kind in the metropolis. The founder of this place retired some years ago after having made a fortune of $800,000 from the sale of beef and beans at ten cents a plate, and the present proprietor, who refused to enter the new combine, says he expects to emulate the example of his predecessor, and that too without any increasing of prices.

$25.00 Reward.

I will give $25 to the person who will name the exact price of December wheat in Chicago, at the close of business, October 1st. Costs absolutely nothing to guess. Books now open at new office, 120 Court street. I. L. LAY & CO.
