FARMERS OF WALLA WALLA VALLEY WANT TO SEE HILL.

Wish to Discuss With He and the Other Railway Magnates Questions of Deep Interest to Both the Railways and the Farmers.

Walla Walla, Aug. 1 .-- An effort is ence in this city between the presidents of the great railroad companies For All Kinds of Building Material, and the farmers, similar to the proposed meetings at Davenport and Colfax next week. Yesterday a petition was circulated and freely signed, asking that the railroad men meet the farmers in this city. The petition was addressed to Presidents Hill, Mellen and Mohler. In substance, it asks:

"In view of the fact that arrangements have been made for a meeting between yourselves and the farmers of the Big Bend and Palouse coun-DAMON LODGE, NO. 4.—KNIGHTS OF tries, we, the undersigned, farmers, Pythlas. John Dooley Dead.

John Dooley, one of the wealthiest men in Walla Walla, died yesterday, aged 70 years. Mr. Dooley had resided in Walla Walla county continuously for 45 years and had accumulated a fortune in land and property of every sort. Mr. Dooley was an Irishman, hav- the Domestic laundry is famous for. ing immigrated from his native soil to Canada. In 1858 he was engaged in surveying the international boundary line between the United States and British Columbia, when he made his first trip to this section and deday he engaged in stock-raising, later in the butcher business, and still later in lands. For a number of years he has been practically retired. Last winter he was troubled with a corn and attempted to treat the irritating spot with a razor. The treatment was too severe, it seems, and blood poisoning set in, from which trouble he never recovered, his death being due largely to that cause, been prominent in this city for many years, especially in Catholic circles. He leaves a widow and four children.
