Little Girls' Wash Dresses

Any little girl from two to fourteen years old can be fitted with one of these little suits in Chambray, Gingham, Percale, Crash and Madras. The materials are really excellent for the hard service they are likely to encounter, and with the trimmings and splendid making these dresses would be a "good buy" at twice what we ask for them. The styles will please the little girls and mothers too. They're cheaper than you can make them—prettier too, than most people can make.

ABOUT ADAMS PEOPLE.

Personal News Gleaned From the Adams Advance.

Joe Noble, of Pendleton, was in town this week.

G. B. Arbogast transacted business at Pendleton Tuesday.

George Minger, of Pendleton, paid Adams a visit Monday.

Work has started on the addition to the public school building.

Erich Hovin, of Pendleton, is spending the week in Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Bentley, visited at Pendleton yesterday.

L. G. Pell transacted business at Pendleton Tuesday.

J. H. Roulstone transacted business at Athena Monday.

J. T. Lieuallen transacted business at Pendleton Saturday.

George Peringer, of Pendleton, was in the city Wednesday.

Albert Harala went down to Pendleton yesterday.

Miss Gertrude Hunt, of Pendleton, visited with Mrs. M. A. Ferguson in this city last Monday.

The work on the new bridge on Center street is now complete and helps out the appearance of that thoroughfare.

Mrs. and Mrs. E. H. Brunson, of Newberg, Ore., came to the city this morning in search of a new home.

Mr. Brunson after looking the field over decided that Adams looked good to him, and at once rented the E. H. Swisher residence on the south end of Main street. They leave for Pendleton on the evening train to look after their household goods which will at once be shipped to this point.

Mr. Brunson intends going into business here. He also states that several other parties will arrive here in the very near future to look over the field, and if satisfied they also will embark in business.

MILTON MENTION.

Notes of the Doings of Inhabitants in That Lively Burg.

Milton, Aug. 3.—A stranger, visiting Milton for the first time, and noting the quiet appearance of the streets during these warm days, would naturally think the town was dull, but such is not the case. The quietness above referred to is only the rest between times. The shipments of small fruit for the season are about over, and while the crop was not as large as it has been in other years, or even as large as the estimate called for, yet the fruit-grower has little to complain of, for the price has been good all through the season, largely making up for the shortage in the crop. The peaches are almost a total failure this year in this vicinity, but the prospects for a fine apple crop are growing brighter every day.

Real estate continues to move in this part of the county. This week Archie Spence sold his 20-acre tract, one mile north of town, to Amos Richardson. Consideration, $2600. The foundation for C. P. Strain's new block is nearly finished, and work will begin on the walls in a few days.

William Wormington has nearly completed a neat cottage on Main street, the cost of which will approximate $900.

Clay Gorden is building a three-room extension to his residence property on Main street, at a cost of $1000, and F. M. Kent is remodeling his home on Second street, to the tune of $900.

Owing to the smallpox scare the mayor has requested the churches and lodges to omit their services for the present.

Freewater News.

Freewater, Aug. 3.—The inhabitants of Freewater, or a very large majority of them, have gone to the mountains, and they announce their intention of staying there until the weather man rings in a change in his department.

The Freewater berry crop has fallen short this year, but the later fruit promises to more than make up the loss.

B. E. Boyer, of Arlington, has rented W. T. Wright's new store building, and he will open a fair store in it in a few days.

Yesterday A. S. Pearson, Freewater's real estate man, sold his residence property to Charles Culey. Consideration, $700.

There are three cases of smallpox in Freewater at present, two of them W. F. Weber and a child of Mr. Broxen, have a severe form of the disease. The patients are quarantined and no further spread of the disease is apprehended.

HAPPINESS AT LAST.

Miss Helen Hawkes, After Pathetic Experience, Will Wed.

New York, Aug. 4.—The happy sequel to the sorrowful romance of Miss Helen P. Hawkes, a well known society woman of Brooklyn, has just been made public. Miss Hawkes will soon wed Mr. William D. Malane, of Syracuse. Behind the announcement of this betrothal there lies the pathetic story of a romance that once promised happiness, but which culminated in a domestic tragedy, and which found a climax in the annulment of the marriage of Miss Hawkes to George Howard and the banishment of her self-confessed bigamist husband to Sing Sing prison.

Last week Bishop McDonnell, of Brooklyn returned from Rome, bringing to Miss Helen Hawkes the papers containing the papal decree which declared her marriage to Howard "void from the first." Then followed the announcement of her forth coming marriage to Mr. Malane.

Miss Helen Hawkes is the daughter of Mr. Henry Hawkes, superintendent of distribution and repairs in the Brooklyn water department. He is a wealthy and influential resident of that borough, residing in a handsome stone front mansion in Prospect place.

Miss Hawkes has for some years moved in the exclusive social set of Brooklyn. Two years ago George Howard appeared on the social horizon of this particular set and immediately became an ardent admirer of Miss Hawkes. Howard was an electrician, with a salary that did not seem at all commensurate with his expensive tastes. He dressed in the height of fashion. Automobiles were then the possession of the very wealthy only, but Howard was the fortunate possessor of one and in it he and Miss Hawkes were conspicuous figures about the boulevards.

When Miss Hawkes' engagement to George Howard was announced all Brooklyn society looked upon it with congratulatory approval, all save the brother of Miss Hawkes, who disliked and distrusted his dashing and prospective brother-in-law.

On September 17, 1900, Miss Hawkes became Mrs. Howard, and after an extended honeymoon the couple settled down to housekeeping in Brooklyn. The suspicions, however, of young Mr. Hawkes regarding Howard grew, and he began to make unpleasant inquiries about his brother-in-law's career. He engaged a private detective and in East Cambridge, Mass. they found a Mrs. Howard No. 1 and two children.

Howard at first stoutly denied his marriage to the woman in Cambridge but there was convincing evidence against him, and at last he confessed. He was arrested on New Year's eve, 1900, a little more than three months after his marriage to Miss Hawkes.

An interesting feature of the case was the attitude taken by wife No. 1. The first Mrs. Howard stood by him, and although she had been grossly deceived and wronged by Howard she firmly refused to come is due to the retention in the system of Uric Acid or other inflammatory poisons which find their way into the blood, and are forced by the circulation through the glands and pores of the skin, causing it to burn like fire, and the incessant itching allows no rest night or day. Eczema appears in a great many different forms, beginning frequently as a mere redness of the skin, followed by little blisters or pimples, from which a clear or straw colored matter oozes, forming into sores, scales or scabs; this is weeping Eczema, commonly called Salt Rheum. These acid poisons sometimes dry up the natural oils and the skin becomes hard and dry, often cracking and bleeding and causing intense pain and fearful itching. This form of Eczema is known as Tetter, and often attacks the hands and feet. Unsightly eruptions in the shape of pimples and blackheads break out upon the face, neck and shoulders as a result of polluted blood, and this humiliating disease is called Acne. Local remedies afford but scant relief. The blood and system being saturated with the poison, the disease cannot be reached with washes, salves, powders or other local applications. S. S. S. restores the deteriorated blood to its normal condition, stimulates the sluggish organs, and all the waste matter is eliminated through the proper channels. S. S. S. makes the blood rich and strong, and under its tonic and invigorating effects the general health improves, and the skin becomes soft and smooth again.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

to Brooklyn and testify against him and would give no aid to the prosecution. Howard pleaded guilty and was given an indeterminate sentence. Some months ago he was paroled and is now believed to be living in Boston with the wife who stood by him in his trouble.

The marriage of Mrs. Howard No. 2 was annulled in the supreme court eight months ago and she was given permission to resume her maiden name. It was at this time that Mr. Malane became acquainted with Miss Hawkes. It was a mutual attachment apparently from the first, but the tenets of Miss Hawkes' church forbade a public announcement of their engagement without the papal decree. Bishop McDonnell took the papers of the Howard case to Rome. Two audiences with the holy father finally resulted in the ecclesiastical tribunal pronouncing the decree declaring the Howard marriage void.

The bishop's return brought the eagerly looked for news to the young couple. The wedding of Miss Hawkes and Mr. Malane will be a quiet event of early fall.

Photographer C. C. Harlan, of Eaton, O., can do so now, though for years he couldn't, because he suffered untold agony from the worst form of indigestion. All physicians and medicines failed to help him until he tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for him that he declares they are a godsend to sufferers from dyspepsia and stomach troubles. Unrivalled for diseases of the stomach, liver, kidneys, they build up and give new life to the whole system. Try them. Only 50c. Guaranteed by Tallman & Co., druggists.

OREGON DAILY JOURNAL.

Universal Faith in Mr. C. S. Jackson.

The Daily Evening Journal has passed into the hands and under the management of Mr. C. S. Jackson, who has successfully and ably conducted the East Oregonian for several years. He has the ability and the necessary financial backing to make the Journal a success and a paper which will reflect credit on the city and state. Portland has suffered much by being rated as a "one paper" city, while other towns with a much smaller population and only a fraction as much business, have supported three or four. The newspapers of a city are the source through which the public estimates the enterprise and energy of any community. A newspaper does more to build up a city than anything else, for it is through its influence that people are drawn and enterprises inaugurated. We do not by any means undervalue the importance and influence of the Oregonian. It is a great newspaper. But a monopoly in this is dangerous to the public interest. The best friend of that paper will not claim that its conduct has always been impartial or for the public good. We may say, the want of a strong competitor has made it a dictator and a tyrant in many cases. The business as well as the political interests of this city and state require a competitor. The support for this should not be confined to party, but to the general public. The Journal can, and we have no doubt will, meet the requirements under Mr. Jackson's management. He is familiar with the wants of the field in which he has entered, and by experience qualified to meet the public demand and serve the city and state in advancing the common interest and general good.—Portland Dispatch.

C. S. JACKSON, Pub., Portland, Or.

The Journal property has been purchased and has passed under the control of the undersigned, and the paper will be conducted on lines of greatest benefit to Portland to Oregon and to the great Northwest, and in many ways conducted differently, as to men, means and methods, from those of its contemporaries which follow narrow grooves of newspaper habit.

The Journal in head and heart will stand for the people, be truly Democratic and free from political entanglements and machinations, believing in the principles that put us the greatest good to the greatest number—to ALL MEN, regardless of race, creed or previous condition of servitude.

Exuberant assurances are cheap and empty. I wish to make none. Performance is better than promise; action more fruitful than words. The columns of the Journal from day to day will better reflect the spirit behind the paper. It shall be a FAIR newspaper and not a dull and selfish sheet. In short, an honest, sincere attempt will be made to build up and maintain a new paper properly in Portland that will be a credit to "Where the Oregon" country and the multitude of people who are interested in its development and advancement.

Portland capital largely is behind the Journal, and the funds are ample for all purposes. Coupled with energy and enthusiasm, the work of making a paper, devoted to Portland's varied interests, is begun. The support of the freedom-loving, intelligent, generous people of Oregon is invited and will be duly appreciated by still greater endeavor and achievement on the part of the Journal, which hope ever to be but stronger in equipment, stronger in purpose, stronger in news resources, and stronger in good deeds.

C. S. JACKSON.
