Little Girls' Wash Dresses

Any little Girl from two to fourteen years old can be fitted with one of these little suits in Chambray, Gingham, Percale, Crash and Madras. The materials are really excellent for the hard service they are likely to encounter, and with the trimmings and splendid making these dresses would be a 'good buy' at twice what we ask for them. The styles will please the little Girls and Mothers too. They're cheaper than you can make them—prettier too, than most people can make.

HOME COUNTY NEWS

At Hidaway.

Hidaway Springs, Aug. 5.—It is reported that a royal wedding will soon take place at the wigwam of the bride's father, Chief Full Moon. The contracting parties are Bill Scott, the congenial proprietor of the popular summer resort, Hidaway Springs, and Bright Star, the dusky princess of the Hidaway tribe. The wedding breakfast will be given at the rustic hotel of this place, at 12:30, on the 15th sun of the seventh moon. Mineral water will flow freely. All tribes invited.

The following is a list of campers at the Hidaway Springs:
Miss Alice Darby, Missouri.
Miss Martha Lueallen, Adams.
Miss Effie Worster, Pendleton.
Miss Mary Probeck, Pendleton.
Miss Anice Barnes, Weston.

Life at Lehman.

Lehman Springs, Aug. 5.—Among the 150 or more people who are here from Pendleton, we note Charles Eppinger, manager of Alexander's dry goods department; C. R. Dutton, of Dutton's candy kitchen; Charles Sharp, Joseph Ell and the family of W. J. Furnish. Six teams arrived Monday.
Monument, Grant county, is represented by three parties.
La Grande people are arriving frequently.
Nearly 400 people are camped on the grounds now, and more than 500 will be here before the 15th.
A picnic party went out Saturday expecting to enjoy a trout dinner. They did. The bread was mislaid, or deliberately eaten by those in whose care it was, and the bill of fare was fish straight.
L. H. Russell and W. J. Lusk, timber cruisers from La Grande, are spending a few days at the hotel.
Tracy has not been seen here.

SHEEP MEN IN A QUANDARY

FEAR THAT FOREST RESERVE MAY WORK HARDSHIP.

If Sheep Owners are Shut Off From Ranging in the New Reserve, Wool Growing Industry Will Suffer.
The withdrawal of 5000 square miles in the Blue mountains and their adjacent ranges in this state from settlement in order to create a forest reserve, news of which has just spread over the state, is reported to be causing considerable anxiety among sheep men who have been in the habit of grazing their sheep over the territory now taken from the public domains, and the question of whether or not they will be allowed to continue running their sheep over these grounds is agitating their minds.

Should it be found that fears along this line are well founded protest upon protest will be poured into Washington as the withdrawal of such a great area of country from the use of sheep men at one time would seriously affect the wool growing industry throughout the eastern portion of the state.

Hope in Reserve Creation.

If the reserve were ultimately created, and grazing permitted, then, as in the case of other forest reserves in Washington and Oregon, grazing would be permitted by special allotment of range, and overcrowding would be a thing of the past. A great many sheep now ranging on this great area would be forced into other fields, but every sheepman hopes to be the lucky one, and anything, stockmen think, is better than the condition which involves shooting of whole bands of sheep and threatening men's lives. If grazing is permitted, the creation of the reserve will be welcomed. If grazing is not to be allowed, a hard fight from Eastern Oregon will be made against the proposition.

Other Questions Involved.

Inasmuch as the proposed reserve is designed for the preservation of natural watersheds and the advancement of irrigation interests, chances for sheepmen getting in on the new arrangement are thought to be pretty slim. Sheep are accused of destroying the sources of water. The watersheds of John Day are within the area marked off, and there has been long discontent because the immense volume of the John Day's forks, now three streams as useless as any to be found anywhere, was not stored in reservoirs and used for irrigation on the innumerable small valleys and the sage brush land scattered within reach.

Details are anxiously waited in all the large towns contiguous to the country affected. The interest of cattle men, sheep men, residents, as opposed to outsiders and small stock men, are so hopelessly interwoven that people are wondering how the department will get them straightened out. Meanwhile the sheep man worries most of all.

A POSTMASTER TRAPPED.

In the Act of Trafficking in Deer Skins Contrary to Law.

Frank Manning, who is postmaster of Leeds, a small office located on upper Rogue river, was a few days since arrested upon the authority of State Game Warden Quimby, charged with killing deer for their hides, reports the Democratic Times. It is alleged that he tanned the skins himself and shipped them through the mails.

Manning has been suspected of this violation of the game law, but heretofore it has been impossible to fasten the crime on him. This time Mr. Quimby's deputy, E. G. Hobson, personating a timber locator, trapped him.

Fifty deer skins and one fawn skin were found in his possession. He then admitted his guilt and promised to go into court, plead guilty and pay his fine. The warden is not disposed to be easy with him, and will take Manning's case into the circuit court. His experience in the prosecution of cases before justices of the peace has been so unsatisfactory that he will hereafter submit his prosecutions only to the circuit court. He can file a separate charge for each deer skin, according to his construction of the law, and the lowest fine permitted by the statute is $25. In case of conviction on every count

Parents' Responsibility Great

It is the right of every child to be well born, and to the parents it must look for health and happiness. How inconceivably great is the parents' responsibility, and how important that no taint of disease is left in the blood to be transmitted to the helpless child, entailing the most pitiable suffering, and marking its little body with offensive sores and eruptions, catarrh of the nose and throat, weak eyes, glandular swellings, brittle bones, white swelling and deformity.

How can parents look upon such little sufferers and not reproach themselves for bringing so much misery into the world? If you have any disease lurking in your system, how can you expect well developed, healthy children? Cleanse your own blood and build up your health, and you have not only enlarged your capacity for the enjoyment of the pleasures of life, but have discharged a duty all parents owe to posterity, and made mankind healthier and happier.

There is no remedy that so surely reaches deep-seated, stubborn blood troubles as S. S. S. It searches out even hereditary poisons, and removes every taint from the blood, and builds up the general health. If weaklings are growing up around you, right the wrong by putting them on a course of S. S. S. at once. It is a purely vegetable medicine, harmless in its effects, and can be taken by both old and young without fear of any bad results.

Write us about your case, and let our physicians advise and help you. This will cost you nothing, and we will also send our book on blood and skin diseases. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

as heavy a load as $1250 of fines alone would be put upon the Leeds postmaster.

Mr. Quimby says there are three or four such men as Manning, who are typical deer-skinners, in Southern Oregon, and he thinks by the apprehension of Manning he has gotten in a fair way to break up the whole business. Manning was reported seriously sick when Hobson found him.

Look Pleasant, Please.

Photographer C. C. Harlan, of Eaton, O., can do so now, though for years he couldn't, because he suffered untold agony from the worst form of indigestion. All physicians and medicines failed to help him until he tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for him that he declares they are a godsend to sufferers from dyspepsia and stomach troubles. Unrivaled for diseases of the stomach, liver, kidneys, they build up and give new life to the whole system. Try them. Only 50c. Guaranteed by Tallman & Co., druggists.

Fakirs at La Grande.

La Grande may not be made up of any wiser or any more foolish people than are to be found in similar communities, but the town has been an "easy mark" for various sorts of grafts within the past few weeks. Almost any kind of a combination that wants to gather in some easy money finds this a fertile field. We have had the man-eating lion, the bull fight, the bloomer girls and lots of other things calculated to separate the people from their surplus of loose change. And still others come and the money goes. Nobody needs to be penurious enough to refuse to spend a little money now and then for diversions when there is a prospect of value received, but it is simply inexplicable why so many people will almost fall over each other to spend money with no possibility of adequate return.—La Grande Chronicle.

The daily newspaper appeals to no faction, sect or class in the community. It is read alike by the rich and the poor, the high and the low, the learned and the ignorant. No family is so wealthy that it can secure its daily information of the world's happenings except by the daily paper. No family is so poor that the daily paper of today is outside of its range of expenditure.—Mahl's Magazine, August.

NO WALLA WALLA MEETING

RAILWAY PRESIDENTS CALL DATE OFF BY WIRE.

Reduction of Rates Promised at Davenport and Colfax, Will Apply all Over This Section.

Walla Walla, Aug. 6.—The railroad presidents will not hold a conference with the farmers of this valley in this city, as announced yesterday, telegraphic advices having been received withdrawing the date here. The presidents have announced a reduction of rates as possible in the immediate future, in time to benefit the growers of this crop, and it was deemed not necessary to hold a meeting here. The gathering at Davenport and Colfax seem to have served the purpose nicely, and after a date was fixed for a meeting here it was withdrawn and the incident closed.

AN EARLY WEDDING.

As the Sun Rose, Two Happy Hearts Were Made One.

Coles Ferry, Va., Aug. 6.—The Oaks, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Crenshaw Rice, was the scene of a novel event this morning in the shape of an open air wedding at sunrise. The bride was Miss Mary Blair Rice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rice, and the bridegroom Mr. Charles William Beebe, of New York. The bride selected the unusual hour for her marriage because of the many attractions in the early morning in the old garden on her father's estate. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William Miller, of Bryn Mawr, Pa. The bride wore a gown of white crepe de chine, trimmed with pearls, and a lace veil, fastened with a wreath of white roses.

The Utica, (N. Y.) Tribune expresses the hope that the large and varied manufacturing interests of that city will take up at once the matter of being represented at the World's Fair.

THE JOURNAL

Published daily, in the afternoon, in PORTLAND, OR. AN OREGON PAPER FOR OREGON PEOPLE A NEWSPAPER

Eight to Sixteen Pages, at the following rates by MAIL

The Journal Newspaper.

The Journal property has been purchased and has passed under the control of the undersigned, and the paper will be conducted on lines of greatest benefit to Portland, to Oregon and to the great Northwest, and in many ways conducted differently, as to men, measures and methods, from those of its contemporaries which follow narrow grooves of newspaper habit.

The Journal in head and heart will stand for the people, be truly Democratic and free from political entanglements and machinations bordering in the principles that promise the greatest good to the greatest number—to ALL MEN, regardless of race, creed or previous condition of servitude.

Excellent newspapers are cheap and empty. I wish to make none. Performance is better than promise; action more fruitful than words. The columns of the Journal from day to day will better reflect the spirit behind the paper. It shall be a FAIR newspaper and not a Gull and selfish sheet. In short, an honest sincere attempt will be made to build up and maintain a newspaper property in Portland that will be a credit to our race, the Oregonian country, and the millions of people who are interested in its development and advancement.

Portland capital largely is behind the Journal, and the land is ample for all purposes. Coupled with energy and enthusiasm, the work of making a paper, as opposed to Portland's varied interests, is begun. The support of the free-souling, the intelligent, generous people of Oregon is invited and will be duly appreciated by all newspaper readers and subscribers on the part of the Journal, which here ever to become stronger in equipment, stronger in purpose, stronger in news resources, and stronger in good sense.
