Heppner Gazette:—John Busick was down from the mountains yesterday and says that the sheep up there are looking fat and sassy.

Grant County News: Fifteen men assaulted Mrs. D. W. Jenkins' sheep herder in Bear Valley last week and left the old fellow in a demoralized condition.

Heppner Gazette:—Mr. T. J. Matlock has been awarded the contract for carrying the mail from Heppner to Lone Rock, and has sublet the same to Rev. W. O. Miller. The line is equipped with new rigs, good horses and the service is far superior to what it has ever been in the past.

Wallowa News: The government has designated a part of Wallowa county for a portion of the 3,000,000 acre timber reserve in Eastern Oregon. Timber cruisers and timber seekers are not very jubilant over the prospects of having to give up some of the very best timber land to Uncle Sam, but if he says so, it must be so.

Grant County News: County Treasurer Martin informs the News that he received a check from the state treasurer yesterday amounting to $2765.20. This amount represents Grant county's share of interest received from the irreducible school fund. It will be applied on the October apportionment.

Wallowa News: Homer Bennett, living half a mile east of town, has the smallpox. Dr. Gregg gave out the word to that effect Monday morning. Homer is getting along as well as could be expected and, were it not for danger to others, would resume his labors. However, he must remain an outcast, so to speak, for 10 days or two weeks yet.

SOME ELEGANT FRUIT.

Magnificent Specimens of Umatilla Product Brought In.

H. F. Harrah is in town today from his 600-acre ranch near Pilot Rock. Mr. Harrah brought to the East Oregonian office a large basket of fruit which grew on his place. In the basket were some of the finest apples it is often the pleasure of one to see also plums and pears. There were June apples, White Palmarins, Red Astrichans and another kind which Mr. Harrah had forgotten the name, but were very fine. They do not only look good, but are of a very rich flavor. Mr. Harrah says he and his partners have 500 or 600 fruit trees on their place and all are heavily laden with fruit. It is all of the first-class variety and free from any infection. He says the wind of several weeks ago did not effect his fruit and the trees are breaking under their loads. Mr. Harrah and partners will put up 120 tons of hay this season. Their ranch lies on Birch creek, three and a half miles north of Pilot Rock.

BLOOD POISONING.

Young Man Succumbs to Severe Attack of This Trouble.

Elmer Kononen, 23 years of age, died at the home of his father, Matt Kononen, five miles west of Adams, at 11 o'clock last night. The cause of death was blood poisoning. Several weeks ago the young man had a small carbuncle on his finger and blood poison set in, which caused his death.

For the past several days the young man suffered intensely and begged to die, knowing that it was only a question of time until the end would come. The funeral will be conducted at the home Sunday.

Kine's Grove Tomorrow.

Do not miss the picnic at Kine's grove Sunday afternoon and evening. This is the finest place to spend the hot, sultry evenings you ever saw. It is in the timber with plenty of shade trees, water all around it and is cool all the time. If you miss this picnic you will miss a good half day and night's enjoyment. The dancing begins at 2 o'clock. All kinds of refreshments on the ground. Hacks run both ways regularly.

The Independent Farmer.

A farmer doesn't have to solicit patronage from anyone. He doesn't have to enter into competition and strife with any of his neighbors like a merchant. He doesn't have to depend on his collections reluctantly doled out as the editors do. In fact he can be the most independent man on God's green earth, if he manages his business in a business-like way. He has more time and opportunity for cultivating his mind. He has fewer allurements for corrupting his morals and his occupation is more conducive to the highest development of his physical power than any other.—Heppner Gazette.

WESTON AGOOD TOWN.

Sim J. Cully Has a Word to Say About That Town.

Sim J. Cully, a leading business man of Weston, was in Walla Walla yesterday, says the Union. Mr. Cully says the little town in the center of the Umatilla county wheat belt is rapidly forging ahead and several new places of business have been inaugurated of late.

"A new restaurant," he said, "will be opened within a few days and the town now has a third saloon. Everything is wide open and all the merchants are busy accommodating the harvesters seven days in the week. Threshing is now on in full blast and the yield in places is phenomenal. I was obliged to come to Walla Walla in the middle of the week in order to transact business, as everything is closed here on Sunday.

"One of the prettiest additions to Weston, which is also something that has long been needed, is the drinking fountain, at the center of Main and Jefferson streets. Pure water bubbles from the fountain day and night and is free to all. The water is piped a distance of a quarter of a mile from the Probstel spring in the south part of town. The water is almost ice cold and is as pure as any mountain stream."
