WESTON DOINGS.

What is Happening Among the People of That Town.

Weston, August 10.—Real estate keeps moving all the time in this part of the country. During the past week H. Moulton sold his five-acre tract, lying just east of town, to C. M. Pierce, consideration $800. Mr. Pierce also bought two lots of G. W. Proebstel, located on Water street, at one fifty each.

The following is a partial list of those who make up the Weston colony at Cold Springs, viz.: William Blair and family, J. T. Kilgore and family, Mrs. W. A. Graham and family, Mrs. Alice Kirkpatrick and family, Mrs. Sim Bares and family, Mrs. Luther Shellenberger, Mrs. Lizzie Murphy, and Miss Ona Marsh.

Hon. G. W. Proebstel, who has been spending ten days or two weeks at Seaside, returned home this week. Mrs. Lillian Fredericks, the eldest daughter of Hon. G. W. Proebstel, will leave early in the week for Shanghai, China where she has a position as teacher in St. Mary's school for girls.

Mr. Charles Taylor, of the Fair store, returned yesterday from a short outing at Bingham Springs.

Echoes From Echo.

Echo, Aug. 11.—Rev. W. H. Zeller, of Adams, filled the pulpit of the M. E. Church at this place Sunday.

Mrs. J. H. Koontz, who has been critically ill for several days, is convalescing.

The residents of Echo were pleased and relieved at the change in the weather Saturday night from the extraordinary heat to a little breeze and cooler. The nights are now so that one can sleep.

Echo is quiet at present. All the young men of the town and country have gone into the harvest fields and will be away for a month yet before the town will again assume its business-like air.

TALE OF TWO GAMES.

notably when Fay was declared out at home plate and anyone with half an eye could see that Swindells touched the ground about eight inches away from Fay, instead of touching the runner, and when Schills beat the ball to first by nearly two feet in the ninth, but was called out.

When the Walla Walla excursionists went home the score book they carried along with them looked like this:

Walla Walla Played Quitter.
Realizing that there was no chance to win out, and angry because they could not bully the umpire, who showed a little nerve for the first time in the series here, the Walla Walla baseball team quit Saturday's game in the first half of the eighth, thus forfeiting to the Pendleton boys, who already had the game won.

Ryan was almost as bad as ever on his decisions, but showed some spark of nerve in calling down the Walla Walla players for their tricky ball playing and inflicted a few fines for talking back to him when the visitors attempted to bully him out of a decision.

In the last half of the eighth Croll was on bases, and Mullane at bat, with two strikes and two balls. Stovall threw a low passed ball and Croll went to third. Mullane dropped his bat and went to second, but was called back by the umpire, as it was three balls and two strikes. Mullane kicked, and was very angry at first, claiming three strikes, and later that he was hit by the ball. He went back to home plate and Croll, runner, rushed off third and entered the diamond to attempt to bully the umpire out of his decision. Croll was touched with the ball and declared out. Because the umpire would not change this decision the Walla Walla boys "threw his wad," thus dimming the Indians' victory and putting a big their record, which will not soon be wiped out.

The score stood 4 to 2 in favor of the Pendleton team when the "quitters" did their stunt, but by their forfeit the game went on record as 9 to 0 in favor of the Indians.

WALLA WALLA MAN GONE.

Popular Young Man of That City Drowned at Seattle.
Walla Walla, Aug. 11.—Word of the drowning of C. E. Burrows at Seattle Friday night has cast a gloom over the whole town.

No one knows just how the drowning happened, but it is thought to have been accidental. Mr. Burrows and family left Walla Walla several days ago for Seattle on a pleasure trip. They were guests of George J. Piper. They had been out cruising on the Sound in Mr. Piper's private yacht. Friday evening they ran up near Alki Point and anchored for the night. Mr. Burrows returned at night and no one knew of the accident until next morning, when he was called to breakfast. He was not in bed and a search was made for him. His clothes were in the room, but he was not on the boat.

Search was immediately instituted and the body was found at the bottom of the water, where the boat had sunk. It is thought Mr. Burrows walked out on the deck, slipped and fell into the water.

A Hold Up.
Walla Walla does not believe in being behind its sister towns in any particular—not even hold-ups. Saturday evening two Japs were held up in their 'sox car home, on the O. R. & N. track near the depot yards, and relieved of $35. The robbery was committed by five men. Two of them entered the end door of the box car and demanded the Japs to "stand and deliver." At the same time the other three masked men stepped to the side door with guns in their hands. When the masked men entered the car one of the Japs threw his "wad," consisting of $25, behind the stove. The robbers saw this act and gave the Jap a heavy blow on the head with his revolver.

Rheumatism

The liniment bottle and flannel strip are familiar objects in nearly every household. They are the weapons that have been used for generations to fight old Rheumatism, and are about as effective in the battle with this giant disease as the blunderbuss of our forefathers would be in modern warfare.

Rheumatism is caused by an acid, sour condition of the blood. It is filled with acid, irritating matter that settles in the joints, muscles and nerves, and liniments and oils nor nothing else applied externally can dislodge these gritty, corroding particles. They were deposited there by the blood and can be reached only through the blood.

Rubbing with liniments sometimes relieve temporarily the aches and pains, but these are only symptoms which are liable to return with every change of the weather; the real disease lies deeper, the blood and system are infected. Rheumatism cannot be radically and permanently cured until the blood has been purified, and no remedy does this so thoroughly and promptly as S. S. S. It neutralizes the acids and sends a stream of rich, strong blood to the affected parts, which dissolves and washes out all foreign materials, and the sufferer obtains happy relief from the torturing pains.

S. S. S. contains no potash or other mineral, but is a perfect vegetable blood purifier and most exhilarating tonic. Our physicians will advise, without charge, all who write about their case, and we will send free our special book on Rheumatism and its treatment.

22 SHEEP SHOT.

Four Men Engaged in Shooting Will Spencer's Sheep.

William Spencer returned Friday evening from his sheep range, and to a Heppner Gazette reporter related the following particulars in relation to the killing of his sheep:

The sheep that were shot were being looked after by Herder Jim Nail, and were on Deerhorn Creek in the Blue Mountains in Umatilla county. Saturday of last week, the herder started to camp about 6 o'clock in the evening to start supper, this being the usual custom. When he got to camp he found that it had been destroyed by fire. His supplies being all destroyed and not knowing just what to do he went back to the sheep. When he got back to the sheep on top of a mountain, he heard somebody talking below him under the rim rock. He looked down and saw four men, three on horseback and the fourth riding a mule. He heard one man plainly say: "Here is where we had the fire."

Another one of the party said: "Yes and there are the sheep." They then all got off of their mounts and commenced firing at the sheep.

The herder can give a good description of one man, but he was badly frightened and ran and secreted himself not caring to make a very careful examination while the Winchester were belching forth their murderous fire.

After the excitement had died down and the men had gone, Nail rounded up the sheep and found 22 had been killed.

Mr. Spencer has a good idea who the men were that shot into the sheep. The camps have been refurbished and everything was quiet at last reports.

Large Class of Middles.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 11.—Ever since the Spanish war there has been a dearth of young officers in the navy, owing to the many new warships that have been commissioned during the past two years it has been found necessary to graduate the classes from the naval academy ahead of the usual time. It is hoped, however, that this will be unnecessary in the future as it is also undesirable. Today 300 principals and alternates appear before the examining boards of the Civil Service Commission for midshipman entrances at the academy to fill the vacancies created by the last annual appropriation bill allowing senators the privilege of appointment. This is the largest class examined in the history of the school, and the usual percentage of candidates pass this will give Annapolis more midshipmen under instruction than ever before. Temporary quarters are now being erected at the academy for the accommodation of the increased number of cadets.
