30,000 ACRES TAKEN

ON THE UNALLOTTED UMATILLA RESERVE.

John Crow Was the First Man to Buy; B. F. Wells the Next—"Squatter" Has Prior Right—Some Contests Expected.

John Crow was the first man to buy land on the Umatilla reservation out of the 90,000 acres of unallotted land recently thrown open. The next man to buy was B. F. Wells. Since then almost 100 men have taken advantage of the Moody law and bought 160 acres of this Indian land.

While it was understood that the date of the sale would not open until the 15th, it was also provided that the "squatter" had the first right to the land and he could send in his claim and get his guarantee of the land before the date for the general opening.

The land is being sold at the appraised price of 12 years ago, unless there is a contest. If two men file claims on the same piece of land at the same time, the price then will depend upon the man who pays the largest figure. If there is no contest, as will be in many instances, the land will simply go at the figure it was valued at when appraised.

A great rush is expected for the La Grande land office on the date of the opening and then there will be many contests as to the rightful owner or "prior rights" to the lands in question. The only thing then will be for the land office to sell to the man who puts up the most money.

CHARTERED ENGINE.

Enterprising Business Man Makes Quick Trip From Bingham Springs to Pendleton.

R. Alexander, proprietor of Alexander's Department Store, had a thrilling ride yesterday on an engine on the O. R. & N. railroad. Mr. Alexander had been spending a few days at Bingham Springs and had important business that demanded his presence in the city and he went from the Springs to Gibbon station to take the regular train, and on arriving there he learned that the train was so late that he could not keep his appointment, so he chartered an engine that was a short distance up the line and had it bring him to Pendleton at all possible speed. He arrived in time to transact his business, but was considerably worse off from the ride.

The heat from the boiler added to the torrid condition of the weather, the crowded position in the engine cab and the flying dust and cinders, as the boys say "didn't do a thing to him." The skin on his face was blistered and the cinders and dust showed distinctly where they struck him, as his face was not accustomed to the violence it came in contact with, like the hardy railroaders, who daily face the same conditions. Mr. Alexander smiles with satisfaction in knowing that he kept his engagement, even under the obstacles.

THE LARGEST WATCH.

Most Massive Timepiece of Its Kind in the World.

At the American Waltham Watch factory, the largest watch ever designed was recently completed. To build this gigantic timepiece cost several thousand dollars and several weeks' time. Special machinery and tools were required for its construction. The watch is a model of the new model 16-size Maximus, three-quarter plate watch, enlarged 10 times, perfect in every detail and as highly finished as the finest watch.

The diameter of the pillar plate is 17 inches, and the movement is 2 1/2 inches thick. The balance wheel is 6 1/2 inches in diameter, and the Breguet spring which controls its action is 8 feet long, 0.08 centimeter thick and 0.3 centimeter wide. When running the balance makes a vibration of 7.0 seconds. The pallet stones are of sapphire and exquisitely polished. The actuating, or mainspring, is 23 feet long, 0.17 centimeters thick and 2.9 centimeters wide.

The mammoth model is as completely jeweled as a watch of the finest grade. The plate jewels, which are as large as the smallest movement made, are about the size of a nickel five-cent piece, are fine rubies, about 10 lines in diameter, but bushed with sapphires. The polish of the wheels, pinions and other steel work is perfect, and the damascening on the plates is most beautiful. The pendant and winding crown are of fine bronze, brilliantly polished. Every portion is made on the exact scale of the watch it represents. No dial has been made for this movement, as it is designed to show not only the action of the train, but the stem winding and stem setting mechanism as well.

The movement stands on a bronze pedestal and from its base to the tip of the winding crown is 26 inches.

Plenic every Sunday at Kine's grove. Dancing begins at 2 o'clock. Music by Kirkman's orchestra.

It Pays to Trade at the Peoples Warehouse.

SONGS.

Singers of yore, sweet poets of any clime,
Players and minstrels, all whose lips are dust,
From the white heritage we reap of time—
Hymns that struck flames from steel that now is rust,
Echoes blown down from an Arcadian hill,
Or born of vigils tombed within that past,
Wrung from the red hate, or turned to rapture's thrill—
One strain soars upward, singing to the last.
We too, we too, since dawn shall silent go,
The reed, the lute o'er which life's wind did sweep,
And all our little day, its love and woe,
Swept forth, forget if we did laugh or weep,
But singing hence some hour with passion rife
May live—the soul of long-forgotten strife.
—Virginia Woodward Cloud, in July Bookman.

A miner found a $35.50 nugget near Baker City a few days ago and now all the forty-niners are telling stories. The safe of the Columbia River Packers at The Dalles, was blown open by burglars Monday night and a few dollars taken.
