WALLA WALLA NEWS

CHAS. PICARD KILLED

BY A WAGON.

Another Hold-up—New Brick Block—New Disease in Cattle Which Puts Out Their Eyes and is Puzzling the Stock Men.

Walla Walla, Aug. 13.—Charles Picard was killed on Eureka Flat yesterday by being run over by a loaded water wagon. Mr. Picard was hauling water for a harvesting outfit, with a four-horse team. While going down a grade the team became frightened and ran away. Picard was thrown under the wheels of the wagon and life instantly crushed out of him.

More Holdups.

Another holdup story has been reported to the police. While Jack Thomas, Ed Sailor and Will Anderson, harvest hands working with the A. M. Robinson crew, northwest of Walla Walla, were going to their place of work Monday night after having visited the city, they were held up near the penitentiary and relieved of $16. The police were notified and two or three suspects have been arrested, but little evidence to convict has been found. It was very dark and no accurate description of the hold-ups could be obtained. They were three in number.

New Brick Business House.

Work was commenced yesterday tearing away the old building on the site for the new three-story brick business block which is to be erected by the Davin Bros., sheep barons of the Inland Empire. The new building is to take the place of the one-story wooden structure formerly occupied by a saloon, on West Main street. It is to reach 120 feet back and have a frontage of 24 feet. The lower floor will be occupied by a saloon, the second as a lodging house, and the third floor will be fitted up for a Turkish bath house, the first of its kind in the city.

New Cattle Disease.

Word has just been received from Lowden Station that a peculiar disease has been going the rounds among the cattle of that section. It is something new and no one seems to have the least idea as to what causes the disease or what to call it. A scum grows over the eyes of the cattle and they apparently become blind. In the worst stages the eyeballs protrude and the contents of the eye is discharged.

Surgeon's Excursion.

Notwithstanding that word has been circulated that no excursion would be run to Walla Walla Sunday to carry the enthusiastic fans over to the Garden City to witness the ball game, it is now positively announced that one will be run. It was first thought that equipment could not be obtained for the train, but Agent Wamsley has managed to get enough to insure the excursion. The train will leave here at 8:15 a. m., and returning, will leave Walla Walla at 7 in the evening.

Boys' Carnival at Seattle, August 18th to 31st.

For the above, the W. & C. R., in connection with the Northern Pacific, will sell tickets August 21st and 26th, limited to five days from date of sale, at $9 for round trip. Also on August 19th, 23d, 25th, at $12.30 for round trip, limited to five days from date of sale. For full particulars, apply to Walter Adams, agent.

A LITTLE BIT OF FACT.

Science of a Life Time Knocked into a Cocked Hat.

Senator William P. Frye is an ardent lover of the sport of fishing, says the Saturday Evening Post. Once, after his return from his summer's outing, he met the celebrated naturalist, Agassiz. Glowingly Senator Frye described his experiences. "Among my triumphs," said he, "was the capture of a speckled trout that weighed fully eight pounds."

Dr. Agassiz smiled and said: "Reserve that for the credulous and convivial circles of rod and reel celebrants, but spare the feelings of a sober scientist."

"This is not a campaign whopper I'm telling you; I weighed that trout carefully and it was an eight-pounder."

"My dear Mr. Frye," remonstrated Dr. Agassiz, permit me to inform you that the salvelinus fontinalis never attains that extraordinary weight. The creature you caught could not have been a speckled trout. All the authorities on ichthyology would disprove your claim."

"All I can say to that," said Senator Frye, "is that there are, then bigger fish in Maine than are dreamed of in your science."

The next season he caught a speckled trout that weighed nine pounds. He packed it in ice and sent it to Dr. Agassiz. A few days later he received a telegram which read:

"The science of a lifetime kicked to death by a fact. Agassiz."

MR. NEWELL TALKS

(Concluded.)

An Able Assistant.

"Charles H. Fitch, engineer in charge of diversion service, will remain in Portland for some time. He will visit different sections of Oregon, look over the field, obtain all information possible, report his findings to the secretary of the interior, and await instructions. I traveled through the arid region last fall with Congressman Moody. I have the Deschutes river, in Wasco county, in mind, and streams in Crook, Malheur, Harney, Walla, Grant, Lake and Union counties in view. Our work, however, will necessarily be slow, as we must proceed with caution. Government lands are sold to create a fund, and this fund expended in irrigation is afterward returned to the national treasury, and those in charge of it must be solicitous for its perpetuation. Homesteads taken in the arid region will be without the commutation clause in the filing. Actual residence will be required.

Small Farms.

"The result of this irrigation scheme will be that small farms will replace the large ones. A man who lives on a farm of 160 acres within a year or two will make it 80. Then he will drop to 50 or 30, and will find he has all he can do at that. Ten-acre fruit farms will supplant 60-acre ideas and ambitions, and then the rose will bloom where the sage brush grows." There is nearly $6,000,000 in the fund already for reclamation purposes says the Journal.

Today Mr. Newell will drop off at North Yakima for a stop of a day or two.

Mr. Fitch, like his superior, is an enthusiast. He will be active in the line of duty, and his intelligent work is likely to be better understood as time elapses.

Mr. Newell came west to Colorado in 1888 as a mining engineer, and the water question has been uppermost in his mind for a long time.

THE GREAT CIRCUS.

Excursion to Walla Walla to Witness Ringling Bros.' World's Greatest Show.

Ringling Bros.' great circus, the best show of the kind that has yet visited the Pacific Coast, requiring this season four full trains for its transportation, will exhibit in Walla Walla Friday afternoon and evening, August 15. To give the people of Pendleton and vicinity an opportunity to witness this wonderful exhibition, the O. R. & N. Co. has made a rate of $1.90 from Pendleton to Walla Walla and return. Tickets to be sold for the morning train of August 15, good returning August 16.

Teachers' Examinations.

The teachers' examinations are being held today and will continue all the week at the Pendleton Academy building. The board of examiners are Superintendent J. F. Nowlin, Professor J. E. Cherry and Professor F. L. Forbes. About 25 teachers are in attendance.

SWEARING IN "PHILLY."

Grand Jury Recommends That it Be Stopped.

The Philadelphia grand jury wound up its business the other day by recommending that the laws against swearing and the use of blasphemous language of city employes be rigidly enforced.

The grand jury found that profanity was not confined to policeman and fireman, but that it was indulged in by city officials and police magistrates.

This is a shock to the entire country.

It is the first intimation the public has ever had that there was any swearing in Philadelphia.

Profanity is a strenuous vocal eruption.

It is vile, disgusting and indefensible—but none the less strenuous. It is the kind of vocal dynamics that calls for much physical and mental energy.

Even them, an who swears "like the army in Flanders" and who reels on the oaths copiously and continuously must feel some slight mental momentum in order to join the expletives with any intelligible coherency. There must be some temporary agitation of the nerve ganglia.

But in quiet, peaceful and serene Philadelphia how can any one get excited enough to swear?—Baker City Herald.

The nation's leading city in making iron and steel is Pittsburg, whose mills turn out $90,798,086. Next comes McKeesport, Pennsylvania, with $34,339,612, and then Chicago with $31,621,174.—Mahan's Magazine, August.

Many men are capable of thinking out schemes that have immense possibilities, but it is only the man who goes to work and puts his ideas into operations that ever makes any money out of them.—Mahan's Magazine, August.

The deputy prosecuting attorney of Spokane has rendered an opinion to the effect that cemeteries can be taxed in that state.
