There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it to be a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly falling to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurwith local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disasse, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co. Toledo, Onio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surface of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it falls to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

181 Harper's Ferry, the Gate to the Shenandoah Valley.

Where the three states of Virginia, started on a three weeks' trip from West Virginia and Maryland come to-Ashland, and will go all over the Cas- gether; where the Potomac and Shenandoah rivers unite; where the towering steeps of the Blue Ridge end abruptly, frowning upon the heights of Maryland and Boliver Heights in West Virginia, lies the quaint, historic town of Harper's Ferry. John Brown baptized it in blood in 1859, C. B. Montague, member from Linn when he captured the town and the final and fatal stand in the engine house (known afterwards as John Brown's fort), alongside the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. A plain shaft, simply inscribed, now marks the loca-

Again in 1861, grim visaged war seized the village and held it tight in its grasp for nearly four years. The deeds that were done, and the tales Jerry Pinn, a Portland young man that are told concerning Harper's Ferry fill volumes.

Good Crops This Year on the Reservation, With a Probable Yield of 500,000 Sacks-Indian Wheat Haulers-Improved Machinery.

An East Oregonian representative made a trip, in company with W. T. Rigby, over a part of the Umatilla reservation Tuesday afternoon,

Crops on the reservation are fast being harvested and put in the sack and it will only be a few days until the whole of the 1902 crop in that section of the county, as well as not later than September 10, other places, will be ready for the Many Wheat Haulers.

In driving out on the Tutuilla flat road toward the foothills of the Blue Mountains, one is met now by dozens and almost hundreds of wheat wagons bringing their loads of freight to Mission station, where it is being stored for shipment. Most of this land is farmed by white men, but the Indians rig a wagon and team together during the wheat hauling season and make a few dollars hauling grain. Most of the wagons met are driven by dusky redskins of the Umatilla.

500,000 Sacks.

It can safely be said that not a road in the county has as much wheat hauled over it as the 10 mile stretch south from the Mission warehouses to the foothills of the Tutuilla flat. Mission station receives about 500, 000 sacks of wheat from this flat and other tributary territory every season. Of course, the amount varies with the seasons, but this can safely be said as an average amount shipped over the O. R. && N. line from this station each season.

Mostly Combined Machines.

In crossing the Tutuilla flat one can see dozens of large combined harvesters running. However, not all the machines running are combines, but most of them are. In some places will be seen the header cutting the golden grain and wagons hauling it to the stack, where it is piled to await the arrival of the thresher. Other fields are being cut by the headers and a thresher following them up, threshing the grain as it is being dumped from the wagons. Some of these machines are run with horsepower, but most are steam machines. In fact, the steam machine is not very much in evidence, as the combined harvester has been found to be the quickest and most economical way of caring for the crops, and farmers, always on the alert to advance in ideas and improvements, have adopted them generally.
