KING ALFONSO'S MIND IS GOING

Boy King of Spain Has an Aching Void Where His Brain Should Be Located.

Madrid, Aug. 21.—A press correspondent learns confirmatory details of the suspicious eccentricity of King Alfonso's behavior during his recent provincial tour. His majesty repeatedly gave evidence of his lack of mental balance and his actions have caused the people of the provinces to fear that their ruler is really demented.

At the Ovedio reception the king complained of being bored and asked why he could not go to bed. Senor Pacheco explained that etiquette demanded that the people must leave first. A moment later, during a hush, the king doubled his fists, placed them to his mouth in imitation of a bugle and sounded taps.

New Orleans, Aug. 21.—Advices from Tupelo, Miss., state that a race riot broke out there this morning and that four whites and 10 negroes were killed and wounded.

"Joss" Not Chinese.

Chicago Chronicle: "It's a mistake to suppose that 'joss' is a Chinese word," says a retired ship's carpenter. "I've traveled a good deal in the Orient in my time and in the odds and ends of interesting information I picked up was a knock-out of the genuineness of 'joss' as a Chinese word. Chinamen only know 'joss' when they come in contact with Europeans. A Chinese priest that I became chummy with in Hankow, told me that there was no such word in Chinese. He explained that the word was a corruption of the Spanish word 'Dios' and had come into use through the missionaries. Many early missionaries, he said, were Spanish priests, and their pronunciation of 'Dios' was speedily corrupted into 'joss' by native tongues and applied to the Chinese deities. It's only on the Chinese seaboard that the word is understood by Chinamen. In the interior, the priest told me, the celestials had no knowledge of it."

CAUSED BY EATING SHELLFISH.

Authorities in Manila Attribute Cholera Spread to This Cause.

Washington, Aug. 21.—In their reports to the war department, the health authorities at Manila attribute the spread of cholera largely to eating the raw shellfish. The number of deaths in the archipelago has already passed the 10,000 mark.

Receive the White Veil.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 21.—Twenty-five postulants, including several young women of wealth and social prominence, today received the white veil of the Sisterhood of the Third Order of St. Francis at the Convent of Our Lady of the Angels at Glen Riddle. Archbishop Ryan officiated at the ceremonies and was assisted by several prominent priests. Tomorrow there is to be another interesting ceremony at the convent when nine sisters will celebrate the silver jubilee of their entrance into the order. The sisterhood of the Third Order of St. Francis was first established in this country in 1855, since which time it has spread rapidly until there are now five motherhoods located in different parts of the country.

FEARFUL EXPLOSION

Havoc Wrought in Delaware Pulp Works by Explosion From Unknown Cause.

BODIES OF THIRTEEN VICTIMS HAVE BEEN FOUND.

Five Buildings Were Wrecked and Seething Acid From Vats Swept Over Workmen and Bodies Were Fearfully Mutilated.

Wilmington, Del., Aug. 21.—Up to noon today 13 men are known to be dead as a result of an explosion in the Delaware pulp works yesterday afternoon, and a dozen others are missing.

The bodies of the following have been recovered and identified: John McCormick, William Burke, Granville Walter, James Stokes, Franklin Harris, George Wright, Joseph Laubacker, Joseph Henry, Joseph Nagle, Zacharia Collins, James Jester, John Durham and John Laubacker.

Over 150 men were employed in the mills. Seething acid from one of the vats covered many of the men, killing them instantly. The bodies recovered were horribly mangled.

Police and firemen worked at the ruins all night. The scene was a most distressing one, many women and children remaining for hours calling for their lost husbands and fathers.

"KILL AND BURN" SMITH.

Says That Criticism is Part of Soldier's Training.

Portsmouth, O., Aug. 21.—General Jacob H. Smith, was tendered a public reception here last night and a banquet later, at which over 70 representative citizens participated. In response to the address of welcome, delivered by Mayor Milstead, General Smith spoke in part as follows: "For the humble part which I took in bringing into subjugation the tribes of Samaria I am aware that there has been much criticism, but to take criticism is part of a soldier's training. I have already had occasion to say that he must take what comes to him without complaint and let his country say whether he has acted the part of a soldier or not. My sword is still at the command of my commander-in-chief."

ANOTHER RICH STRIKE.

Valuable Free-Milling Ore Found Near Huntington.

Huntington, Or., Aug. 21.—News was received here Tuesday evening of an extraordinarily good discovery in the lower Malheur region about 20 miles from this place. A ledge of free-milling ore averaging eight feet in width and assaying as high as $1940 per ton, was struck and located by a prospector whose name is as yet unknown to the correspondent. The information was received on good authority and a number of experts left town this morning to ascertain the authenticity of the report and to make adjoining locations if possible.

Arrested for Stealing Watch.

A man named Hines was arrested this morning by Sheriff Taylor with a stolen watch in his possession. Hines was caught in a peculiar way. He had been working for a man south of here and while on the place a ladies' gold watch disappeared. Hines was working later for another man and this farmer seeing him with a nice looking watch in his possession, asked, in a joking way, where he stole that watch. Hines blushed and stammered a reply, which caused the man who asked the question, not thinking at the time, that it was a stolen watch, to grow suspicious. After a little inquiry he learned of the disappearance of the watch and as it answered the description of the one Hines had, he informed the sheriff, who arrested the thief. He will be arraigned later.
