WILD WEST IN WEST

THIS IS THE LAND OF THE STRENUOUS LIFE.

Many People in Audience at Wild West Show Had Taken Part in Scenes Exactly Similar to Those Reproduced.

The Wild West show which appeared in Pendleton Wednesday afternoon and evening was not as interesting to the people of this city as to those living further east; as here it was a reproduction of the scenes which are actually witnessed by our people in every day life.

The West is the great land of cosmopolitanism, and while its development has been extremely rapid it has not yet out-grown in some sections the bits of frontier life which are represented by the participants in the mimic forays of the tented arena.

Many Participants in Like Scenes.

In the audiences which witnessed the two performances of Wednesday there were men who had taken part in the battle of San Juan hill, which was represented in miniature; Umatilla Indians, now civilized, but only a few years ago fierce and unrelenting foe of the whites, many of the redskins in the audience having notable records as fighters; men who served through the Philippine campaigns; old plains' scouts and Indian fighters; rough riders from the ranges of Grant and Morow counties who make no more of mounting a bucking broncho which has never before felt the weight of rider any more than the ordinary mortal would of putting on a clean collar before going out into society; remnants of the once savage and dangerous, but now almost extinct Cayuse tribe of Indians; soldiers from the fort at Walla Walla, who have taken part regularly in the cavalry drills and maneuvers as represented, time and again; men who have hunted the plains in early days and slain their buffalo by scores, one or two who were with the Strathcona Horse in South Africa, and numbers of Germans who have served with the Hussars in the "Fatherland."

A Cosmopolitan Crowd.

White collared transients just from the East rubbed elbows with sheep herders from the south counties, and society women of high degree sat contentedly in the next seats to the copper cheeked belles of the Umatilla reservation, all watching the performance with eager eyes, and all ready alike to applaud any special feat of horsemanship, or reckless daring.

A Western Wild West.

As the crowd left the show grounds and wended its way back to town the stage from Ukiah came dashing up Main street, its four well matched horses dusty and sweat covered from their long trip while close behind rode a bunch of Umatilla braves, bedecked with mirrors, feathers, and clothed in gaudy blankets, making altogether an almost perfect reproduction of the Indian attack on the Western mail coach as represented in the mimic production of the afternoon. The passengers clung to their seats inside the coach, the Indians pressed close on the flying stage, and it needed only the introduction of a few rifle or pistol shots to make the illustration complete.

Ours the Real Thing.

Lined up along the streets were numerous pack horses which had been brought in by sheep herders from the back ranges, who came in to see the show, and at the same time lay in a new supply of "grub," while after the performance Sioux from the show grounds were to be seen hobnobbing with bucks and Indian maidens from the reservation; the U. S. cavalrymen met old comrades, the German riders fraternized with others of their race residing in the city, and it took but little observation to discover that the town itself was every bit as "wild-westy" as the show, with the very great difference that when such things as were produced in the Wild West performances are done by the people of this section there is no "acting" about it. Every bit of wild west life in this country is the genuine 18-carat real thing.

Counterfeit Five Dollar Bills.

The secret service has discovered that some one is raising $1 bills to $5 by a clever method of changing the figures, and unless they are closely examined will pass unnoticed. It has also been discovered that many unscrupulous dealers are refilling the bottles of the celebrated Hostetter's Stomach Bitters and offering them to the public as genuine. These imitations have no merit and are so dangerous to your health that in order to protect the public, the proprietors of this famous medicine have adopted a Private Stamp which is placed over the neck of each bottle. Please observe that the stamp is unbroken when purchasing. The Bitters is a specific remedy for such ailments as flatulency, indigestion, belching, nervousness, dyspepsia and liver and kidney troubles. Try it.

Elks' Carnival Excursion.

O. R. & N. excursion rates to the Elks' carnival to be held in Portland, September 1 to 13 inclusive, will be $9.75 to Portland and return, from Pendleton, which includes one admission ticket, will be sold on September 1, 3, 5, 8, 9, 10 and 11, and will be good seven days from date of sale. On September 3 and this date only, a special rate of $7.45 for the round trip will be made, which also includes an admission ticket to the carnival. These tickets will be good for return not later than September 10.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it to be a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly falling to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surface of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

They Differ.

Cleveland wants tariff reform; Bryan wants free silver; neither recognize the wish of the other. Cleveland voted against Bryan, and the latter would vote against the former if he had the chance.—Norwalk, (O.) Reflector.

ALL WAS QUIET.

Out of the Large Crowd at the Show, No Arrests Were Made.

"Did you ever see so quiet a crowd?" This was the expression heard on every side yesterday. There was some grounds for the query, too. It seldom occurs that a circus comes to a city and pitches its tents without a rough, rowdy crowd follows it and always more or less trouble is the result.

With the several thousand people in town to attend the show, the police were not called upon to make a single arrest other than a drunken Indian. This would have occurred, perhaps, had the show not been in town.

This Indian was Jim Badroads. He imbibed too freely of firewater and becoming a nuisance, was thrown into jail. This morning he was assessed $5 by Police Judge McCourt. The fine was paid.

Now is the Time to Go.

The seaside is now at its best. The weather is just right. Surf bathing, delightful and fishing and clamming better than any other time. The O. R. & N. Co. is still selling round trip tickets, good until September 30, at $10.
