UMA BODA, 5c.

C. Berquist, the shoemaker, has arranged to open a shop in the Pendleton Shoe Company's department in the Teutsch store.

Joseph Basler, proprietor of Basler's bargain house, is in Echo today taking the measurements for carpets and shades for a residence he has the contract for furnishing.

Wanted—A first-class stenographer and typewriter. Steady employment to right person. Address Box 105, Pendleton, Oregon, giving experience, salary and references.

There is a freak in the yard of Chris Randley, in the west end of the town. It is a crab apple tree. Several days ago it began to show signs of budding for the second growth of fruit and now is in full bloom.

James Harvey is mourning the loss of the end of his index finger on the left hand. A few days ago he was tying a horse to a manger with a rope and the animal reared back, catching the finger in the rope and severing it at the first joint.

For Sale—Very cheap, three pieces of silk upholstered parlor set, upright piano, rosewood parlor table, two fine book cases, extra fine folding bed, sideboard, dining room table, large range, hall rack and other articles of furniture. Mrs. A. Kline, 515 Post street. At home daily 9 to 12 and 2 to 5.

SUCCESSFUL APPLICANTS.

Those Who Stood the Crucial Test at the Teachers' "Exam."

The following teachers were successful in the quarterly examinations for county papers held in this city last week:

First grade—Miss Kezia D. Peck, of Freewater, led all the 26 applicants in her examinations.

Second grade—Irene Nolin, Pilot Rock; Lula Marple, Pendleton; Mary Dorr Adams, Bertha Baker, Athena; Retta Saunders, Athena; D. Lynn Gubser, Dallas; Edna Moulton, Weston; Stella O'Hara, Weston; S. S. Darnell, Pendleton.

Third grade—Alma Barnett, Tamarack.

Primary certificate—Mrs. Frank Wells, Freewater.

Miss Stella Lieuallen, of Adams, who was too young to receive a certificate, took the examination and received a good average grade. She was only taking the examinations for the information she would acquire. The state papers will not be heard from for several days.

A Bad Eye.

Louf Monerastelli was hurt in a peculiar way yesterday afternoon while the fire was raging. He had a sack lying on a shed at his marble works with the end hanging down to keep the sun from shining in at a certain place. On the end of the sack he had placed a large stone with a sharp corner to hold the sack on the building. During the fire he ran and pulled this sack off and the stone struck him just under the right eye. Within a few minutes the eye was swollen shut and he went to a physician to have it dressed. While the eye ball is not injured he will have a bad bruise under the eye for several weeks.

A Big Sheep.

About as big a sheep as there is in Benton county was seen on the street Monday. It came by express to Richard Scott, and was taken out by Mr. Currier to the latter's farm the afternoon of its arrival. Though not as big as a Jersey cow, the animal had length, breadth and thickness almost as great. His weight is 300 pounds. He is two years old, and came from the farm of Mr. Scott's father at Milwaukee. Of the many people that viewed the stranger while he was at the express office, not one was able to name the breed to which the big buck belongs.—Corvallis Times.

Wildor vs. Wildor.

Arminda B. Wildor, otherwise known as Arminda B. Duncan, vs. Wallace Wildor, is the title of a suit for divorce filed in the district court today. This is a most peculiar case. The plaintiff alleges that she married John Duncan in 1892 and was divorced from him three years later. Before six months had elapsed—the required time by the Oregon law, before a second marriage contract can be entered into legally after a divorce—she married Wallace Wildor in Walla Walla. That was in 1896 and now she asks that the court declare her second marriage null on the ground of having not been divorced six months.

Japs Mixup.

This afternoon Policeman Fee was called to the Jap house on the corner of Cottonwood and Railroad streets, to quell a free-for-all fight. When the policeman arrived the Japs had finished making a "rough house" and had settled down to the even tenor of their ways. Consequently no arrests were made as no one would lay the complaint.

A Lien on House.

A. M. Gillis has filed a lien on the house of Georgia Clark, in Athena, to recover the price of the lumber used in the construction of the building, which it is alleged was never paid for.

THE LEADERS

A NEW INDUSTRY.

Suit, Cloak and Waist Factory to be Established in This City.

Pendleton will soon have a suit, cloak, skirt and waist factory, which will be owned and conducted by Ed Eben, and will be an institution of which our city can be proud.

Mr. Eben has leased the room on Main street formerly occupied by the Pendleton Shoe Company, and has a force of men engaged in remodeling it and putting it in shape for his business, with the expectation of having it ready for opening about September 1st.

The new institution will be known as the Eastern Suit, Cloak, Skirt and Waist Factory, and will manufacture suits, cloaks, skirts and waists, and do dressmaking of all kinds on short notice. Mr. Eben today received a portion of his machinery and a large amount is now on the way. The factory will be run by a gasoline engine and will give employment to a number of people.

Mr. Eben has secured the services of Miss Nellie Fanning, who has been connected with some of the largest cloak and suit making establishments on the coast and was formerly fitter for Madam McClure, of Portland. She will have charge of the cutting and fitting here.

Salem police raided a Chinese opium joint in that city Wednesday and made a number of arrests.
