

SUMMER IS HARD ON LINEN
And it's hard on us, too, for that matter. What with dust stains, perspiration, etc., laundering has its trials. We do the work, though—and do it to perfection. Send us your shirts, collars and cuffs and we'll do them up in a most superior manner. You'll find our charges right, also. Give your first class work and satisfactory service at lowest rates.

COL. WM. F. CODY

TALKS WITH EAST OREGONIAN REPRESENTATIVE.

This Climate Pleases Him and He Likes to Read the History of the Country—Well Acquainted With Northwest Pacific Indian Lore.

"Your climate strikes me most forcibly of any other of your features in this country," said Colonel Cody (Buffalo Bill) to an East Oregonian representative last night.

Colonel Cody is the last of the characters known as the plains scouts in this country, and is the most prominent one and that this country has produced. He has long been a part of the history of the country and will stand out in future history as one of its most prominent types.

His present trip is the first that he has ever made west of the Rocky Mountains, and he says it will be the last as he is reaching that age when a man tires of travel and would settle down beneath his own vine and fig tree. The East Oregonian was anxious to know what impression had been made on this great plainsman by his visit through Eastern Oregon, especially, and for this reason sought an interview.

It was found that the Colonel did not stay at the hotels in his travels, as it was necessary to keep supervision over his horde of employes representing about all of the nations of the world. The colonel was found in his dressing tent after the battle scene of the first part of the show, and invited the reporter to enter, and introducing him to his daughter and his sister, who accompany the old scout, soon engaged in a pleasant conversation. All of the newspapers that have interviewed Colonel Cody describe his manner about alike. He is affable, plain and so frank as to inspire confidence at once. Although 56 years old last February, but for his gray hair one would never suspect it. There are but few wrinkles in his face and his athletic form and quick movement would indicate that he was a much younger man. His hair is but a little lighter than it ever was, as he is a decided blonde.

"What do I think about this country?" replied the colonel. "I have had but little opportunity to pass upon it, as I have passed over it by night. You see, we do all of our traveling by night and in the day time I am kept so busy that I scarcely ever get a chance to look about me.

The thing that has struck me most forcibly, however, is your delightful climate. Since we reached Oregon the days have been pleasant and the nights have been simply a dream so far as weather is concerned. How are your winters here? Mild! If I were not already settled I would be inclined to look about for a home in this country.

"You surely have a great country here. It reminds me of the old plains, and your Indians are a fine looking set of fellows. The Umatillas were dashing horsemen. And you have had your history here. Captain Jack and the battle of the lava-beds are interesting history. The bandits, Egan and Paulina would rival some of our mid-plains Indian marauders. I have read with interest the accounts of General Crook's campaign and that of others in that section, and have also admired the pluck of the scouts and men who coped with and finally subdued the wild tribes west of the Rockies.

"You have a great historic country and I am satisfying an ambition of old by visiting it, though by combining business with pleasure I am not able to gain a knowledge of the country that I would like. It would have been more interesting to the old plainsman to have visited it earlier, as he could have then seen it in its wild state. It is not only thoroughly civilized now, but your people are turning it into a garden. Your progress as far as I have been able to see at a glance, occasionally, is wonderful. With your irrigation rights put into execution it will all soon be occupied and then we will have no more plains."

Uttering this last sentence, the colonel looked sad for a moment as if the passing of the old-time plains was the departing of a loved object. Then the signal was given and the scout-showman mounted his horse and dashed out into the arena to take his place in a mimic battle on the plains between Indians and immigrants, in which the cowboys came to the rescue.

WENT UNDER ASSUMED NAME.

Fred Reese, Who Stole Property at Rigby's Place Was Known as Murphy.

Fred Reese, a young man scarcely 19 years of age, and whose parents reside in this city, was arrested on the streets yesterday morning by Chief of Police D. W. Gibson and later in the day was turned over to the custody of Sheriff B. B. Colbath to await instructions from Sheriff T. D. Taylor of Pendleton. Reese is charged with the theft of a new suit of clothes, described in a telegram to Sheriff Colbath from Sheriff Taylor, as dark green; a leather belt, one opal pin, a gold watch, chain and charm, with two ruby settings in the latter.

The theft occurred in Pendleton on Saturday morning last and Reese left that city for Salem on the same morning and, although the officers looked for him to arrive on that evening, he (Reese) says that he stopped over in Portland and came on to Salem on Monday, arriving in this city on the evening local.

Young Reese had the stolen clothes on when arrested by Officer Gibson, but instead of it being a green suit it would be more properly described as gray. When seen at the jail yesterday afternoon Reese owned up to having taken the clothes, but maintains that he did not enter the house to take them. He explained that he and the young man, whom he calls Harvey, not knowing his Christian name, were chums and were working at the same farm, that of A. Rigby, near Pendleton, during harvest. That, Harvey being away, he went to the house and asked Mrs. Rigby for the clothes, and she delivered them over to him. He also admitted having taken the chain and charm, which were attached to the vest, he explained, and he had to take them, but, as to the watch and opal pin he stoutly denies having taken them. The chain and charm, he says, he pawned to a man in Portland for $5, but does not know who the man is. He went under the name of Murphy in Pendleton and gave as a reason for assuming this name that on account of having been an inmate of the Reform school, he thought he had a bad name and did not wish to be known under his true name. He realizes that he has committed a very grave crime and fears the consequences, but is very repentant, saying that he don't understand why he allowed himself to commit the act.

Sheriff Colbath wired Sheriff Taylor yesterday morning to the effect that Reese had been apprehended and was at his disposal, and received an answer last evening asking him to hold the boy over until this morning for instructions and it is presumed a man will be sent to take him back to Pendleton to answer the charge.—Salem Statesman.

Look Pleasant, Please.

Photographer C. C. Harlan, of Eaton, O. can do so now, though for years he couldn't, because he suffered untold agony from the worst form of indigestion. All physicians and medicines failed to help him until he tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for him that he declares they are a godsend to sufferers from dyspepsia and stomach troubles. Unrivaled for diseases of the stomach, liver, kidneys, they build up and give new life to the whole system. Try them. Only 50c. Guaranteed by Tallman & Co., druggists.

DELAYED THE MAIL.

And is Now Forcing Uncle Sam's Authorities.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 21.—Thomas Devitte appeared before a United States Commissioner today to answer to the charge of conspiracy to delay the United States mail. Devitte is a machinist and secretary of the local union of that craft, which is now on strike against the Union Pacific railroad. It is charged that Alex Allison and James C. Wood got aboard the engine of a passenger train on the Union Pacific at Deer Trail two weeks ago and disarranged the machinery in such a manner as to cause the engine to break down. The two men were arrested on complaint of an agent of the railroad and were charged with delaying the mail. Later a complaint on the same charge was sworn out against Secretary Devitte. The charge is similar to that brought against Debs and his fellow officers of the American Railway Union during the big strike of 1894 and the result of the hearing is awaited with much interest in organized labor circles.

Adding to Its Equipment.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 21.—The Rock Island system has arranged to add 100 new engines to its equipment. Within the last 15 months, including the new order, the Rock Island has contracted for 300 engines, some of which have already been delivered, and many are almost ready for delivery. The locomotives will be distributed over the entire system, a large number to be used on the new Texas lines. It is said the average cost will be about $15,000. These locomotives, with other equipment ordered by the road within the last two years, make necessary an outlay of about $6,000,000.

Negroes in Session.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 21.—Representative negroes from many parts of the country are arriving here for the convention of the National Negro Business League, which will be in session during the coming three days. At the first convention, held in Boston two years ago, there were delegates present representing between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000 of capital invested. Since then substantial gains have been made and it is expected the present gathering will be the greatest of its kind ever held.

Booker T. Washington will preside over the sessions.

Elks' Carnival at Seattle, August 18th to 31st.

For the above, the W. & C. R., in connection with the Northern Pacific, will sell tickets August 21st and 26th, limited to five days from date of sale, at $9 for round trip. Also on August 19th, 23d, 25th, at $12.30 for round trip, limited to five days from date of sale. For full particulars, apply to Walter Adams, agent.

Diabetes and Bright's Disease.

Interview With Edward Short of the San Francisco Call.

Mr. Edward Short, connected with the business department of the San Francisco Call interviewed:

- Q.—You are reported to have been cured of diabetes?
- A.—That is right.
- Q.—Are you sure it was diabetes?
- A.—I was rejected for insurance, and later failing rapidly, our physician told me I had diabetes and to put my affairs in shape.
- Q.—Have more than one physician?
- A.—Yes I had another confirm it. He, too, said I could not live long. I had dropped from 230 to 135 pounds and was very weak. A neighbor told me of the Fulton Compound.
- Q.—How long did you have to take it?
- A.—About a year before I was perfectly well.
- Q.—Did your physicians then test for sugar?
- A.—Both did. Both reported normal. They were very greatly surprised at my recovery, for they had told me diabetes was incurable.
- Q.—Know of any other cures?
- A.—Several. I told my friend, William Martin, an S. P. conductor of Stockton, about it. He had diabetes, and was about to give up his position when I told him. He got the same results I did, and was well when killed a year or so later.
- Q.—Any others?
- A.—I told William Hawkins of the Custom House and Captain Hubbard of the barkentine S. N. Castle, upon hearing they had diabetes. Both of them were cured. I also told a neighbor who had dropsy. In a month it was eliminated. I can't recollect all I've told.
- Q.—Did it fall in any case?
- A.—Not one. It is a positive cure in Bright's Disease and Diabetes. Go over and see Hawkins and he will tell you the same thing.

Medical works agree that Bright's Disease and Diabetes are incurable, but 87 per cent. are positively recovering under the Fulton Compound. (Common forms of kidney complaint offer but short resistance.) Price, $1 for the Bright's Disease and $1.50 for the Diabetic Compound. John J. Fulton Co., 230 Montgomery street, San Francisco, sole compounders. Free tests made for patients. Descriptive pamphlet mailed free.
